Cossacks and Tanks Chase Germans Across Steppes

REDS ADVANCE 15 MORE MILES; WIN 80 TOWNS

Dead Dot Roads in South Russia.

LONDON, Oct. 29 (AP).—Cossack horsemen and tanks chased a fleeing German army 15 miles farther across the steppes in southern Russia today. They swept thru 80 more villages to within 25 miles of Nikopol on the lower Dnieper river and to within 50 miles of Perekop at the top of the Crimea. Perekop is the last door of escape open to German garrisons still in the Crimea.

Over roads strewn with German dead and wrecked enemy armor, the Russians ran thru a town 25 miles south of Nikopol in a drive to link up with Red army troops moving down from fallen Dnepropetrovsk.

The latter units operating inside the Dnieper bend advanced six miles to capture 26 localities, said the Moscow war bulletin recorded by the soviet monitor.

New Crossing of Dnieper.

A Berlin broadcast announced a new crossing of the Dnieper just below Zaporozhe by other Russian units driving on Nikopol, which is 40 miles southwest of Zaporozhe.

At besieged Krivoi Rog, iron center 50 miles northwest of Nikopol, the Russians beat off heavy enemy tank and infantry attacks in their effort to capture that city and seal off all the Germans caught in the triangle between there, Nikopol and Dnepropetrovsk.

The Germans reported a huge tank battle raging for the second day at Krivoi Rog as axis troops fought to hold open an escape route between that city and Nikopol, and also to protect the flight of the German units being pursued across the steppes to the southeast.

Slash German Retreat.

Cossack horsemen were reported operating within 40 miles of the northern Crimea, slashing and harrying the German retreat. They were cutting German communications and setting up clusters of German forces for annihilation by Russian tanks.

The Russian bulletin announced the capture of a town 50 miles northeast of Perekop in its swift drive. Driving down the Melitopol railway the Russians also seized a town only 45 miles from some salt marshes at the northeastern entry into the Crimea.

An Izvestia dispatch said the retreating Germans were abandoning heavy guns, and even throwing away their rifles in their flight along the lower Dnieper. German resistance was reported crumbling everywhere on the arid plains which afford no natural defenses to the enemy.

Raid Disordered Lines.

Russian airmen streaking ahead of Russian tanks, armored cars, and motor cyclists pounded disordered lines and also cast explosives on railway bottlenecks inside the Dnieper bend.

One Russian column moving toward Perekop was speeding to cut the Perekop-Kherson railway, while another column striking westward was believed to be within 40 miles of Kakhovka, another lower Dnieper crossing between Kherson and Nikopol.

GERMAN DIVISION FIGHTS TO LAST MAN; HE GIVES UP

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Oct. 29.—The Moscow radio tonight broadcast the following report turned in by a German captured at Dnepropetrovsk:

"I belonged to the 943d security division.

"My division received an order to fight to the last man.

"I am the last man."

END TO COUNTY POLICE IS URGED

Useless, Nixon Contends in Letter to Judges.

A recommendation that the Cook county highway police force be "drastically reduced or abolished, thus effecting a saving up to $300,000 a year," was made yesterday by George F. Nixon, member of the Cook county board of commissioners.

Nixon embodied his suggestion in a letter to Judge John Prystalski, chairman of the committee on help of the Circuit court judges. The judges set the number of employes in 13 county fee offices, including the sheriff's. The committee is to hold a hearing today at which the views of officeholders and the public on the Cook county budget for 1944 will be aired.

Nixon explained in the letter that he was unable to be present at the hearing, but would like an opportunity to attend any further hearings.

Demands True Balance.

"It is my firm conviction that no appropriation bill should be passed unless it shows an actual as well as a paper balance," he said.

Continuing, he said he believed full service could be given in the fee offices with reduced spending. It is evident "by recent newspaper disclosures," he said, that the county highway police should be done away with. He apparently referred to the anti-gambling grand jury's repeated manifestations of displeasure at the county police's failure to suppress gambling.

Nixon added that the state maintains a police force and that no county other than Cook duplicates its services.

Deficit Nearing $12,000,000.

The county board in the last few years has piled up a deficit that, by competent estimate, will amount to nearly 12 million dollars at the start of the fiscal year on Dec. 1. Of this, $8,346,000 is to be paid off by a bond issue for which bids are to be received on Monday. County officials were hopeful that the bids would permit low interest rates.

The Civic federation is expected once more to urge a balanced budget. More than a year ago it made a complete survey of the county offices and recommended sharp cuts among the 6,000 employes. It was regarded as probable that the federation would present a revised survey and call attention to an even greater need for a balanced budget.

Report McCarthy, County Chief, Named in True Bill

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

The head of the county highway police was reported named in a true bill yesterday by the grand jury investigating gambling, while Chicago's commissioner of police was reported to have talked his way out of a true bill after promising to clean up his department.

The reported true bill voted against Hugh T. McCarthy, chief of the county highway police, is said to charge malfeasance in office. This is to be followed by one or more true bills today, it is said, in which the charge is expected to be conspiracy to aid and abet the operation of gambling houses.

Police Commissioner James P. Allman told the jury late yesterday that he is going to run the police department or he won't be in it. The jurors had asked Allman why they shouldn't hold him responsible for the wide open gambling and gambling gang murders in the city during recent months.

At his office later, Allman announced: "Either gambling in Chicago is going to be suppressed or the captains will be suppressed."

Others Already Indicted.

The jurors previously had indicted other policemen and gamblers. They indicted nine men for the gambling gang murder of Martin [Sonny Boy] Quirk, agent of the Guzik gambling syndicate.

For a month they had been hearing testimony about police collusion with gamblers and criminals. They had been hearing of fake gambling raids and sham arrests. They heard about how the Guzik gang got back seven roulette wheels, and how Cicero gamblers received warnings that county police were coming to make a few "easy pinches."

Allman had been before the jury four hours on Wednesday. He left it vowing to suspend half a dozen police captains before the next sundown. He suspended two—Capt. Frank Malone of the Chicago Lawn station, on Thursday, and Acting Capt. William Drury of the Town Hall station yesterday morning.

Amazed at Conditions.

The grand jurors held an executive session during the morning. They talked over the evidence of the last four weeks. They proclaimed their own amazement to one another that such conditions could have existed in Chicago unknown to the city's chief executives. They ordered Allman to reappear.

"Why shouldn't you be held responsible?" the jury asked Allman flatly, it was reported later. Allman was unable to speak for several minutes, jurors said later, and seemed to be fighting to control his emotions.

"I'll be responsible hereafter," he is said to have answered when he could speak. "Positively, I'll clean house. I'll run the job the way I want to run it or I won't be there."

Denies Political Interference.

"We are not entirely satisfied with your idea in placing the responsibility for past conditions on the captains," a juror was quoted as saying. "Did the mayor ever interfere with your administration of the police department?"

"No" was Allman's answer and it was "No" again to the query next reported to have been flung at him: "Did any politicians ever give you orders?"

The Allman-juror dialog then continued:

Q.—Did any one interfere with the captains or give them orders?

A.—If anybody has, it was the captain's own fault. My orders to each and every captain were to do police duty and take orders from no one but me.

Q.—Then why did they disobey you?

A.—I'm a practical man and I can see that if they didn't do their duty there must have been some interference. I know now they weren't doing a good job. I placed too much confidence in some men I thought were my friends. I since have learned that many captains were not hitting the ball.

Accepts Full Responsibility.

Q.—You will be responsible hereafter, will you?

A.—Hereafter policemen will be policemen or Allman won't be commissioner.

The jurors, it was widely reported later, hesitated and then decided to give Allman another chance. Their

WHY MAKE ANY PEACE PLEDGE? SENATE ASKED

Our Allies Haven't, Wheeler Reminds.

BY JOHNSON KANADY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—Sen. Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.] today opened a new phase of the senate battle over a post-war peace resolution, declaring that adoption at this time of such a resolution would prove "more harmful than helpful in the ultimate solution" of post-war problems.

"We are asked to pass this resolution as an expression of our intentions," Wheeler said. "Our boys are dying all over the world. Haven't we lend-leased our property to every nation fighting with us? Don't these actions speak louder than words?"

Others Make No Promises.

He said Marshal Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill had made no post-war promises for their countries and hence the United States should not fix its course finally at this time.

It was the first open attack on the principles expressed in the Connally resolution which has been viewed as a compromise to gather votes from all groups in the senate, including the "union now" senators, the internationalists, and the nationalists.

Course May Change.

Up to the time of Wheeler's speech senate debates have revolved around attempts to "strengthen" the Connally resolution, particularly around those attempts which had as their basis the adoption of features of the Ball-Burton-Hatch-Hill world police force resolution.

The Wheeler attack, coupled with a statement by President Roosevelt in his press conference today that he believed any resolution adopted by the senate should be kept in general terms, may change the course of the senate fight, some believe.

President Roosevelt's disclosure that some agreements have been reached at Moscow will spike the contention of the resolution's backers that its passage has been needed to make clear America's foreign policy in the Moscow conference, it is believed, thus removing the "urgent" label which has been pinned on the bill by its advocates. At the same time the President's remarks on the need for a general promise of international coöperation were interpreted as a gentle slap at the backers of more specific proposals.

Resolution at Stake.

Some said this combination of events may shift the battlelines in the senate strictly to a debate over the adoption of any resolution, rather than over the wording of the resolution itself. Sen. Carl A. Hatch [D., N. M.], leader of the group favoring "strengthening" alterations, served notice, however, that he and his colleagues will continue their fight to revamp the resolution.

Wheeler questioned whether the resolution means that a post-war alliance of Russia, England, and the United States is desired, or whether it suggests an alliance of England

Courageous Senators

(An Editorial)

The country now knows precisely what Sen. Russell of Georgia told his colleagues in executive session. Mr. Russell was chairman of the committee of five senators who returned recently from a world tour of the battle fronts. They reported an appalling neglect of American interests by our government, and a no less appalling subservience to our allies, particularly Britain.

Because the speeches were given originally behind locked doors, only the gist of them was made public. Immediately the New Dealers, the Tories, and the Communists in this country undertook to smear the members of the committee. A few days later Mr. Churchill, in parliament, joined the attack. Meanwhile, the British press, with characteristic unanimity, had fallen upon Sen. Russell and his colleagues. They were caricatured as monkeys and denounced as small minded political hacks.

Mr. Russell has replied to all this billingsgate by entering the full text of his report in the senate's public record, excepting from publication only the sentences which might have given the enemy military information of value to him. It is to be hoped that the other senators will do likewise.

If there ever was any doubt about it, the fact is now apparent that Mr. Russell directed his criticism not to the allies, but to the government of the United States. Our government, he showed, was not defending our country's interests. It was allowing our oil reserves to be depleted needlessly. It was permitting our lend-lease aid to Russia, to neutrals, and to liberated peoples to be masked as a British contribution. It was not taking steps to assure our position in international commercial flying after the war. It was not moving for possession of sea and air bases that we know are needed for the defense of our continent.

The smear brigade, here and abroad, regard comment in that vein as blasphemy. Americans are supposed to make endless sacrifices and to expect nothing in return. We are to do as we are told, to use the servants' entrance, and never to resent impositions. We are to forget that without our help the allies would have been defeated. We are never to think of America, and we are to be guided always by the advice of those who wish us either to return as a colony to the British empire or to promote the spread of the Communist empire.

To all such people, Mr. Russell made answer when he said:

"What I saw was thru American eyes. I weighed, observed, and reported as an American who properly holds the future welfare of these United States above all other considerations. I would regret if any word of mine should cause dissension or ill-feeling between the United States and any of our allies, but if that word be necessary to protect our legitimate interests, either during this war or in the post-war world, I would still feel duty-bound to speak."

Those were the words of a patriot. They gain added significance from the knowledge that they were spoken by a lifelong Democrat who never before had earned the wrath of the New Dealers. Americans everywhere will applaud Sen. Russell for his courage in rising above partisanship to serve the whole nation.

It is encouraging to find that he is by no means alone in the fight in which he is engaged. His colleagues on the world tour are with him to a man. Sen. Chandler of Kentucky, another Democrat, is proving a tower of strength. The remarkable speech on the Connally resolution, made by still another Democrat, Sen. McKellar of Tennessee, in which he insisted on the acquisition of adequate bases for the protection of America, was a striking contribution. Like Sen. McKellar, Sen. Capper of Kansas had also favored American membership in the league of nations, but he, too, is now found resisting the internationalists' demand for a blank check to maintain any kind of a peace, anywhere, at any time, with American men and wealth.

The expressions of all these senators, and of many others who might be mentioned, are welcome evidence that the plot to sell America down the river is meeting with an opposition that is growing from day to day in strength and determination. The truth is that the Communists and the Tories together speak for only a tiny fraction of the American people. The vast majority put America first and always will do so. Senators and representatives who don't know this are destined to find it out when the voters get a chance to express themselves next year. With such Democrats as Russell and Chandler playing an outstanding part for America, it behooves the Republicans to see to it that none of their number works against the interest of our country in response to foreign control.

FARMER FELLED BY TRACTOR, RUN OVER A 2D TIME

Roy Solner, 42 years old, a farmer living five miles east of Michigan City, Ind., was critically injured yesterday by a tractor which ran over him twice after he had cranked it while in gear.

The tractor first knocked him down, fracturing his left hip. As he lay on the ground, the tractor, guided by an automatic steering device, circled the field. Solner couldn't move from its path, but he did manage to roll over. The tractor lacerated his right side as it again passed over him.

The tractor rolled on and bore down on him a third time, but Solner, with a mighty effort, dragged himself into the clear. It continued to circle the field until its fuel was depleted. Solner lay in the field nearly four hours before his wife came to call him to prepare for his night job in a war plant.

YANKEES LAND ON JAP ISLAND; FOE IN FLIGHT

No Fight Offered by Choiseul Defense.

ALLIED HDQ. SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Oct. 30 [Saturday].—(AP).—American paratroops, spearheading a drive to clear the Japanese from all the Solomons, landed Thursday morning at the village of Voza on southwestern Choiseul Island, and the Japanese there fled north without offering a fight.

"The enemy is withdrawing to the north," was the lone mention of the Japanese flight in Gen. MacArthur's war bulletin today.

There have been no indications of any air field on Choiseul, but it has shore accommodations for small ships.

Increases Threat to Base.

This second invasion move in as many days increased the threat to Bougainville, the last big enemy island barring the way to Japan's key southwest Pacific fortress of Rabaul, New Britain.

Bougainville is 100 miles northwest of where the paratroops landed on Choiseul, but it is only 25 miles from that island's northern tip.

Bougainville's southern airfields already had been bombed out and are unable to figure in the opposition.

The spokesman said the Japanese Gen. MacArthur, in announcing the invasion of Choiseul, reported a heavy attack by Lightning screened Mitchells on the Buka airdrome north of Bougainville, during which 200 Japanese working on the runway were killed, seven grounded planes were destroyed, and four others damaged. One auxiliary ship was sunk.

Drive Japs Back.

The attack on Choiseul followed by a day American and New Zealand amphibious landings in the Treasury Islands 40 miles south of Bougainville. There on the larger cone shaped island of Mono, the attackers drove the Japanese toward its northeastern end, supported by Ventura bombers.

A spokesman at South Pacific headquarters of Adm. William F. Halsey, who is in command of the Solomons forces, said only a few hundred Japanese were on Mono. Allied forces are taking steps to prevent their evacuation. The name of the other invaded island in the Treasury group is Sterling.

The spokesman said the Japanese had retreated to Malsi village at Lua point, about four miles from the allied landing point and across the elevated portion of heavily wooded Mono. Allied patrols now are moving up the beach along an eight mile route.

Describes Air Attacks.

Gen. MacArthur described new allied aerial raids on Japanese targets in these words:

"Tanimbar Islands: Our medium reconnaissance units bombed enemy merchant vessels off Selaroe Island.

"New Ireland; Kavieng: Our medium units on night patrol bombed an airdrome causing explosions and fires.

"New Britain: Our reconnaissance and patrol units bombed and strafed three barges at Tiwongo Island, destroying two and damaging the other, and bombed the air field at Cape Hoskins. They also raided Gasmata, starting fires in the supply area."

The invasion of Choiseul marked the second employment of paratroops in the current Pacific offensive. Paratroops landed Sept. 5 northwest of Lae, New Guinea, prior to pincers envelopment of that air base.

KENTUCKY TREND AROUSES ALARM OF DEMOCRATS

G.O.P. Leaders Confident of Record Upsurge.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 29.—Kentucky is a battle ground in Tuesday's election of state officers which is attracting national interest as a possible cue to 1944 political trends. The fight has become furious in the closing days.

Old-timers in both parties are looking for a close race. Republican leaders say their chances are as promising as they were in 1919, when they elected a governor. Democratic chiefs say they will win, but by reduced margins. Both sides claim victory in prospect.

Democrats appear visibly alarmed and in the final week have brought in Sen. Alben W. Barkley and Sen. Albert B. [Happy] Chandler in a desperate defensive to keep control.

Curtain Raisers Recalled.

Twice in the last 24 years this border state has elected Republican governors—Edwin Morrow in 1919 and Flem D. Sampson in 1927—each time a curtain raiser for a national G. O. P. landslide the following year.

The candidates for governor are Judge Simeon S. Willis, Ashland Republican, and J. Lyter Donaldson, Carrollton Democrat. Donaldson is a former state highway commissioner.

Barkley, Democratic leader in the senate, in a speech here this week declared that election of a Republican governor "would be interpreted thruout the nation and the world as a repudiation of the Roosevelt program in its entirety."

Machine Rule One Issue.

Judge Willis and the Republicans have been avoiding national issues and have concentrated on state affairs and "an end to machine rule at Frankfort."

They have seized, however, upon the argument of Democrats that a Republican victory in Kentucky would impair the conduct of the war and the making of the peace, and they report this slur on G. O. P. loyalty has aroused widespread resentment among both Republicans and Democrats.

The heat generated over this led Barkley to declare in his address that he had not intended to attack patriotism of Republicans when he made a recent statement that Hirohito and Goebbels "would like to see a repudiation of our commander in chief."

One cause of Democratic alarm has been apathy among the voters and the unusual optimism displayed by the Republican organization in the normally Democratic state.

They Admit They're "Scared."

A tour of five county seats in the last two days by this observer found the "courthouse crowd"—the Democratic sheriffs, judges, and others—echoing one common idea. "It doesn't feel like a Kentucky election. Anything can happen. We Democrats expect to win, but we're scared."

At Republican headquarters in Louisville, Charles I. Ross, campaign manager, said: "In 40 years, I've never seen such an upsurge. Everywhere Democrats are swinging to us, and the situation looks even stronger than in 1919, when Morrow was elected governor."

Tom R. Underwood, Lexington editor and Democratic state chairman, said: "The fears the Democrats have are ones they have originated themselves in trying to overcome the general feeling that the election is all over and not a hard one. In trying to overcome overconfidence they scared themselves. The total vote may be reduced, but it looks like the same old Democratic victory."

The vote is expected to be light. Estimates in both camps are for a poll of between 450,000 and 500,000, about half of normal.

STRATTON ASKS PARTY WORKERS TO INDORSE HIM

Republican ward and township committeemen in Cook county, and county chairmen downstate, yesterday received a questionnaire from State Treasurer William G. Stratton in support of his candidacy for nomination for secretary of state. A majority of Illinois G. O. P. leaders have agreed to support Arnold P. Benson, president pro tem of the state senate, for that office.

Stratton in his letter poses five questions which committeemen said were designed to prove that he is the strongest candidate available to run against Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes, Democrat. The questions mention Stratton's vote getting record in 1940 and 1942, the familiarity of his family name during two generations, and his praise of Gov. Dwight H. Green's state administration.

"Your decision on these issues may involve the complete success of the Republican party in the fateful election of 1944 as well as my nomination for secretary of state," Stratton wrote.

'BACKSIDE' NOT INDECENT WORD, MENCKEN SAYS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29 (AP).—Henry L. Mencken, author and language expert, today sprang to the defense of Esquire magazine, accused by the postoffice department of using naughty words and pictures. He appeared at a postoffice department hearing on the question whether Esquire's second class mailing privileges should be revoked.

Replying to a suggestion by Calvin Hassell, postal attorney, that the word "backside" was improper, Mencken asserted, "I didn't know any one had an obscene enough mind to consider that word obscene."

"I didn't know any other word," he added, "until I was 4 years old—when I became sophisticated."

Mencken also defended use of the term "bawdy house," saying it first appeared in dictionaries in 1552 "and there is no mark in the dictionary to indicate that it is an indecent word."

ALEDO MAN NEW STATE PRINTING SUPERINTENDENT

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 29 [Special].—The resignation of Harold J. Cruger of Elmhurst as state superintendent of printing and appointment of Herschel J. Blazer, Aledo publisher, to succeed him was announced today by Governor Green.

Cruger, who entered state service in March, 1942, resigned because of the pressure of business interests in the publishing and real estate fields, Green said.

Blazer, who has been superintendent of the bureau of multigraph in the division of printing for the last 18 months, is the publisher of the Times-Record at Aledo, a past president of the Illinois Press association and is now a member of the executive board of the organization.

GAMBLING ODDS 3 TO 1 ON G. O. P. VICTORY IN EAST

Democratic Takers Few in N. Y. and New Jersey.

BY ROY GIBBONS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 29.—Bettings odds of 3 to 1 that the Republicans will win were being offered today on the outcome of Tuesday's elections in New York and New Jersey. There were few Democratic takers. The elections are conceded to be the most important off year political contests in the nation's history.

In the New York race for lieutenant governor, State Sen. Joe R. Hanley, the Republican nominee, is expected to poll a plurality of "100,000 votes or better" over Lt. Gen. William N. Haskell [retired], his Democratic opponent.

The "wise money" boys also are wagering that New Jersey voters will elect Walter E. Edge as the first Republican governor that state has had in six years. Betting commissioners predict Edge will have a plurality of 150,000 or 165,000 votes over Vincent J. Murphy, his Democratic rival.

Aurelio Scandal Aids G. O. P.

It was said one factor aiding Republicans in New York this year is the scandal involving Tammany Hall in the disbarment proceedings launched against former Magistrate Thomas A. Aurelio, whose pledge of "undying loyalty" was given to Frank Costello, racketeer and ex-convict.

Costello admitted in court he had obtained Aurelio's Democratic nomination as Supreme court justice by using his influence with Michael J. Kennedy, New Deal Tammany leader.

It is predicted this disclosure will cut into the New Deal backlog in New York City, counted on in normal years to help offset the solid Republican vote in upstate counties.

Housewife Vote a Factor.

Observers say there also is a mounting revolt on the part of housewives who are expected to seek the polls to administer a slap against the worries that have been inflicted on them because of rationing and other home front regulations.

New Dealers admit the loss of 250,000 or 300,000 votes represented by what would be their normal share of New York state's 900,000 voters now in military service. It is predicted fewer than 50,000 of these will cast ballots. Not even Frank Sinatra, whom the Democrats brought forth to croon at a rally in New Jersey, can save the New Deal from defeat, Republicans are betting.

Die Sinkers' Strike Perils Dodge Plant's War Work

A strike of 40 die sinkers, threatening war production, continued at the Dodge Chicago plant last night. The strike was called Thursday morning when a foreman fired an apprentice who refused to do work assigned him, company officials said. Twenty-five workers left their jobs on the day shift and 15 others followed on the night shift. The company has no contract with any union. Lt. George Barnes, head of the police labor detail, sought the help of the federal conciliation service in settling the strike.

GEN. M'ARTHUR WILLING TO RUN, HOYT DECLARES

'Certain' to Accept Nomination.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 29 (AP).—Lansing Hoyt, state chairman of the Gen. MacArthur for President club, declared today that "certain prominent Republicans know that if the Republican national convention nominates Gen. MacArthur the general will accept."

Speaking at a meeting, Hoyt was asked if MacArthur had given any personal indication that he was interested in becoming a condidate. Hoyt replied:

"The general is a soldier fighting at the front. The general could not make a public statement. There are other ways of finding out what a situation is. Certain prominent Republicans know that if the convention nominates MacArthur, the general will accept."

Headquarters Opened.

New York, Oct. 29 (AP).—A national committee to draft Gen. MacArthur or Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio for the Republican nomination for the Presidency opened headquarters here today.

John A. Schaefer, in charge, said the committee was formed without consulting either MacArthur or Bricker and that its members would concentrate upon the one who seemed the "most available" as nomination time neared.

"It is purely a voluntary movement among Republicans who do not see eye to eye with Wendell Willkie and who accept the statement of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey that he is not a candidate for the nomination," Schaefer said.

MacArthur Boom in Ohio.

Columbus, O., Oct. 29 (AP).—A "MacArthur for President" campaign formally was launched in Ohio today just as the state's Republican leadership prepared to indorse Gov. John W. Bricker for the Presidential nomination.

Bricker's office, apparently surprised by incorporation of a state "MacArthur for President" club, made no comment.

The incorporators are two Republican members of the legislature, Representatives Robert A. Wilkinson and Guy D. Hawley, and W. Hobart Morgan, former postmaster of the Ohio house.

In a formal statement they said Gen. MacArthur was "the best qualified of those who could be nominated and elected."

The Republican state central committee will meet next Thursday.

Weather Delays Flight of Coal-Gasoline Plane

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29 (AP).—Inclement weather today postponed an experimental flight from Morgantown, W. Va., to Washington of an airplane powered with gasoline made from coal. Rep. Jennings Randolph [D., W. Va.] said the flight would be made a week from today.

LUCAS DEFENDS HIS SYSTEM FOR SOLDIER VOTES

Proposes 2 Party Body to Direct Plan.

BY WILLIAM MOORE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—Sen. Scott W. Lucas [D., Ill.] told the senate committee on privileges and elections today that both parties must be honestly represented in the plan to permit men and women in military service to vote in the 1944 election.

Sen. Lucas appeared in defense of his bill to place soldier voting in the hands of a national commission to be named by President Roosevelt, who is expected to be the Democratic nominee for the Presidency.

Share Appointments.

Under Sen. Lucas' bill, at least two members of the commission would be Democrats and two would be Republicans. Since Mr. Roosevelt would make the appointments, some members of congress have complained that there would be nothing to prevent the President from appointing as the Republican commissioners men who profess membership in the Republican party but who have been repudiated by the party itself.

Sen. Styles Bridges [R., N. H.], after discussion of the possibility that Mr. Roosevelt might be both the Democratic nominee and head of the soldier vote machinery, asked if it might be advisable to send the ballots directly to the secretary of state in each state. Sen. Lucas replied that this would release control of the voting and that there should be a commission in Washington.

Sen. Bridges also inquired whether Sen. Lucas would agree to give the political parties opportunity to approve the appointment of their own commissioners. It was at this point that Sen. Lucas offered to accept three Republicans.

Eliminate V-Mail Vote.

The soldiers' vote bill, drawn by Sen. Lucas and Sen. Theodore Francis Green [D., R. I.] has been revised to eliminate the provision that soldiers overseas vote by V-mail. The bill now calls for airplane delivery of the ballots.

Urban Lavery, Chicago lawyer and former attorney for the Chicago election commissioners, proposed that the ballots be counted in the various localities where the soldiers vote and the results be then transmitted to Washington. He submitted for consideration a simplified ballot that would bear the names of the parties and their nominees for President, with blanks for the names of nominees for other offices. This, he said, would eliminate the necessity for printing 435 separate kinds of ballots.

SOLDIER VOTING BILL CALLED GAG ON F. D. R.'S FOES

Barrett, Schroeder Point to Terms.

The Democratic sponsored soldier voting bill in the United States senate is designed to rig the 1944 election for Roosevelt, Atty. Gen. George F. Barrett and Werner W. Schroeder, election law expert who is Republican national committeeman for Illinois, charged yesterday.

Barrett and Schroeder agreed with Sen. Wayland Brooks [R., Ill.] that one bad feature of the bill is its provision of a blank space for writing in the name of the candidate favored, or his party, rather than having the names printed on the ballot. The bill was introduced by Sen. Scott W. Lucas [D., Ill.] and Sen. Theodore F. Green [D., R. I.].

Sen. Brooks has asserted that Roosevelt's unprecedented number of years in office would give him a natural advantage under the "write-in" method.

Sees Aim to Split Foes.

National Committeeman Schroeder declared that the purpose of the "write-in" proposal also is to destroy the solidarity of the anti-Roosevelt vote.

"Thousands of miles from home, seldom seeing a newspaper, soldiers and sailors taking a few minutes from their heroic tasks to vote would be likely not to know who the Republican nominee is," Schroeder said.

"Thus we would find them voting for various Republicans—Hoover, Taft, Vandenberg, Dewey, Warren, and others—which would split up the Republican strength. Indeed, it appears that the New Deal is swinging a double edged sword to cut down the effectiveness of the vote of the soldiers and sailors which otherwise would undoubtedly assure the election of a Republican."

Atty. Gen. Barrett said that equally vicious is the provision that all election information sent to the men in uniform must come from Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson and Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox.

1942 Attitude Cited.

"No one needs to be told how these nominal Republicans, stooges of the New Deal, would control the information given to the soldiers, sailors, and marines," Barrett said. "It would all be rosy for Roosevelt but pretty dark for the American he was running against.

"These officials in 1942 conveniently found it impossible to carry out the soldier voting law then in effect in the spirit intended by congress. Thus all Americans have more than suspicion to justify the most strenuous protests against the plan to make the fourth term stand of Roosevelt a foregone conclusion."

YANKS SAVE GIRL; GET MEDALS.

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Oct. 29 [AP].—Two Americans have been awarded the soldier's medal for saving a girl from drowning. They are Corp. Kenneth N. Eckleberry of Nevada, O., and Pvt. Lawrence H. Odegard of Omaha, Neb.

ST. CLAIR G. O. P. DODGES STAND ON STATE RACE

East St. Louis, Ill., Oct. 29 [Special].—The St. Clair county Republican central committee last night neatly detoured the problem of indorsing either State Treasurer William G. Stratton or Arnold P. Benson, president pro tem of the Illinois senate, for secretary of state. Neither was mentioned in resolutions bearing upon next April's primary.

Sen. Benson was slated by a majority of Republican state leaders last week. Stratton, who announced his candidacy several months ago, is remaining in the race for the office now held by Edward J. Hughes, Democrat.

Indorsed by the committee were: Gov. Dwight H. Green for reëlection, Sen. Wayland Brooks for his record, Richard J. Lyons for nomination for United States senator.

HAVE NEEDED AID, BUT CAN'T USE IT, RAILROADS' PLEA

Feather Bed Rules Bar Most Trivial Tasks.

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

Make-work or feather bed rules, applying largely to the work done by members of the Big Five operating unions, are wasting railroad man power when there is an acute need for additional workers to handle the heavy war traffic, and in addition are reducing revenue which in the end hurts the employe as well as the employer, railroad executives said yesterday. They explained that complicated rules governing work contracts with the employes—some written 50 or 60 years ago—prevent the railroads from using their present working forces to the full.

In addition to their constant battle to enforce the feather bed rules the unions are fighting for pay raises.

The loss of man power caused by the enforcement of the make-work rules was described as being more serious at this time than loss of revenues, altho in times of reduced traffic the revenue loss is serious.

Mediation boards grind out hundreds of awards annually in favor of employes for superficial violations of the feather bed rules, thereby entrenching the labor wasting, costly system, railroad officials declare.

Ruled Off Trivial Tasks.

Altho the railroads are trying to hire additional workers—especially in the west—they are prevented by feather bed rules from using their employes on even the most trivial tasks outside regular assignments.

Numerous examples of how the rules operate to waste man power are available. Some are outlined here, the information being obtained from authentic sources including reports made by mediation boards. In fairness to all involved—because the situation applies to all railroads and all the railroads are confronted with wage troubles—the names of the individual roads are not disclosed.

A fireman on a switch engine in a yard can't climb down to throw one switch, even tho it might be the only time he would have to do it in a month and tho it might save valuable time. For the fireman to throw the switch would mean that his railroad would have to pay a regular switchman, who in this instance had done nothing, a day's full pay.

Triple Pay Awarded.

There was the case of a road engine crew which picked up a baggage car off a side track, a task requiring a few minutes. Altho no yard crew was available, the union protested that this job was one that only a yard crew could do. The upshot was the road crew got a full day's pay as a road crew and another day's pay as a yard crew. And a yard crew which wasn't there got a full day's pay for doing nothing. Three days' wages were paid for one day's work.

When a string of freight cars is brought into a yard, air brakes are set. Before the cars can be switched, the brakes on each car must be released, or bled. Under the rules any one, a laborer, or a yardmaster, can bleed the brakes provided a switch engine is not operating. But if an engine is operating anywhere in the yard, only a member of a yard crew can do the job. While waiting for a member of a yard crew to appear, 30 or 40 minutes may be lost. A laborer could do the job while the yard crew worked elsewhere.

Another example: A train loaded with fruit and vegetables comes into a freight yard on a certain track. The crew is asked to place the cars on another track so that the cargo can be iced. If this is done, the road crew must be paid for an eight hour day as a yard crew, and the yard crew that didn't do the 10 minute job gets a day's pay. There are five men in a road crew and five men in a yard crew.

Assigned to Do Nothing.

Then there is the case of a yardmaster who sent an engine three miles out of a yard to pick up a gasoline car. He kept the track open while the engine was gone. An award gave a brakeman, who normally should have watched the track, a day's pay for work he didn't do. As a result, the railroads now call in a brakeman in such circumstances even tho it involves keeping him idle.

In still another instance, a self-propelled crane was used to pick up five pieces of track and put them on a push car. Under the rules a section force was to push the car over to another track. However, some of the section workers didn't see the sense of pushing a car when there was something to pull it. So they held on by means of track tongs and let the self-propelled crane pull the car. The union cited the rules: "If a self-propelled crane pulls a push car there must be a full yard crew consisting of a conductor and two brakemen." The railroad had to pay two yard crews for work they didn't do.

The once highly popular local freight trains, which have lost a good part of their business to the trucks, must carry three brakemen tho one would be enough.

Can't Cut Out Bad Car.

A train is standing in a yard waiting to go out on a run when a car is found to be in bad condition. It would be only a matter of a few moments for the regular road engine crew to cut out the car and be on its way. Under the rules a switch engine must be used. If the road engine crew does the job it means an extra day's pay for the road crew and a day's pay for the switch crew. If no switch engine is available and it is decided to wait for one, much time is wasted.

TRUCK DRIVER ROBBED.

Arthur Elencweig, driver for the Aronson Cleaners and Tailors, 3255 Broadway, reported to Sheffield avenue police yesterday that a robber took $72 and four suits from him at 624 Briar place.

Polish Auxiliaries Visit Chicago

Join in Canada

Three privates of Pestki, the Polish women's army corps, yesterday visited Chicago and Tribune Tower during a leave which precedes their departure for a Polish training center in Scotland. The young women enlisted in the service in Windsor, Ont., and, after completing their training, will be assigned to work with young Polish girls evacuated from Russia. They are reported to be the first women of the Pestki to visit the United States in uniform.

Miss Wladzia Branka, who fled with her family from Poland before the country was invaded, travels under a pseudonym because her brother is a prisoner in Germany. Genevieve Latwinski of Windsor was born in Poland but was taken to Canada when a child. Miss Genevieve Korycinski is a native of Detroit, Mich. The three young women were guests yesterday of Al Sladowski, who represented the Seagram post, 807, of the American Legion.

TRIB-BUNA WINS OFFICIAL PRAISE AT WASHINGTON

Use of Waste Hailed by Sen. Halleck.

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—On this first nice day here this week, the long and white Chicago Tribune test car toured the national capital in a demonstration of Trib-buna tires for senators, congressmen and other federal officials.

The big sport coupe, with CHICAGO TRIBUNE emblazoned on both sides, on the hood and on the luggage lid, was greeted on the streets much as it had been in Los Angeles, Cal., in Oregon, and in Ames, Ia. From sidewalks and from passing vehicles came inquiries about the quality of the synthetics. We gave favorable reports, based on 14,000 miles of highway travel.

Halleck Takes a Ride.

"Your good tires made from waste at woodpulp mills," commented one of our passengers, Rep. Charles A. Halleck [R., Ind.], "may be an answer to our problem of sustaining newsprint production during the war. If we can get tire material as well as newsprint from pulp wood, the governments of Canada and the United States could assign more man power to cutting logs."

Halleck, member of a congressional subcommittee investigating newsprint curtailments, was referring to the source of the butadiene, the principal ingredient in Trib-buna rubber. The butadiene was converted from alcohol salvaged from waste sulphite liquor at THE TRIBUNE's paper mills. Waste sulphite liquor is a nuisance byproduct usually dumped into streams or lakes at American woodpulp mills.

Brooks Stresses Importance.

"Newsprint alone is an essential war product," added Sen. Wayland Brooks [R., Ill.] "With a second important product, alcohol needed for tires and for munitions, the woodpulp mills of the country could really demand labor, materials, and equipment."

"As publisher of a Hoosier newspaper," said Sen. Raymond E. Willis [R., Ind.], "I've been hesitant about stressing this aspect of waste sulphite liquor utilization. I have a selfish as well as a public interest in maintaining newsprint production. I'm glad this aspect is brought to the fore. I'm glad THE TRIBUNE on its own initiative has introduced this process to the western hemisphere, and I'm glad the tire rubber has proved to be good."

Miss Sumner Pleased.

Willis is a member of the Gillette committee which has been active since Pearl Harbor in correcting faults in the government's rubber program.

"I'm glad that we're finding a source of rubber materials other than grains and petroleum," said Rep. Jessie Sumner [R., Ill.].

The government makes its butadiene from petroleum and from alcohol produced mainly by grain distillation.

PUBLISHERS ASK FREE 1944 USE OF SAVED PAPER

New York, Oct. 29 (AP).—A proposal that newspapers voluntarily saving newsprint paper in November and December be permitted to use the amount saved without restriction during the first quarter of 1944 was announced today by the American Newspaper Publishers association.

The A. N. P. A. said that H. M. Bitner, director of the printing and publishing division of the war production board, had approved the plan and would recommend it to top WPB executives.

"Because of the increasing critical situation of newsprint supply in 1944 and the prospect for a further cut in newsprint allowable use effective January 1, 1944," the A. N. P. A. said, "the newsprint committee of the A. N. P. A. board of directors has recommended that order L-240 [paper use regulation] be amended immediately so that any newsprint saved by the publishers from his use quota in November and December may be used as ex-quota tonnage in the first quarter of 1944, and that this tonnage not used be carried in addition to his allowable inventory."

SAILOR FORTAS GETS LEAVE FOR TRIP TO ARABIA

In Navy a Few Hours; Knox Helps Out.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29 [Special.]—Abe Fortas, former undersecretary of the interior department, was in the navy today—for a few hours.

But almost as soon as he reported for duty as an apprentice seaman, he popped right out again with the aid of Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox and other admirers in the New Deal, as civilian head of an alphabetical government mission to Arabia. He was granted leave by naval authorities to head a mission of the Petroleum Reserves corporation which, it is said, will study facilities in the near and middle east for production and refining of oil.

No Date Set for Return.

Upon his return, for which no date has been set, he will report to the board of directors of the PRC, consisting of the secretaries of state, war, navy, and interior and the head of the foreign economic administration, Leo Crowley. Meanwhile, he will swab no decks.

Announcement of his new assignment came just after the navy recruiting station, asked where Fortas would be sent, had said that this was a troop movement and could not be disclosed.

Secretary Knox, at a press conference, said Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes had requested deferment of Fortas' induction for 30 days because a "particular task" had been assigned him.

Knox Defers Induction.

"I agreed to defer his induction for 30 days to continue as undersecretary of interior," Knox said.

Fortas volunteered for induction after his deferment in May, 1942, made at the suggestion of President Roosevelt, had aroused a storm in congress, drawing bitter criticism from Sen. Dennis Chavez [D., N. M.] among others.

A native of Memphis, former Yale faculty member, and a protege of Associate Justice William O. Douglas, Fortas, at 28, became general counsel of the public works administration. Later, Ickes made him under-secretary of the interior.

Wife Holds Federal Post.

The government service proved profitable to the Fortas family. His wife, formerly an attorney in the review division of the national labor relations board, is now an attorney for the justice department at $5,600 a year. Her husband's induction, presumably, would cause her little hardship.

Accompanying Fortas to Arabia will be E. Degolyer, W. E. Wrather, and John H. Murrell, petroleum geologists and engineers.

When the mission returns, Fortas will resume his role as an apprentice seaman—somebody said.

Police Hunt Stolen Car and 2 Submachine Guns

Chicago police were asked yesterday to watch for a stolen car with two machine guns in it, belonging to P. C. Dunn, an agent of the federal bureau of investigation. The theft was committed in Portland, Me.

TRACTION TALK KEEPS LA SALLE STREET A-BUZZ

City to Pay Surface Lines Bonds, One Report.

BY WILLIAM SHINNICK.

Some of the hottest reports in La Salle street these days have to do with Mayor Kelly's plan to unify the local transportation agencies—surface and elevated lines and motor coach company—into one company under municipal ownership.

One of the reports is to the effect that the bus lines are to be bought for 10 million dollars and that the senior security holders of the surface lines are to be paid out in full, some 72 million dollars; the L to be acquired for a few millions.

The rumor carriers have it that an imposing array of individual and governmental financiers plan to collaborate with the mayor in setting up his company. Some of them whisper that John Hertz, formerly the city's taxicab tycoon, and three large financial houses—Kuhn, Loeb & Co., Goldman, Sachs & Co., and Lehman Brothers—are ready to buy and distribute the 4 per cent revenue bonds the mayor uses as the basis for his plan.

Report Harry Hopkins Busy.

The amount of the supposed tentative financing is 100 million dollars. In addition, it is whispered Harry Hopkins is busy in Washington attempting to see that the new M. O. scheme gets money for improvements from the Reconstruction Finance corporation; the amount has been estimated at 100 millions.

Some of the reports apparently are erroneous. The mayor has denied categorically that Hertz or Lehman Brothers is interested. He has, however, talked of the "financial giants who are willing to buy these certificates."

Financial houses disagree on whether there has been any large accumulation of the surface lines senior bonds, which are selling at 60 cents on the dollar or more. Some believe that there has been such a pickup on a big scale in anticipation of 100 per cent payoff; others say it's all sharpshooting by small operators; that the securities are closely held and only a small number are being traded. One expert said one million or less would pick up all the supply on the market.

Would Transfer Tax Burden.

The plan, if it goes thru, would relieve the company of taxes, under municipal ownership, and the burden of more than 4 millions a year would have to be picked up by the taxpayers.

A hundred millions would be a minimum cost for the three lines, it is believed. The Illinois commerce commission now has on the pan a motor coach fare case in which it is expected a fair value—possibly nearer 7 than 10 millions—will be set. This lower figure, if a sale is accomplished, would leave a little velvet for the other companies.

OWI AND AP GET PRISONER STORY OUT OF CENSORS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—The office of war information was credited by newspaper men here today with a notable service to the public in unsnarling the censorship tangle that had prevented publication of the story of American soldiers freed from German prison camps.

Release of the story was accomplished by Elmer Davis, director of OWI, backed by Roy A. Roberts, managing editor of the Kansas City Star and president of the OWI newspaper advisory council.

The story concerned 14 American prisoners of war, the first to be returned from Germany under an exchange system. The Americans arrived Monday in Liverpool, England, with exchanged British soldiers.

Tells of Experiences.

The Americans, ill and wounded, told the Associated Press of their experience in Germany. The returned British soldiers told their stories to British reporters.

The British censors permitted British newspapers to publish the accounts given by the Englishmen, but American army censors in England ruled that many of the facts told by the Americans be suppressed.

The censors deleted 650 words from the 1,000 word Associated Press story.

The American army censors took the position that publication of the details might offend the Germans and imperil future negotiations for the exchange of prisoners.

Avoid British Angle.

No explanation was forthcoming of the theory that American publication would arouse resentment which the English accounts would not.

The censors were deaf to all arguments.

Meanwhile in this country the Associated Press appealed to the army public relations department and to OWI. Davis carried the Associated Press and Roberts' protests to the war department.

It was reported unofficially but on excellent authority that the OWI protest was so strong that the war department here conferred with the army censors in London. Orders were later issued in Washington to release the news.

Divorce Their Soldier Husbands

Lt. Rebecca Beyerfuss (left), Mrs. Velma Holmes (center), and Mrs. Bernice Elkin. [TRIBUNE Photos.]

MEN IN SERVICES INVOLVED IN 20% OF ALL DIVORCES

Find Absence Doesn't Increase Fondness.

Cases involving men in military service now comprise about 20 per cent of the divorce cases being heard in Cook county courts, but this condition is no reflection upon either the men or their wives, Judge John A. Sbarbaro of Superior court said yesterday.

"Most of these divorce actions are started in an apparent effort to adjust or correct unhappy marriages in which the causes for divorce had arisen before the prospect of war service arose," he said.

"Many are initiated by men who apparently are convinced that their absence is not going to lead to a rekindling of love and eventual reconciliation and who want their affairs in order before they go to war. If they go into service free of worries about conditions at home their morale will be better and they will make better soldiers."

Husband Must Know.

Judge Sbarbaro said under the law no wife can divorce her husband in service without his knowledge and consent. With each divorce petition a sworn certificate must be filed stating whether the defendant is in service. If he is, the case will be held in abeyance unless he consents to the action and is represented by counsel.

In one divorce case yesterday before Judge Robert J. Dunne in Circuit court both principals are in service. Lt. Rebecca Beyerfuss, 24 years old, a WAC who formerly lived with her parents at 3437 Belle Plaine avenue, charged her husband, Walter, 26, a sergeant at Camp Hood, Tex., with hitting her when he drank. She was granted the decree.

Custody of Two Children.

Judge Dunne also granted a divorce to Bernice Elkin, 24, of 872 Lill avenue, from Blaine Elkin, a private who is overseas. She charged desertion and was given custody of two children.

It was stipulated that his army allotment to the children would serve in lieu of alimony.

Velma Holmes, 26, of 2030 Touhy avenue, also charged desertion in obtaining a divorce from Max, 25, a chief petty officer. Her case was heard by Judge Joseph Sabath in Superior court.

5TH ARMY MOVES UP TO RING NAZI HILL FORTRESS

Smash 3 Miles Thru Rain in Italy Drive.

ALLIED HDQ., Algiers, Oct. 29 (AP).—American and British troops, struggling up 1,600 foot slopes with fixed bayonets against massed German artillery, reached a position today to apply a powerful cutoff against the mountain fortress of Massico ridge on the southwestern end of the Italian front.

Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's American infantry, advancing thru driving rain, smashed three miles beyond Sparanise, and official reports from the front said they were threatening the road junction of Teano, from which a highway passes north of lofty Massico ridge toward Rome, 94 miles away.

Navy Shells Ridge.

Five miles south of Teano other 5th army units seized Francolise, on a main highway that also stabs thru the mountains just north of Massico. These two forces, by converging and pushing thru the available pass, would isolate German troops of the anchor of the Rommel defense line.

While allied ground forces moved into position before the strongest line the Nazis have yet established in Italy, the United States navy applied pressure on the seaward side of the ridge. An American cruiser and destroyers stood off in the darkness Wednesday night and poured shells into the enemy's line of communications along the ancient Appian way in the Minturno area, about 12 miles north of the front.

Held Up on Coast.

The 5th army's coastal flank still was held up by elaborate German defenses along the Regia canal, only four miles north of the Volturno. British troops which landed from the sea had, for the most part, been unable to cross this barrier.

At the other extremity of the front that bisects the peninsula, Gen. Bernard L. Montgomery sent his British and Canadians forward on the mountainous inland sectors toward the upper reaches of the Trigno river, while near its mouth British troops clung tenaciously to the small bridgehead they gained over the stream nearly a week ago.

A dispatch from the 8th army front said Montgomery's troops, facing "mud and mountains in seemingly inexhaustible quantities," were encountering their toughest going since they entered Italy on Sept. 3. "Not one offensive, but several, will be necessary before the 8th army can hope to see the seven hills of the eternal city," it said. "Tanks are an almost useless luxury in this sector."

British Take Town.

Today's advices said Montgomery's veterans were clashing with the enemy near the town of San Salvo, two miles north of the Trigno river and three miles inland from the Adriatic, with the Germans apparently still in possession of the town and surrounding heights.

Fifteen miles inland 8th army units occupied Montefalcone after a five mile advance from Castelmauro, and still farther inland Canadian regiments fought their way into Molise, a town perched on a 2,500 foot mountain 18 miles east of the important enemy communications center of Isernia.

Both allied fighters and bombers braved the unsettled weather across the front to attack enemy gun and troop positions, road junctions, trains, bridges, and airdromes. Two Nazi planes were shot down, while no allied planes were lost.

Report Troops Leave Gibraltar.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Oct. 29 (AP).—The German controled Scandinavian telegram bureau said today that three British convoys with Australian troops left Gibraltar last night in the direction of the eastern Mediterranean.

AIR RAIDS FROM ITALY SEEN AS PLAN IN WINTER

Weather Better than in Britain.

BY JOHN THOMPSON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ALLIED HDQ., Algiers, Oct. 29.—The weather, that demon which dogs the aviator's sky trails, is beginning to put the Mediterranean theater more and more into prominence as the base from which Germany will be bombed during coming months as winter's clouds begin gathering over the British Isles.

This is one obvious factor in the allied strategy which appears to be directed at acquiring more bases for heavy bombers operating from the European continent. It is a factor which no doubt guided the original strategy in invading this theater, which offers more weatherproof days than does Britain.

The important air field networks already acquired in Italy are not bothered by fog, which is a serious airplane hazard in England. Overcast skies, which occasionally delay operations in Italy, are more persistent over the British Isles.

Weather "Fronts" Vital Factor.

One of the most important factors is the manner in which weather "fronts" move across Europe. These stormy boundaries between masses of cold and warm air move from west to east.

They are elongated and turbulent areas in which heavy clouds and rain usually are encountered. But between these fronts are troughs of calmer skies. Bombers flying over Europe from England on any winter day almost certainly must fight their way thru at least one of these weather fronts. But from Italy it will be possible for formations to fly to the target and back between fronts rather than thru them.

This means there is more chance of reaching the target and less pilot fatigue and generally speaking icing should be less frequent in the Italian theater.

More Landing Places, Too.

Still another consideration governing air operations is the fact that planes bombing Germany from Italy will have many more places to land should the weather go sour at their home airport before their return. British based planes must go back to the United Kingdom, but allied held airfields of varying size and degree of usefulness are now widely dispersed over Italy, Sicily, Corsica, Sardinia and Northwest Africa.

NAZI BLOCKADE STIRS UP WAR TALK IN SWEDEN

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Oct. 29 (AP).—Reflecting the tension between neutral Sweden and Germany resulting from a virtual Nazi blockade of this country, the newspaper Dagens Nyheter said today: "If the Germans don't want to grant passage [of ships] perhaps war developments will give it."

Without hinting whether this referred to possible Swedish action or the war's eventual outcome, the newspaper termed the blockade "humiliating for a neutral state." Germany notified Sweden yesterday that "military dispositions in the Skagerrak" necessitated a halt to Swedish traffic to the Americas, traffic on which Sweden depended for considerable food.

The Nazis, meantime, were having other troubles with Sweden's neighbors. Copenhagen was fined in reprisal for three German soldiers killed when Danish patriots dynamited a coffee shop.

ALLIES WIN ROW WITH BADOGLIO; EDITORS FREED

Anti-Fascists Held Under Duce's Laws Released.

BARI, Italy, Oct. 29 (AP).—Allied authorities on the armistice commission, who lack authority to enforce their requests to Premier Pietro Badoglio and King Victor Emmanuel, have won a 10 day battle to obtain the release of editors of anti-Fascist newspapers—men arrested under laws laid down by former Premier Mussolini.

Because this area is under the direct control of the Italian government, as contrasted with the battle area which is under the allied military government [AMG], allied authorities here can only request the government to release jailed men or remove certain officials.

"The trouble is that sometimes when we get one Fascist official removed, a worse one is appointed in his place," one American on the mission explained.

Mussolini Laws Stand.

Badoglio and the king have said that fascism is ended, but apparently have taken no steps to repeal the Fascist laws by which Mussolini kept himself in power. Under these laws any one can be arrested without a formal charge.

[Badoglio's Bari radio yesterday said freedom of the press had been restored to the liberated areas of Italy by the Badoglio government as "one of the essential liberties of civilized people." The broadcast said "all political parties of the nation are entitled to publish their papers freely and express their political ideas freely."]

When Italy surrendered and Badoglio called an end to fascism, the underground movements of Bari, such as Communists, liberals and action parties, came to the surface and tried to hold meetings. They were stopped by the police and local officials. They were refused space in the government newspaper.

Win Newspaper Approval.

They then put out a newspaper and the editors immediately were arrested by the prefecture at Bari. It took the allies 10 days to obtain their release and another day of bitter wrangling to obtain the right for these political groups, now under one head, as "the action committee," to publish a newspaper and hold meetings.

The Americans and British now are pressing the king to repeal Fascist laws. They have asked for some form of habeas corpus to permit those arrested to learn the charges against them and obtain speedy trial or release.

REPORT 30,000 ITALIANS FIGHT NAZIS IN NORTH

Jugo-Slav Partisans Arm New Forces.

LONDON, Oct. 29 (AP).—An Italian army of 30,000 trained fighters has been established in northern Italy and, with the aid of weapons supplied thru Jugo-Slav partisans, already has engaged German troops, a Swiss dispatch reported tonight.

This apparent widening of the Germans' long northern Adriatic defensive front was reported soon after Jugo-Slav armies announced they had cut Jugo-Slavia's main railroad both above and below the capital of Belgrade.

A dispatch dated at the Italian frontier and printed in the Basel, Switzerland, newspaper Nachrichten, said that the trained Italian army had been formed in Venezia province, comprising the northeastern part of Italy and bordering on Jugo-Slavia and Austria.

Battle at Verona.

The new army fought a 24 hour battle with German troops at Verona, this report said. The battle was said to have ended when the Germans rushed in reënforcements from Turin, Milan, and Venice, the Italians withdrawing into the mountains.

Each of the two leading factions fighting in Jugo-Slavia announced attacks on the country's main rail artery today.

The Jugo-Slavia information office in Cairo announced that the forces of Gen. Draja Mihailovitch had cut the section leading from Belgrade to Salonika—the German's principal highway to Greece and the Aegean—near Leskovac. This town is about 20 miles south of the junction of Nis, bombed several times by allied airmen.

The line was disabled for a considerable period, the Mihailovitch forces said, and the Germans and Bulgarians in south Serbia and Greece were cut off. Elsewhere, rail connections between Serbia and Bosnia and the Adriatic coast were reported to have been cut at several places recently.

The partisan supporters of Gen. Josip [Tito] Broz announced in their daily broadcast bulletin that their red starred troops had cut the Jugo-Slav railroad at 130 places along a 40 mile stretch between Belgrade and Zagreb. They also reported capturing Rogatica, 30 miles east of Sarajevo.

Germany was reported today to have dispatched altogether as many as 30 divisions to the Balkans to hold that end of the European fortress, certainly to participate in the campaign against the Yugo-Slav armies and probably to be prepared for any allied invasion.

The Finnish radio said that "Berlin is apprehensive of a soviet landing in Bulgaria synchronized with allied landings in other Balkan countries."

Sees Balkans as Next Object.

There was speculation here that the Balkans might be the arena of the next big allied line. This was based on these factors:

1. The Italian invasion has now been run down by a combination of weather, terrain and bad luck into a relatively static affair which, lacking intervention elsewhere, certainly will require a long and nasty period before any real decision.

2. The Russian offensive in the east has beyond doubt outrun the anticipations of the western allies and has brought into sharp focus opportunities that could be presented in a hard and sharp allied flanking thrust up from south Europe.

VERDICT IN CHILDREN'S DEATH.

A verdict of accidental death was returned yesterday by a coroner's jury at an inquest into the deaths Thursday night by suffocation of three children of Gummersindo Herrera, a waiter, of 1236 Newberry avenue.

TURKISH FETE SEEN BY ALLIES AND ENEMIES

ANKARA, Turkey, Oct. 29 (AP).—Turkey today celebrated the 20th anniversary of the late Kemal Ataturk's révolution, which led to the first Turkish republic, with a military and aerial show before President Ismet Inonu. The Turkish army paraded material obtained under lend-lease alongside German Mark III. and IV. tanks.

American reconnaissance cars, American built Bofors guns, some light tanks, and a quantity of trucks were displayed. American training planes flew over low in company with British Hurricanes and German Heinkels.

Earlier, the world diplomatic corps went to parliament house to congratulate Inonu. United States diplomats were headed by Robert Kelly in the absence of Ambassador Lawrence A. Steinhardt. Latin American countries were fully represented.

The Italians, whose uniforms out shone all others, occupied a sort of no-man's-land in the diplomatic review seats and, with the neutral representatives, formed a barrier between the allies and the enemy.

R. A. F. ATTACKS PLANE BASE AT BREST, FRANCE

LONDON, Oct. 29 (AP).—Ranging more than 300 miles, R. A. F. Typhoon bombers raided the Guipaves airdrome at Brest, France, today without loss, the air ministry said.

While this was not a record run for Typhoons it was longer than most of their sallies and indicated their availability for aiding in operations up to 150 miles or more from Britain.

TANKS ROUT NAZI ARMOR AND HILL IS WON BY YANKS

Tribune Writer Watches Battle in Italy.

BY SEYMOUR KORMAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH THE 5TH ARMY IN ITALY, Oct. 27 [Delayed]. — American Gen. Sherman tanks met and routed a group of German Mark IV tanks today. As a result Gen. Mark L. Clark's forces hold another hill near Vairano in the Matese mountain range.

The drive for the hill was launched at 9 o'clock this morning and encountered only slight artillery opposition—many of the Nazi guns were silenced by allied fire yesterday—but the Germans sent their tanks out onto the level area to the south.

The Gen. Shermans accepted battle in a maneuver which was described as one of the best instances of armor working with infantry. The doughboys cut over to their flank to avoid the fire from the German tanks and the Shermans opened their attack. They destroyed one Mark IV, which burst into flames, and the other Nazi tanks fled.

Pound Nazi Gun Positions.

Then the Shermans pounded the German gunposts on the sides and crest of the hill and in the wake of this support the infantry scaled the height. There were still some enemy machine gunners and riflemen to be disposed of and when that was done, our foot soldiers had a grasp on the hill.

Acting as liaison between the Yanks and British today was an American horse cavalry detachment. These Yanks on horses are finding that it is the best way to make any sort of time over this rough terrain.

The Yanks scaled one 1,200 foot hill yesterday in a battle which lasted only 2 hours and 45 minutes in a demonstration of spectacular coordination between ground and air forces and the artillery.

More than 200 A-36 Invaders and P-40 Warhawks bombed and strafed the Germans during the day. They came over steadily, escorted by American flown Spitfires, at 10 minute intervals from 9 a. m. until noon, and were on call for other missions in the afternoon.

The drive on Vairano sector, which is the anchor of the German line running northwest to Venafro, came after comparative quiet for several days. The ground and air attacks were preceded during the night by heavy shelling by American big rifles and howitzers and British 17 and 25 pounders.

Go Into Action at Dawn.

The doughboys went into action at dawn. They swept up low San Felice ridge west of Bajalatino without opposition. Then they regrouped for their assault on the main objective. This stroke was delayed until 9 a. m. to allow the fog to clear.

At that time the first flight of Invaders and Spitfires came over, the Invaders diving down to plant their 500 pound bombs on Mounts Gaievola and San Angelo to the southwest and in the cross-roads area at Vairano.

The infantry then started up the steep sided hill as the Germans poured down machine gun and machine pistol fire. The going was heavy the first third of the way, but the foot soldiers crawled and clawed upward. There was little resistance the last two-thirds of the way until they neared the top. Then the remaining German small arms resumed firing.

By this time our mortars were joining in the onslaught, arching into the enemy gun positions and enough of our machine guns were getting up the slope to participate in the duel. The Germans then started down the western side of the mountain, leaving some of their dead comrades and others of their men to be captured.

I had watched those first Americans in their struggle for nearly three hours and now others of our soldiers came up to join the others.

Chicagoans in Battle.

"Who's here from Chicago?" yelled one lad leading a mule in a pack train which was just beginning to wind up the peak. He was Pvt. Frank Tassone, 3253 South Wells street, and another Chicagoan with him was Pvt. Steve Wibranowski, 7250 South Lafayette street.

Pvt. Rudolph Malik, 6516 West 28th place, Berwyn, Ill., and 2d Lt. Anthony Griggins, 806 14th street, Waukegan, Ill., were among the riflemen. There also were other Illinoisans, 1st Lt. Robert Webber of Mount Sterling, Sgt. Emmett Young of Hoopston, Corp. Wayne Foltz of Effingham, and Privates Gaither Phillips of Carterville and Dennis Woolsey of Jonesboro.

NAVIGATOR MISSING IN RAID ON GERMANY PARENTS ARE TOLD

Word that Lt. John Oerther Jr., 25 years old, was reported missing in action after the bombing raid on Schweinfurt, Germany, has been received from the war department by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Oerther of 1723 East 75th street. Lt. Oerther was the navigator in a Flying Fortress.

Sgt. Thomas Joseph Ryan Jr., 5524 South Honore street, a bombardier in the royal Canadian air force, has been reported missing after air operations overseas, his father was informed last night by the Canadian government.

INDIA RELIEF SPEEDED; FEAR MILLION DEATHS

NEW DELHI, India, Oct. 29 (AP).—Government and army authorities worked swiftly today to bring immediate relief to areas in Bengal where thousands of persons have starved to death recently and many thousands more have become destitute. Loss of a million lives and possibly double that number is quite possible.

A decision to employ army facilities to transport food and other needs to the stricken regions was announced last night, two days after Field Marshal Wavell, viceroy of India, visited them.

A major general experienced in transporting and distributing food will have the job of getting supplies to outlying sections of Bengal. Wheat stocks in Punjab, India's wheat belt, have been frozen with the prospect that the central government would corral all surplus.

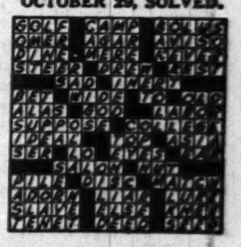
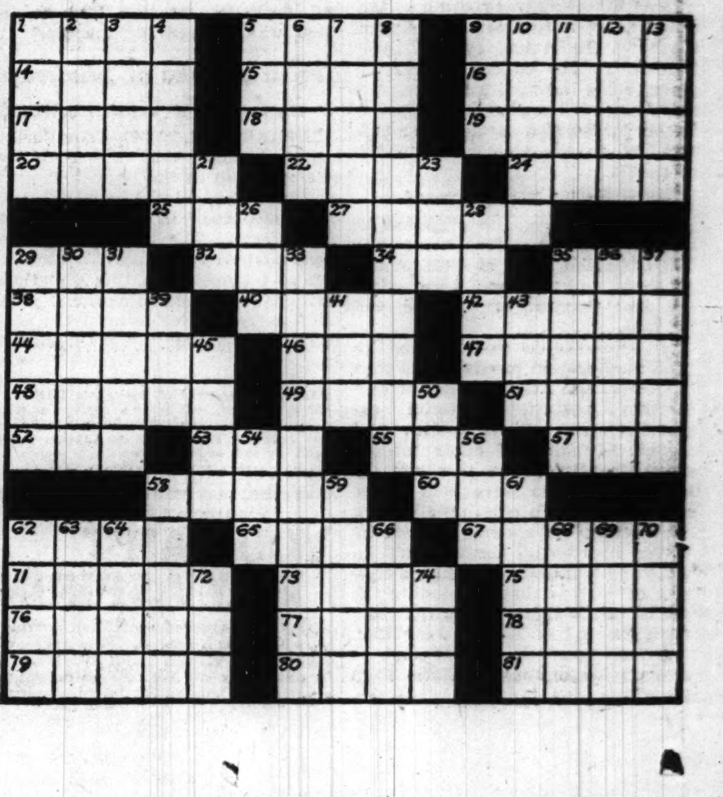
PUZZLE OF FRIDAY, OCTOBER 29, SOLVED.





F. D. R. REPORTS FULL ACCORD AT MOSCOW PARLEY

Declines to Make Public 3 Power Terms.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—President Roosevelt today announced that the United States, Great Britain, and Russia have reached a complete agreement at the Moscow conference on the further prosecution of the war and on post-war collaboration to preserve peace. He hailed the Moscow meeting as a tremendous success.

Mr. Roosevelt said all that remains is the reduction of the agreements to writing and signature. He declined to reveal the substance of the agreements, saying a joint announcement of their purport will be made by the three powers, probably at Moscow, after the departure of the plenipotentiaries.

Hails Spirit of Parley.

The President said the conference has been a success not only because of concrete accomplishments but also because of the spirit it has engendered. The over-all objective of the negotiators, he said, is finding a basis for maintaining peace and preventing the recurrence of aggression.

Consequently, they have addressed themselves not only to procuring unanimity in the prosecution of the war but to collaboration in the transition period after the hostilities end. They have been engaged in big things, said Mr. Roosevelt, not merely dotting I's and crossing T's.

Mr. Roosevelt made the announcement at his White House press conference, scoring a clean "scoop" on that trained reporter with a highly developed news sense, Prime Minister Winston Churchill of Great Britain, who has been discomfiting the President by revealing war information of great importance which had been withheld from the American press by the American authorities.

Scoops Arouse Congress.

Churchill's scoops aroused congress and the American people to such an extent that Mr. Roosevelt has been palpably attempting at his press conferences for the last month to be more informative.

Mr. Roosevelt would not predict whether the agreement reached in Moscow by the three conferees—Secretary of State Cordell Hull, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, and Russian Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov—will lead to a meeting of the President and Prime Minister Churchill with Russian Dictator Josef Stalin.

The Moscow conference was designed to explore the situation and determine whether a meeting of the "big three" would be advisable.

Bid Rejected by Stalin.

Stalin rejected an invitation to join Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill at the Casablanca conference, ostensibly because he was too busy directing Russian war operations, and has avoided other meetings with the chiefs of the western powers. He was not invited to the Quebec conference, ostensibly because that meeting had to do largely with the prosecution of the war with Japan, with which Russia is at peace.

By the time the Quebec conference ended, both Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill were pretty jittery over the attitude of Stalin, particularly because of his propaganda directed at the Germans suggesting they could make a separate peace with Russia on better terms than with the Anglo-American combination, which is bent upon the unconditional surrender of Germany.

Mr. Churchill in a Quebec broadcast courted Stalin in a vein bordering upon the obsequious in pleading for a meeting of the big three.

Seek to Restore Amity.

As Stalin, who had withdrawn his ambassadors from both London and Washington, showed no signs of melting, the conference of foreign ministers was resorted to as a means of restoring amity with Moscow. It was said that if the ministers could not agree on principles there would be no use of seeking further to bring Stalin into a meeting with Roosevelt and Churchill.

The American and British missions went to Moscow chiefly concerned to work out an understanding with Russia whereby the soviets will stay in the war until Germany surrenders unconditionally and will coöperate in the maintenance of peace in Europe. The Russians disclosed they were chiefly interested in getting an agreement whereby Britain and the United States would launch a second front in western Europe without further delay.

In addition to maneuvering in the direction of a separate peace with Germany, Stalin had evinced little interest in the collective security plans being advanced in England and America. He was more disposed to rely for Russian security on a buffer belt on the western boundary of Russia.

Annexation Plan Proposed.

For this purpose he proposed to annex the Baltic states, the eastern half of Poland, parts of Finland, and Rumania, and to extend a protectorate over Czecho-Slovakia and the Balkans.

Mr. Roosevelt's reaction to the Stalin annexation program was that it violates the Atlantic Charter declaration against territorial aggrandizement, which Molotov had signed. Polish and other foreign elements affected in this country and Britain also were loud in denouncing Stalin's plan. Stalin took the position no annexation was involved because all the territory on which he had designs had been Russian at various times, including the period of his alliance with Germany from the fall of 1939 to June 1941.

It was foreseen there would be difficulty in dissuading Stalin from his annexation program.

FRENCH LIBERTY GROUP TO MEET ON WEDNESDAY

BY JOHN THOMPSON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ALLIED HDQ., Algiers, Oct. 29.—The new French provisional consultative assembly, destined to voice the attitudes of the French committee of national liberation and the allies to France and other sections of occupied Europe, will open its first session here Wednesday.

Twelve seats will be held among resistance groups outside of France, 12 among representatives of the empire and 20 from political parties which have not collaborated with the Germans.

Will Be Expanded.

Ultimately the body will include 84 delegates, the great number from inside France itself, and it is expected to reflect the growing magic of the name of Gen. Charles de Gaulle. The French council of resistance will supply 40 delegates—three each from the eight nonpolitical underground organizations; 11 representing reconstituted political parties, their representation being three Communists, three Socialists, two Radical Socialists, one Popular Democrat, one Republican Federationist, and one member of the right wing Democratic Alliance.

The inaugural address will be delivered either by De Gaulle, co-chairman with Gen. Henri Giraud of the national committee, or Andre Philip, the committee's commissioner of the interior. Settling of parliamentary details probably will occupy the first week. The assembly has no powers beyond those of moral authority and the right to adopt resolutions.

Trials to Be Decided.

On the agenda for early discussion is the policy toward sections of France after they are freed by the allies. The agenda also probably will include the question of immediate trials for Pierre Pucheu, former Vichy interior minister, and Gen. Jean Bergeret, former Vichy air minister, as well as the complicated question of the budget of the national committee.

Actions of the delegates are expected to reflect the opinions of citizens inside France which may differ from the attitudes of some of the American and British officials and diplomats, particularly those who have been lukewarm to the increasing personal influence of De Gaulle.

NAZIS COMPLAIN OF TREATMENT IN U. S. HANDS

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Oct. 29 (AP).—The Berlin newspaper Lokalanzeiger said in an issue received here today that recently repatriated Nazi soldiers had complained about prison camps in Africa "under American guard and controled mainly by Jews."

"The torments, worries, and troubles which the prisoners were subjected to in the unbearable climate of Africa and under treatment which was not always unobjectionable did not amount to anything in relation to the joy of standing again under the protection of German weapons," the paper said. "They describe, with great bitterness, all those camps placed under American guard and mainly controled by Jews."

The Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung of Berlin said in a dispatch from Goeteborg, Sweden, where a part of the exchange for allied prisoners took place, that internment for most of the Germans meant "great suffering and physical strain. Communication with the homeland was limited and the exchange of letters and packages via the Red Cross often was delayed for months."

Berlin Speaks of Shakeup in Laval's Government

LONDON, Oct. 29 (AP).—The Berlin radio said today that the possibility of a shake-up in the puppet French government of Pierre Laval "is not being disputed" in German foreign office circles. "Laval seems to have made contact with various personalities of public life in this direction, but it is premature to define at present the moment or form of the government reshuffle," the broadcast said.

REPORTS GASOLINE COUPON THEFT.

Ansel Boberg, owner of a service station at 2100 West 79th street, reported to police that burglars broke into his station early yesterday and stole 2,500 gallons worth of gasoline coupons, 12 batteries valued at $96, and $20 cash.

NAZIS TELL POPE THEIR RESPECT WILL CONTINUE

Neutral Rule Asked for Rome.

LONDON, Oct. 29 (AP).—Germany has given a special pledge to respect the pope and his official family as well as all the activities of the Vatican, it was announced tonight. The assurances were given by Ernest von Weizsaecker, the German ambassador at the Holy See. They were published in the Vatican City newspaper Osservatore Romano and announced in German both by the Berlin radio and the Vatican radio.

Berlin quoted the official German news agency DNB as saying "Germany will, as in the past and so also in the future, respect the dignitaries and activity of the Holy See as well as the sovereignty and integrity of the Vatican."

Text of Article.

The text of the Osservatore Romano article as broadcast over the Vatican radio said:

"In order to counteract rumors regarding the attitude of German troops toward the Vatican, his excellency the German ambassador at the Holy See, on behalf of his government, delivered the following declaration to the Holy See:

"'In the same way as Germany has hitherto respected the official buildings and activity of the Holy See as well as its rights and integrity of the Vatican state, she is similarly determined to do so in the future.'

"The Holy See, acknowledging that German troops have respected the Holy See and the Vatican City, take note with pleasure of these assurances given by the ambassador also for the future."

One prominent Catholic in London said today's German assurances "give welcome relief" but the situation is still regarded as delicate. It is generally felt among many leading Catholics here that the Nazis hold a virtual stranglehold on the Vatican.

Seek Open City Status.

A group of Rome civilians, with the reported approval of Pope Pius, have suggested declaring the Italian capital as a neutral "holy city" under the supervision of an 11 man, nonpolitical commission and a neutral Swiss delegation, the Swiss Telegraphic agency said in a Rome dispatch today.

The reported plan is based on the Lateran pact recognizing the Vatican as neutral and inviolate, and would extend that neutrality to include Rome.

The Swiss government was said to have been asked to appoint a delegation to assure the removal of military installations from the proposed territory.

The pope received the new Rumanian ambassador at the Holy See today, the Vatican radio said. He is the latest in a long line of envoys—both axis and allied—who reportedly had private talks with the holy father in recent weeks, leading to a belief that efforts were being made to obtain the "open city" status for Rome.

REVEAL ALLIES AND ITALY SIGN FINANCE PACT

LONDON, Oct. 29 (AP).—An agreement was signed by the allied governments and Italy on Sept. 29 covering the economic and financial terms required of Italy, it was learned today. Details were withheld but an informant described the terms as "severe." The terms are not likely to be carried out until Italy has been freed of German occupation.

Sheepherder Found Guilty of Killing Wife and 2 Sons

Trinidad, Colo., Oct. 29 (AP).—Harry Lee Hartley, 24 years old, a sheepherder accused of burning his wife and two sons to death in an auto trailer May 11, was convicted today of first degree murder. The jury recommended life imprisonment. Judge John L. East admitted as part of the evidence a purported statement by Hartley that a quarrel with his wife over her refusal to help him pen a flock of sheep led to the slaying.

STALIN RECEIVES U. S. AND BRITISH MILITARY PLANS

General Delivers Secrets at the Kremlin.

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

MOSCOW, Oct. 29.—Full details of Anglo-American military moves were given to Premier Josef Stalin and Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav M. Molotov at the Kremlin late last night, it was understood in informed circles today.

The military spokesman was Gen. Hastings L. Ismay, who is Prime Minister Churchill's chief of staff in the latter's capacity of minister of defense. He was accompanied by the British foreign secretary, Anthony Eden, and the British ambassador, Archibald Clark Kerr. It was emphasized that the British party had gone to the Kremlin with the full knowledge and approval of the American secretary of state, Cordell Hull, and Ambassador W. Averell Harriman.

Closely Guarded Secret.

The details given to Stalin were a closely guarded secret and Gen. Ismay's revelations were in accordance with Churchill's frequent public promises that full details would be given to Stalin at the first opportunity.

It was pointed out that the Ismay talk was the first opportunity the British have had for frank military talks with Stalin since Churchill's visit in 1942. The disclosures were of such high security value that they could not be intrusted even to the most confidential codes for radio transmission.

There seems to be satisfaction with the general progress of the three power conference whose drafting committee worked until 4 a. m. reducing agreements in principal to written form.

New "Second Front" Plea.

Pravda, Communist party organ, published another "second front" article today.

The main portion of the article consisted of quotations from allied and neutral newspaper military observers. Pravda said the observers favor the "utilization without delay of the favorable conditions created by the successful operations of the Red army and the allies in the Mediterranean theater for the activization of operations by Anglo-American forces in the west of Europe."

"It is necessary to inflict on the Hitlerite armies such a blow which will completely break the backbone of the Fascist monster and decisively shorten the war's duration," the article added.

As the conference delegates held the 10th session optimistic feeling continued. It was believed that many of the toughest questions had been discussed amicably.

NECKING IN LONDON DOORWAYS TO MEAN ARREST, YANKS TOLD

LONDON, Oct. 29 (AP).—Necking in London doorways—even in the black-out—will bring arrest on the spot, American soldiers were warned today in a campaign launched by military police to improve the conduct, military courtesy, and personal appearance of United States military men in this area.

Maj. Graham Dougherty, Berryville, Va., provost marshal, said the aim was to make the soldiers "conscious of regulations which must be observed under any conditions."

LONDON'S PRESS HAILS MOSCOW 3-POWER PACT

Acclaims F. D. R.'s Report as 'Scoop.'

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Oct. 30 [Saturday].—President Roosevelt's announcement that the tri-power conference in Moscow was a "tremendous success" was the top news this morning in London. Newspapers splashed this first official statement on the outcome of the conference, and political warfare experts gave it the leading place in all their broadcasts to continental Europe.

Mr. Roosevelt's announcement was received here in much the same way as Mr. Churchill's "scoops" of the past. The London Daily Herald said: "President Roosevelt has rather anticipated an announcement from Moscow and by so doing he upset a lot of well laid plans."

The Daily Express remarked that Mr. Roosevelt issued an interim report on the conference "because such great news will not wait."

It was generally believed that the United States, Britain, and Russia immediately will establish machinery to deal with all political problems arising out of the war.

Lack of daily contact among the three powers on conflicting political, military and social problems in Jugo-Slavia, Greece and Poland has been missed in the past, but some reports said this soon will be corrected by an "allied political commission" which will carry out principles laid down in the Moscow parleys.

May Expand Mediterranean Body.

Some observers said this would be accomplished by expanding the powers of the present Anglo-American-Russian Mediterranean commission and perhaps moving its headquarters to London.

The purpose of the new commission will be to straighten out such problems as the dispute between Gen. Jisop "Tito" Broz and Gen. Draja Milhailovitch in Jugo-Slavia, and between the warring groups in Greece; it will also help to reach a common allied policy on control of civil affairs inside liberated territories and help to work out political policies designed to bring about the collapse of Germany.

It was believed the commission will not only put an end to divided counsels on how to treat with various conflicting factions during the war but will help the allies to deal together on all questions of making peace and planning reconstruction with Germany.

Another result of the conference is believed to have been agreement about action in the Balkans. There is an increasing evidence here that as the Russian offensive gathers momentum the positions of Bulgaria and Hungary are becoming untenable.

LANZA DOUBTFUL OF VICTORY THRU BOMBING JAPAN

Analyzes Chances; Sees Russia as Problem.

BY COL. CONRAD H. LANZA.

[Regular contributor to the Field Artillery Journal and recognized as an authority on military matters.]

For long the public has been interested in obtaining American air bases in eastern Siberia. Proponents of this measure argue that if such bases were at our disposal we would be well on the way to subduing Japan thru bombing her inflammable cities and destroying her industries.

At this time Russia has not placed any such bases at our disposal, and it is doubtful whether she will. For the moment this is a subject only of academic interest. It may, however, be profitable to examine the facts in this matter.

On Sept. 22 last the Japanese government announced that it had taken measures to scatter its offices away from Tokio, and that the war plants were being dispersed, and at the same time increased.

Tokio May Be Unimportant.

Industrial plants under Japanese control are producing in Corea, Manchukuo, and China. Americans returning from Japanese captivity on the exchange ships report talk that the Japanese government may itself move to China. In this case there would be nothing particularly important left in Tokio to bomb.

Including Manchukuo, Japan has an area in China, north of the Yangtse river, 1,500 miles long from north to south, and extending inland 500 miles or more. South of the Yangtse there is a huge territory about 700 miles square not yet dominated by Japan. But the possibility that she may be able to organize all this vast country before our invasion forces arrive must be considered. In such an enormous empire it might well be that production centers were so distributed as to take a long time to locate and then destroy them.

Cities Highly Inflammable.

Cities in Japan are inflammable, being largely built of light wood with paper partitions. They do burn easily, but they also can be quickly rebuilt. Japan has been constructing fire lanes and improving its fire departments, with the idea of limiting conflagrations.

All in all, there is far from being any certainty that bombing Japan would end the war with that nation.

As to sites for air bases on the Asiatic coast: if these are to be within 1,000 miles of the present Japanese center of industry, between Tokio and Kobe, the air bases would have to be either in Corea or Manchukuo or in the maritime province of Siberia.

The south part of the maritime province is about 200 miles across and 400 miles from north to south. It is generally mountainous, but there are wide, fertile valleys where all necessary air fields could be constructed.

Air Fields Scarce.

As far as we know there are only limited Russian fields there now. Who is going to construct additional fields for a first class war?

The valley for these fields is on the east side of a river which separates the maritime province from Manchukuo. It would only require a short Japanese advance to occupy this valley, or the Amur river valley further north, into which this stream flows.

It is possible that the Russians have sufficient forces to keep the Japanese away. The best way to do it would be to drive the Japanese backward, and out of Manchukuo. If this is done, it would be readily possible to construct all the air bases desired to bomb the Japanese islands.

Russia Could Help.

If it is not done, the Japanese in Manchukuo would make it very difficult to operate air bases in the maritime province, and, of course, in Manchukuo or Corea, which are held by them.

The solution to the problem lies in driving the Japs out of Manchukuo. An attack by Russia, aided, of course, by her allies, would be the quickest way, provided Russia has the available troops and is willing to use them. Present indications are that she hasn't and isn't.

Another way is for the allies to stick to their present program, and approach Japan thru China. This is a longer way around, and will certainly take time. It is not necessarily the less sure. But it becomes the less sure the longer time is allowed to Japan to organize the vast population and resources of China in her own interest.

1,200,086 Nazis Reported Killed or Lost in Air Raids

LONDON, Oct. 29 (AP).—A total of 1,200,086 German civilians have been killed, or reported missing and believed killed, in air raids from the beginning of the war to Oct. 1, Swiss dispatches, quoting official German statistics, said today. They added that 6,953,000 Germans have been bombed out. Civilian air raid casualties in the British Isles totalled 48,282 killed, or reported missing and believed killed, up to Sept. 30.

BRITISH WIVES RALLY FOR FIGHT ON 'SLAVE' LAW

Demand They Receive Right to Savings.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 29.—As a sequel to the Court of Appeal decision that money saved by a housewife from her housekeeping allowance or from payments from lodgers belongs to her husband, the Married Women's association held a council of war today and decided to start a nation-wide campaign for amendment of the law.

"As the law now stands, the legal position of housewives is little better than that of slaves," said Juanita Frances, chairman of the association. "If husbands obeyed the letter of the law, wives would have a very thin time."

Appeal to Attorney General.

Today's meeting of the association gave final approval to a proposal to send a delegation, including Dr. Edith Summerskill, Laborite member of parliament, women legal experts, and housewives to the attorney general to demand revision of the law. The association also decided to urge housewives to contribute to a fighting fund to defray the costs of appealing to the house of lords against the Appellate court's ruling yesterday that $412 saved by Mrs. Dorothy Blackwell was her husband's property.

"We want the women's property act of 1882 altered," said Dr. Summerskill. "That law says that if a woman invests her husband's money, she is guilty of a fraudulent act, which means that thousands of pounds invested in six pences and shillings by women in war savings belong to their husbands. We want the women who work full time in the home to have an equal share in any surplus money after the household expenses have been met."

"Question for Home."

An Evening Star editorial foresaw even worse complications than now exist if "the marriage contract became tied up in fresh skeins of lawyer's tape," and suggested:

"We should have subsection A of clause five of the matrimonial contract between Dick Dudgeon and Eliza Doolittle laying it down that the agreed weekly payment for housekeeping should include the laundry, but not the wine or beer. Another subsection would define what should come within the meaning of a personal allowance . . . and would it need special clauses to cover the children's pocket money?"

Land of Mountains

Choiseul Island of the northern Solomons, on which American soldiers have just landed, is a thickly wooded and mountainous land about 80 miles long. It is separated from the big Jap stronghold of Bougainville by the Bougainville strait, which is about 26 miles wide, but obstructed by numerous islands which divide it into two distinct channels.

The northeastern side of the island is mountainous, rugged, and steep but near Cape Alexander, the northern extremity, the low land fronting the hills is of considerable extent. The eastern end is low also, but is marked by Taura peak, 1,800 feet. The southwestern side, where paratroops landed, rises to irregular ranges of considerable height and is fronted by chains of reefs lying 3 to 5 miles from the shore.

Bambatani, which has a mission station, lies near the middle of the southwestern side of the island. There are eight villages in the vicinity. From Bambatani the coast trends northwestward to Choiseul bay, which is on the western side of the northwestern ends of Choiseul Island, and presumably, is held by the Japanese.

STRIKES PUZZLE FIGHTERS, SAYS MAJOR ON LEAVE

Soldiers fighting in the South Pacific are unable to understand strikes at home, Maj. Clinton Compere, attached to evacuation hospital No. 1 in New Guinea, told the students and faculty of the University of Chicago medical school in International house last night.

Reporting on his work, he told his audience that the sulfa drugs administered locally and orally are definitely reducing wound infections and that doubts expressed as to the suitability of ether as an anesthetic in the New Guinea climate have proved unfounded.

Maj. Compere, graduated from the University of Chicago medical school in 1937 is on leave.

U. S. SUBS SINK 10 JAP SHIPS AND BLAST 4 OTHERS

Gains in U-Boat War Told by Navy.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29 (AP).—American submarines have sunk 10 Japanese vessels and damaged four others in the western Pacific-China sea area.

The figures, contained in an official report issued today, raised to 474 the number of Japanese ships sunk, probably sunk, or damaged.

Navy department officials also announced that improvement in the submarine situation in the Atlantic has made it possible to discontinue plans for construction of 427 vessels for anti-submarine work and to use the construction facilities thus released to build vessels for amphibious [attack] operations thruout the world.

Ships Not Yet Building.

The vessels on which plans for construction were canceled included 305 destroyer escorts, 60 180-foot escort vessels originally designed as mine sweepers, 50 173-foot patrol craft, and 12 110-foot submarine chasers.

It was emphasized that actual construction had not been started on any of the ships and that the change is "just canceling the program."

It also was announced that with increasing activities in the Pacific it has been deemed advisable to improve repair facilities on the west coast. To free yards there for repair work, construction of three cruisers, seven destroyers, and nine fleet tugs has been transferred to east coast yards.

Cancel Plans for 75 More Boats.

In addition, an official said, plans for construction of about 75 minor craft, for which no contracts had been let, have been canceled.

The cruisers transferred from the west coast were to have been constructed in the Bethlehem Union yards at San Francisco, but now go to the Federal Shipbuilding company in New York; the destroyers are transferred from the Bethlehem Union yards to Bethlehem's Fall River and Staten Island yards, and the tugs from the United Engineering company yards at Alameda, Cal., to the Charleston Shipbuilding company at Charleston, S. C.

"This does not decrease the amount of work on the west coast," Navy Secretary Knox said, "it merely is a substitution of repair work for new ships."

Sub Attacks Increasing.

He added that American submarine attacks against Japanese shipping are "proceeding at full speed with steadily increasing forces."

The official report announcing the 10 new sinkings by American submarines identified the ships as one large freighter, one large tanker, one large transport, five medium freighters, and two small freighters. Those damaged were a large freighter, two medium freighters, and a small freighter.

They raised to 329 the number of enemy vessels sunk, 36 probably sunk, and 109 damaged by American submarines in the Pacific.

REPORTS GERMANS LOOTING ROME OF VALUABLE ARTICLES

ALLIED HDQ., Algiers, Oct. 29 (AP).—The Germans are systematically looting Rome, according to a person who was there five days ago.

Radio stations and electric power plants are being dismantled and shipped to Germany. Warehouses and factories are being cleaned out of everything of value and plans are under way to destroy the street car system and move out buses as was done in Naples, this informant said.

He called the food situation in the capital serious, with black market prices astronomical. He described morale as low.

EFFORT TO BLOCK HOUSE SPENDING PROBE CHARGED

New Dealers Accused by Committee Members.

BY LAURENCE BURD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—A behind the scenes controversy over a proposed congressional investigation of the expenditure of billions of dollars by government agencies was brought into the open today by Republican members of the house committee on expenditures in executive departments.

Representatives Norris Poulson [R., Cal.] and Clare E. Hoffman [R., Mich.], members of the committee, charged in interviews that Democratic members of the committee are seeking to block an inquiry into federal spending, sought by Republican members.

Poulson said the committee staff recently has gathered confidential information on various expenditures which, in the opinion of Republican members, call for a full inquiry, with public hearings, to determine whether irregularities are involved.

A "Responsibility to Carry Out."

However, "the proposed investigation is being blocked," Poulson said, "by members of the majority party, and the committee is becoming atrophied. If the committee is to be prevented from carrying out the function authorized by congress, I think the Republican members should resign. We have a responsibility to carry out, but if it is not to be carried out, there is no reason to continue on the committee."

Hoffman said the committee controversy came to a head at a closed session two weeks ago. He said he and other Republicans sought to have the committee authorize a full inquiry into federal expenditures, but that the proposal was not brought to a vote because of Democratic opposition. Hoffman said preliminary findings by the committee staff "clearly call for committee action."

Opposed by Cochran.

From other committee members it was learned that Rep. John J. Cochran [D., Mo.], the ranking majority member of the committee, is among those opposing the requested committee inquiry.

Cochran confirmed this today in an interview. He asserted that the house committee has "slept on its rights for years" and allowed other special and select congressional committees to take over investigating work which it should have done in the first place.

"We already have enough committees investigating government spending and financial practices," Cochran said. "The committee has not been told what this 'confidential' information obtained by its investigators is all about, and until I'm sure there is something new in it I'm not going to vote for another inquiry which would probably duplicate what is already being done."

Rep. J. A. O'Leary [D., N. Y.], committee chairman, could not be reached for comment.

CHINESE SMASH JAP OFFENSIVE; FOE IN RETREAT

1,200 Enemy Troops Die in Eastern China.

CHUNGKING, China, Oct. 29 (AP).—The Chinese today announced the smashing of the Japanese October offensive inside the triangle of Shanghai, Nanking, and Hangchow in eastern China with the recapture of Siaofeng. More than 1,200 Japanese were killed and remnants were forced to retreat.

At the same time four engined bombers of Maj. Gen. Claire L. Chennault's American air force assisted the Chinese counter-offensive against 30,000 Japanese troops who tried to forestall a Burma road drive in far western Yunnan province.

A bulletin from Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's headquarters said the bombers plastered Lungling, Japan's Burma road base, and shot down at least eight Zeros out of 16 which attacked. Two more probably were destroyed and two more damaged in 80 minutes of combat. The bulletin added that American bombers sank six small transports, tankers, and freighters, off Hainan Island last Tuesday.

Annihilate 1,200 Japs.

The Chinese said Siaofeng, 35 miles northwest of Hangchow, was recaptured after heights to the east, south, and west had been occupied and 1,200 Japanese annihilated by artillery fire.

A spokesman said the Japanese were quitting Kwangteh, 85 miles southeast of Nanking, and villages near Hsuancheng. These two remaining advanced bases were taken by the Japanese at the beginning of their Oct. 1 offensive in an effort to safeguard Nanking and protect their communications in the big city triangle of eastern China.

On the Yunnan front, the spokesman said, the Japanese offensive has passed its peak.

The situation was described as unchanged, with the heaviest fighting occuring at Mamien pass, 40 miles northeast of Tengyueh. Artillery fire was being exchanged across the river 80 miles north of the Burma road, while a Chinese force held a 12 mile gap between Japanese positions on the west bank.

SINK JAP CARGO BOAT.

An American war bulletin from New Delhi, India, said a 3,500 ton freighter was sunk by bombers at Rangoon in Burma Tuesday. In a raid on Toungoo 55 tons of bombs were dropped, half of them on Japanese headquarters. The British air force in India damaged five locomotives and 80 cars east and west of Mandalay. Paddle steamers, railways, and warehouses were hit in raids by both the American and British forces.

A Japanese announcement said strong formations raided the British supply base at Tambru on the upper Naaf river "in the region of Akyab." The Naaf empties into the Bay of Bengal about 70 miles north of the Japanese base of Akyab. This was the first report that a British base may be situated there.

D. F. C. AWARDED CHICAGOAN FOR ATTU HEROISM

Lt. Gerhard Lessman has been awarded the distinguished service cross for extraordinary heroism in action against the Japs on Attu Island, Alaska, last May, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Lessman, 5842 Harper avenue, have been notified.

Lt. Gerhard Lessman.

Lt. Lessman was decorated for leading three radio operators, carrying heavy equipment, across the precipitous Sarana-Massacre range to the rear of the Jap lines, where he established an artillery observation post. He maintained the post for hours despite constant enemy fire and directed effective artillery fire against the Japs, his citation stated.

A graduate of the University of Chicago, Lt. Lessman was attending the Kent College of Law when he entered the army in March, 1941.

ACTION STARTED TO TAX LAND OF CATHOLIC ORDER

Lake Forest yesterday began a legal fight to return to its tax rolls the 32 acre property of the Minor Conventual Fathers of St. Bonaventure's province which the Catholic Franciscan order purchased for $80,000 in 1942 from the estate of Mary Mitchell Ryerson.

Calvin D. Trowbridge, Lake Forest city attorney, obtained permission from the Lake County court to intervene to prevent the county tax collector from exempting the property as an educational institution. The application for exemption is based on a state tax commission order entered last February.

The city contends that the property is being used as a vocational school and that the order thereby is violating the zoning ordinance. The property, bounded by Sheridan and Ringwood roads at the south end of the city, is surrounded by estates, including those of Vaughan C. Spalding, Ambrose Cramer, the late Cyrus McCormick, the late Edith Rockefeller McCormick, and the late Clyde M. Carr.

ACE TELLS HOW YANKS RIP NAZI FIGHTER POWER

LONDON, Oct. 29 (AP).—United States aerial attacks on the continent are cutting sharply into German fighter strength, Lt. Col. Eugene P. Roberts of Spokane, Wash., high scoring ace of the 8th air force, said today.

Roberts, who recently downed his ninth German fighter, said: "The Jerries are easier meat than they used to be. When we made only sweeps they would avoid us unless we were heavily outnumbered. Since we began escorting Flying Fortresses they have had to fight or watch our bombs drop. Now we are knocking them down four or five to one."

The bag of 186 German fighters by Fortresses in the Oct. 14 raid on Schweinfurt gives the 8th air force a new month's record of at least 621 planes in seven October raids. This is 80 more than in August, the previous record month. The big bombers also have had their highest month's losses, 174 to date, 60 more than in August.

'WE ARE CHIEF DEFENSE OF U. S.,' BRITON ASSERTS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 29.—That America after the war will find itself "one of the united nations" as it is already described in broadcasts to Europe by the office of war information, and will become part of the general scheme of a future world system was indicated last night by Richard K. Law, British minister of state.

"The United States owes a great deal to the British commonwealth and the empire," he said. "If the empire had not existed and had been a series of separate nations, Germany and Japan would have divided its victims and gobbled them up one by one. As far as the United States is concerned, the war would have been over before it was begun. All her strategic bases would have been occupied by the enemy.

"The existence of the commonwealth and the empire is the chief defense of this country, but it is also the chief defense of the United States and our other allies. If the commonwealth and the empire are swept away, it is not only we who will be the losers, but the United States and the world would lose much."

REPORTS NAZIS SENTENCE 519 CZECHS TO DIE

LONDON, Oct. 29 (AP).—The Germans have condemned to death 519 Czech patriots in the Moravian town of Olomcuc [Olmuetz], the Czecho-Slovakian information bureau said today.

All were sentenced for "acts of terror and sabotage" in the important rail junction. A number of other Czechs were reported put to death on charges of "being harmful to the German nation." The Nazi courts indicated a general uprising of patriots in the town of 65,000, once recognized as the capital of Moravia. Railways lead from there to Poland, Italy and Germany.

It was the largest group of death sentences reported imposed at one place and one time since the Germans overran the country. More were executed after the assassination of Reinhart Heydrich, Czech "protector" who became known as the hangman, but these were spread over several months. Czech records in London say 50,000 patriots have been executed.

"See you in the funny papers"

Early on a Sunday morning, before people are up and about . . . did you ever go down your own street, or through your apartment building . . . and see all the Sunday papers lying in front of all the doors? Almost everybody wants a paper on Sunday. People are home, have plenty of time to read on Sunday.

There are lots of places where no Sunday paper is published. In such places, people read big-city Sunday papers they like. Some Sunday papers have such large circulations, so widely spread, their ABC statements look like Baedekers.

You may also have noticed that newsdealers put the colored comics sections on the outside of the Sunday paper . . . not to protect the rest of the paper from soiling or rain . . . but because comics on the outside sell more papers. Tricks in all trades!

Now newsdealers knew that comics sections sold Sunday papers long before advertisers found out. Advertisers were tipped off by Dr. George Gallup, who runs the Institute of Public Opinion, and finds out what people think of practically everything.

Fifteen years ago, Dr. Gallup was teaching journalism. He used to send his students out to ask people what they read in newspapers. The students found out that comics were more read than any other part of the Sunday paper, except gravure picture sections.

Other researchers later found out that three out of four adults read Sunday comics sections regularly. And four out of four kids! Sometimes research can be pretty wonderful.

Why people like comics is a very long story. Comics are not just jokes or pictures, but serial stories. They have characters, plot, humor, action, dramatic interest; go on week after week.

Comics are also a HABIT . . . Small children start reading Sunday comics, keep on as they grow up; feel they know the characters quite well, and become very fond of them.

Liking comics is like liking peanuts, hot dogs, fried potatoes. Perfectly natural, and quite pleasant.

Brains, age, sex, complexion, position, voting precinct, draft number or money in the bank have nothing to do with it. If you like comics, you are merely NORMAL, which is a nice way to be.

And advertisers found out that advertising in Sunday comics sections was seen by more people, better read, longer remembered; brought more coupons, more dimes for samples or premiums, sold more goods, impressed more dealers . . . than advertising in most other media.

Then Metropolitan Group was formed, the first national newspaper network . . . made Sunday comics sections a national medium. Today the Metropolitan Group includes forty-one major Sunday newspapers, with more than 15,000,000 circulation. That's right—fifteen million!

Metropolitan Group reaches more than half of the better buying families in the whole national market . . . has more concentrated circulation in more good markets than the average magazine list or network program . . . reaches more families in cities of better than 10,000 population than the first four weeklies, or the four leading women's magazines!

Your advertising in Metropolitan Group reaches whole families, at home, on Sunday . . . is seen by your customers, prospects, distributors, dealers, salesmen, competitors . . . truck drivers, retail salespeople, delivery boys . . . the best people, your best friends and bitterest enemies . . . the neighbors next door, the folks who work in your factory, people who know you well and people who never heard of you. A medium that makes the old wisecrack "See you in the funny papers" a potent fact! With the big space unit, and four colors, literally everybody sees your advertising in this largest medium on earth.

The advertising opportunity in Metropolitan Group is hard to over-estimate. The cost is low. One order, and one bill covers the whole Group. Immediate reservation is advisable for 1944. Ask any office to tell you more . . . soon!

REPORT TRUE BILL AGAINST HIGHWAY CHIEF

Allman Repeats Cleanup Pledge to Gaming Jury.

words were that they were putting responsibility right in his lap for whatever the future brings forth.

State's Atty. Thomas J. Courtney and his chief aid, Wilbert F. Crowley, were present during Allman's session with the 23 jurors. It was learned the prosecutors were content to have the jurors give Allman an opportunity to remake and revamp the police force and that they were more than willing to coöperate with him if and when he "cleans up" his department.

Regains Shaken Composure.

Allman sat in an ante-room for 15 minutes after he left the jurors' presence, in order to regain his composure. Then he hurried to his office and went into conference with his secretary, Supervising Capt. James Conlisk, and his most trusted aid, Capt. Michael Naughton, whose slated promotion to supervising captain had been held up by political opposition. Naughton, assigned to Allman's office, is engaged in working to suppress gambling.

Allman announced that he will confer with the mayor this morning. Then, he intimated, there will be several suspensions. Numerous lieutenants were being considered last night for vacancies expected to be made in several captains' offices.

Allman followed Judge Oscar Caplan of the Municipal court into the jury room. Caplan, who is assigned to the racket court, was asked to explain his decisions in at least two gambling raid cases.

Judge Quizzed on Slugging.

It was because one of Naughton's men was slugged in a raid that Judge Caplan was called before the jury. Virgil W. Peterson, operating director of the Chicago Crime commission, had obtained a report of the matter and had presented it to the jury.

The story was that Detective Harry Goelz of Naughton's squad went to visit a gaming room that had operated for many years in the vicinity of Division street and Western avenue, and supposedly was owned by George Turner. The policeman went to the rear door and some one opened a peekhole and told him to go around to the front. He said that thru the peephole he saw a dice table and a game in progress.

So he went to the front door and walked in alongside a patron. He was not recognized immediately as a policeman. Within a short time, however, he was seized and roughly handled. One of his ribs was broken.

Squad Seizes All Inmates.

About that time other detectives of Naughton's squad arrived and rescued him. They arrested everybody in the place and charged Turner with being the keeper.

Next day, before Judge Caplan, the state's attorney requested a continuance because Goelz was in the hospital. Judge Caplan, however, discharged all the inmates or patrons and continued the cases only of those supposed to be employes of the gambling room. When the case was called next time, Goelz had no witnesses—he had been relying on the appearance in court of the men he followed into the gambling room. Judge Caplan discharged the gambling house employes.

Yesterday the judge said he discharged them because there was no evidence of gambling. The policeman, he said, had made an illegal entrance.

Arresting Officer Sued.

Another case about which Judge Caplan was questioned concerned a raid made by Capt. Frank Demski on a tavern at which the state's attorney's office had reported gambling. Eventually Judge Caplan discharged all the men Demski had arrested and one of them sued Demski for false arrest and obtained a judgment which cost Demski $1,600 to settle.

The grand jury had been told that several Democratic ward committeemen had interceded with Judge Caplan in behalf of the tavern owner and his patrons. Judge Caplan, how-lan, however, said this report was not true. He said Demski, tho, had urged him several times outside the courtroom to impose a fine of $1 to protect Demski. Judge Caplan told the jury he didn't think he was justified in imposing a $1 fine, so he freed the suspects.

Indictment Expected.

The indictment of Chief McCarthy was expected. He had defied the grand jury after numerous appearances before it and he had refused to heed its edict: "Fire all your subordinates and then quit."

McCarthy heads a force of 175 men. He was placed in charge of this department a year ago by former Sheriff Thomas J. O'Brien, now a congressman. Sheriff Peter B. Carey, who succeeded O'Brien last December, retained McCarthy as his police boss.

McCarthy appeared before the present grand jury on several occasions. He had to explain the disappearance of seven priceless roulette wheels from one of his police stations, charges that Guzik gangsters were tipped off to impending raids, and charges that most of the raids made by his men were phony.

Defies Grand Jury Edict.

At his last appearance before the grand jury he was accompanied by his lawyer, W. W. Smith, who, however, had to stay outside. McCarthy told the jury he wanted his rights—he said he had no authority to fire his policemen, no matter whether they were right or wrong, and he couldn't obey the order to fire them. Nor was he going to quit, he said.

The jury, McCarthy, and a host of others went before Chief Justice Benjamin P. Epstein of the Criminal court to establish McCarthy's "rights." The judge told him he could do nothing for him. The grand jury then said it was thru talking to Chief McCarthy — he needn't come back.

Three Arraigned in Quirk Killing.

John J. Williams, keeper of a gambling house at 3227 West 63d street—in the Chicago Lawn police district—John Enright and Anthony DeLordo, indicted for the Quirk murder by the grand jury, were arraigned yesterday before Chief Justice Epstein. They entered pleas of not guilty. The case was assigned to Judge Harold G. Ward for trial.

DeLordo confessed to participation in the killing several weeks ago. His plea yesterday was taken as an indication that he will attempt to retract the confession. He and Enright were employes of the Williams' gambling house.

Another employe, James Egan, who confessed and has pleaded guilty, is expected to be a state's witness against the three.

Targets in Gambling Inquiry

CAPT. HUGH T. M'CARTHY.

Capt. Hugh T. McCarthy, 64 years old, is an iron jawed police veteran who battled his way up thru the ranks of the Chicago police department, retiring last year after serving for 37 years.

During his years on the force he built up a reputation for personal bravery, receiving 24 citations for meritorious service and three extra compensations. As a sergeant he won The Tribune's hero award in 1923 for slaying one escaped convict and wounding another after lying in wait for them for 40 hours in a darkened room. This also won for him the Lambert Tree gold medal.

Upon his retirement from the police department he was appointed chief of the county highway police by former Sheriff Thomas J. O'Brien

McCarthy lives with his family at 4312 North Keeler avenue. Two sons, Clair F. and Edward, are in the army.

CAPT. WILLIAM DRURY.

Acting Capt. William Drury of the Town Hall station suspended yesterday, is a hard-hitting Irishman whose dapper appearance and mild manners give little hint of his reputation as one of the best amateur boxers in the police department.

He was appointed a patrolman May 10, 1924, and a year later was transferred to the detective division. He was made a sergeant April 21, 1933, and promoted to lieutenant May 10, 1938. He has been acting captain in charge of the Town Hall station for eight months.

His record includes four extra compensations and six creditable mentions. On Oct. 8, 1927, he was awarded the Tribune hero prize for the capture of a bandit who entered Drury's car and attempted to rob him at the point of a gun. Later he was awarded the Lambert Tree gold medal by the civil service commission for the same deed.

He is 41 years old and lives with his wife at 1843 Addison street.

3 POLICE GROUPS DRAFT DEMANDS FOR WAGE BOOST

A joint demand for increased wages will be made by the City Police Lieutenants' association, the Sergeants' association, and the Chicago Patrolemen's club at the next meeting of the city council scheduled for Nov. 17, Harry L. Larson, president of the latter group, said yesterday.

Larson pointed out that the cost of living in Chicago has risen 22.7 per cent since 1939. The police department, he said, is underpaid, according to comparisons with department salaries in New York, Detroit, Cleveland, Montclair, N. J., and several other eastern cities. Chicago police salaries now are $2,802 for a patrolman, $3,252 for a sergeant, and $3,660 for a lieutenant.

A city council subcommittee on revenue, headed by Ald. John J. Grealis [44th] will meet next Wednesday to discuss ways and means of raising additional revenue in order to raise salaries of city employes. Among suggestions they will consider are proposed additional taxes for currency exchanges, finance companies, and athletic events.

UAW PRESIDENT'S RE-ELECTION BID SNOWED UNDER

Lester Washburn of Lansing, Mich., was elected president of the AFL United Automobile Workers' union last night over Irvan Cary, who has been president since 1939, by a vote of 302 to 135. George Grisham of Decatur, Ill., was elected vice president and Anthony Doria of Chicago was elected secretary-treasurer. Frank Evans of Cleveland was reëlected Negro board member at large by acclamation. The 1944 convention will be held in New York City. The voting ended the convention sessions in the Morrison hotel.

Resolutions were adopted asking that the social security act be amended to include medical and unemployment benefits and that age requirements for the start of benefits be lowered from 65 to 55.

Other resolutions asked that service men's pay be continued for one year after their discharge, and that the six hour day be established in industry to relieve unemployment during the post-war period.

140 STEEL MILL WORKERS IDLE AFTER 6 STRIKE

Production of aircraft and motor truck material was stopped early today by a strike of six crane operators in the blooming mill of Carnegie-Steel corporation's South Chicago plant. Approximately 140 steel workers were forced to remain idle because of a dispute involving a company request that one of the crane operators work as a laborer temporarily until repairs were completed on his crane. The other operators refused to countenance this arrangement, demanding that the idle operator be permitted to act as a relief operator.

URGES RETURN OF LOCAL RULE IN GOVERNMENT

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 29 [Special].—Gov. Harry F. Kelly of Michigan, in an address at the 100th commencement of the University of Notre Dame, called today for a "rebirth of the old spirit of personal responsibility for good government" to prevent the inroads of socialism and autocracy.

Declaring civic responsibility must begin on the local level, Gov. Kelly warned that neglect of local self-government is followed by federal centralization.

Two hundred university seniors received degrees today. The honorary degree of doctor of laws was awarded to Gov. Kelly, a Notre Dame alumnus; Leo T. Crowley of Washington, D. C., foreign economic administrator, and Bishop William P. O'Connor of Superior, Wis. The honorary doctorate also has been awarded to Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, commander of the Pacific fleet, and will be formally conferred on him when circumstances permit. Adm. Nimitz established a naval ROTC unit at Notre Dame in 1941.

LIQUOR AND SUIT STOLEN.

A suitcase containing liquor valued at $40 and a suit were stolen from his room at the Y. M. C. A. hotel, 826 South Wabash avenue, Chester A. Doty, Detroit, reported to police yesterday.

GAMBLERS SHUT UP SHOP AS JURY POURS ON 'HEAT'

Bookies Closed Tighter Than in Many Years.

The grand jury investigation of gambling and police protection has closed handbook betting in the city and county tighter than it has been in decades, it was asserted yesterday. All other forms of commercialized gambling were reported at a standstill, too.

Virgil W. Peterson, operating director of the Chicago crime commission, said his investigators were unable to find any horse betting parlors in operation. Old time gamblers said they never had seen the clamps put on gambling as effectively as in the last week.

The shutdown has closed more than 700 handbooks and temporarily put out of business a racket estimated to take in $50,000,000 yearly. Many professional gamblers were tions—or to escape being subpenaed tions—or to escape being supbenaed before this or the next grand jury.

Peterson Well Pleased.

"I never have seen gambling places shut as tight as they are today," said Peterson. "It demonstrates what can be done when the police and other law enforcing officials make a determined effort to enforce the gambling laws."

Peterson said that not only have handbooks been closed effectively, but that wire services to betting places have been shut down. A few handbook operators were reported taking bets from some of their well known customers on the street, with promises of paying the next day if the horse should win.

Handbook commission houses, or clearing centers for horse bets, also were reported closed.

U. S. Probes Profits.

The volume of betting on horses in the city and county was revealed in a recent federal grand jury investigation of handbook and gamblers' incomes.

In 1939, when the invesigation was made, between 900 and 1,000 wire serviced handbooks were in operation. This did not include many other places where bets were made across the counter, without wire service.

At that time, in 1939, it was estimated that between two and three million dollars yearly were paid for all forms of protection for handbook betting. It was estimated that the daily pay roll of handbook employes totaled $30,000, or approximately $10,500,000 a year.

That investigation revealed that one gambling house, the Horse Shoe club at 4721 North Kedzie avenue, grossed $1,000,000 a year. The Horse Shoe and four other large places had a yearly pay roll of $1,135,000.

Million a Day in Bets.

It was conservatively estimated that $1,000,000 was bet in handbooks each day in the county, and that the customers left as profits to the gamblers an average of $100,000 a day. The Dome, which was raided and closed, had 80 employes, according to the crime commission director.

One result of the gambling shutdown has been an increase in the mutuel handle and attendance at Sportsmans Park race track.

MOVE M'GARRY'S JURY COURT TO 11TH AND STATE

Defendants in the police courts at 11th and State streets, who request jury trials, will be able to get them immediately beginning Monday when the jury branch will be opened in room 805 of the Central Police building. The files were transferred there yesterday from the Criminal Courts building where the court has been located for the last nine years.

Judge Joseph H. McGarry, who presided over the court, will follow it to its new quarters, as will Assistant State's Atty. Myron Lewis and Assistant City Prosecutor Harry A. Iseberg.

In announcing the December assignment of other Municipal court judges, Chief Justice Edward S. Scheffler said Mason S. Sullivan will replace Edward P. Luczak in Safety court and Charles S. Dougherty will enter Renters' court in place of Samuel Heller, who is going on vacation.

COURTNEY EXPRESSES THANKS TO JURORS FOR FAITHFUL WORK

State's Atty. Courtney addressed members of the October grand jury last night just before their adjournment.

"I want to compliment the members of this jury for the faithful service you have given and to thank you for the many hours you put in at your duty," Courtney told them. "This is without a doubt as fine a collection of intelligent, vigorous, and honest citizens as could be gathered under any circumstances.

"Your attention and devotion to duty is something of which every one of you can be proud. In my 11 years as state's attorney, no grand jury ever has displayed a keener desire for conscientious public service than you ladies and gentlemen. The fact that seven women are on this jury, and that all of you have been on duty all of one night and on so many evenings, is a fine example of public service and leadership that all good citizens could well follow.

"On behalf of the people of Cook county, and for myself and staff, I thank you."

The jurors have served 19 days and at the conclusion of today's session they will be entitled to 20 days' pay, which is $100, plus a small amount allowed for mileage. Each of them will be given the $100 voucher when they leave, but the county is two or three months behind in its payment of jurors, so they will get no cash till after the Christmas holidays.

COULDN'T STOP BIOFF, SCHENCK SAYS ON STAND

Movie Head 'Went Right Along' on Demands.

New York, Oct. 29 (AP).—Nicholas Schenck, president of Loew's, Inc., testified today that he paid $100,000 of stockholders' money to Willie Bioff and George E. Browne, but that he never protested to the authorities against the demands of the racketeer labor leaders.

Schenck, a government witness in a trial of eight men charged with conspiracy to extort from the movie industry, said Bioff and Browne had threatened to close every theater in the country thru strikes unless the industry paid them $2,000,000 and that he believed they would have done so.

"Isn't it a fact," asked James D. C. Murray, counsel for six of the defendants, "that if you got together with other producers some means could have been devised to stop Bioff and Browne?"

Couldn't Be Stopped—Schenck.

"No, I don't think you could have stopped them," Schenck said.

Schenck, one of the nation's highest salaried men, said the $100,000 was paid in separate instalments of $50,000, and that the second payment, made in 1937, was to have been refunded in return for an arrangement he made for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer to purchase raw film thru Bioff as an agent for a west coast distributing firm.

Schenck, who said he received from $350,000 to $400,000 a year as head of Loew's, declared he was so shocked when Bioff coolly asked for 2 million dollars from the industry that "at first I couldn't talk."

Bioff told him, he added, that if the movie magnates didn't comply they would lose "many millions of dollars over and over again."

Murray asked Schenck whether he knew that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, then district attorney, was at about that time waging a campaign against union racketeers who attempted to extort money from employers. Schenck replied that it was possible he knew of the campaign because "I read the papers."

"Went Right Along."

"Did you go to Dewey?"

"No."

"Did you do anything to get rid of Bioff and Browne when they were making their demands?"

"I did not."

"You went right along with them?"

"I did."

When Schenck testified that he received up to $400,000 a year, Murray asked whether he got that much in 1935.

"Not that year," said Schenck. "I got a percentage of the profits."

"How much did you get in 1935?"

"I got plenty."

"How much is plenty?"

"Two hundred and fifty thousand dollars is plenty for any man," Schenck said.

Truck, 480 Cases Liquor Worth $20,000, Stolen

A truck-trailer loaded with 480 cases of liquor valued at $20,000 was stolen yesterday from in front of the office of the American Transportation company, 2500 Taylor street.

WHY MAKE ANY PEACE PLEDGE? WHEELER ASKS

Stalin, Churchill Haven't, Senate Reminded.

"Isolationist" Defined.

The Montana senator also entered into a criticism of the use of the term "isolationist."

The United States has never been truly isolationist, he said, and added that under the meaning of the term as adopted by internationalists, England, with its tariffs and self-interest, is more isolationist than the United States.

"The British empire has always been isolationist," Wheeler said. "Wherever you meet an Englishman he is for Great Britain first, and I admire him for it.

"If we talk about protecting the United States and her interests a lot of people are immediately accused of almost treason."

"I am not criticizing Mr. Stalin," Wheeler said. "He is doing what he believes is best for Russia. Nor am I criticizing Mr. Churchill. He is doing what he believes is best for England. What I want to know is what do we propose to do? What is best for the United States?"

Johnson at His Desk.

Sen. Hiram Johnson [R., Cal.], who helped block American participation in the league of nations, was one of the few at his desk as Wheeler predicted:

"The chances are Russia will dominate Europe after this war, and communism will sweep the greater part of that continent. Great Britain won't stand for it and if she goes to war we'll again be dragged into it."

Sen. Wheeler and Sen. John A. Danaher [R. Conn.] both attacked the Connally resolution today on the basis that it would add confusion to post-war negotiations. Danaher spoke in favor of his amendment, which would leave the wording of the resolution as it is, but would add 20 definitions of words and phrases included in the proposal.

During the course of his speech Danaher contended that the resolution has no legal effect and follows the "inane vacuity" which, he said, marks a large part of senate resolutions dealing with advice.

"Union Now" Drive Cited.

He included also a criticism of the contention that the nation desires such a resolution, saying that senators and representatives toured the nation advocating "union now" under the sponsorship of the allied nations committee, which he said has made every effort to propagandize the country. The other side of the story has not been told, he said.

He and Sen. Wheeler both attacked the Connally resolution as being open to many interpretations. They both quoted excerpts from speeches by Churchill to back their contention that the English leader is opposed to his nation making commitments now.

9 FRUITS, FRUIT JUICES GO UP 1 TO 5 POINTS CAN

The ration values of nine types of fruits, fruit juices, and tomato products will be increased as much as 5 points on some cans tomorrow by the office of price administration. Jams, preserves, and noncitrus marmalades, which have been frozen since Oct. 23, will require 6 points a pound, the OPA announced yesterday. Jellies and fruit butters will have a value of 4 points.

Apples and all berries in No. 2 cans will be raised from 10 to 15 points; pears, No. 2 cans, from 21 to 24 points; mixed fruits, No. 1 tall cans, from 18 to 20 points; pineapple, No. 2½ cans, from 34 to 36 points; pineapple juice, No. 2 cans, from 10 to 12 points; tomato catsup and chili sauce, in 10 to 14 ounce jars, raised from 15 to 18 points; tomato sauces containing more than 5 per cent dry tomato solids, 7 to 10 ounce cans, from 3 to 4 points, and tomato sauces in cheese combinations, from 4 to 5.

Beets are reduced from 8 to 5 points, and pumpkin and squash from 21 to 15 points. Grapefruit juice is reduced from 4 to 3 points. Green stamps A, B, and C from the No. 4 ration books will be used to buy processed foods from Nov. 1 thru Dec. 20.

STATE REJECTS ONE OF 5 ASKING BLIND PENSIONS

Twenty-two per cent, or 989 of the 4,278 applications for blind relief received and processed by the Illinois public aid commission up to Oct. 15 were turned down, it was reported at a commission meeting yesterday at 160 North La Salle street.

A large majority of the rejections were on the ground that the applicants had ample resources or income without the relief. This is a new consideration in the blind relief system which was taken over by the IPAC Oct. 1 under a new law passed in the last general assembly. Counties formerly had charge of blind administration and the old law specified that eligible recipients should get $365 a year without regard to resources.

In Cook county 16 per cent of the applicants failed to qualify, while 28 per cent were rejected downstate, Raymond M. Hilliard, public aid administrator said. Of 2,085 applicants in Cook county, 350 failed to qualify, 85 per cent on the grounds of resources, according to Joseph L. Moss, administrator of the Cook County Bureau of Public Welfare.

THE QUESTION.

What Halloween celebration is outstanding in your memory?

WHERE ASKED.

The Lytton building, 14 East Jackson boulevard.

THE ANSWERS.

Seymour Ikler, assistant manager, department store, 2916 Rosemont avenue—There's one costume party I'll never forget. I went dressed as a knight in armor and came back a married man. We had been thinking about it for a long time, but that Halloween night seemed the best time, so we eloped in our fancy costumes.

Robert McKenna, page boy, 3233 Palmer square—At a Halloween party the boys held me down while they covered my legs and arms with nail polish. After it was thoroly dry all of the girls tortured me by taking turns in peeling off bits of it. It felt like they were tearing off the skin with each piece.

C. J. Kieran, divisional manager, retail service system, 7709 Cornell avenue—At one of our big parties a $5,000 prize was raffled. I felt very lucky that evening so I bet a friend $150 that I'd win it. Out of the thousands of names there mine was the one that was drawn. I received the $5,000 besides the $150 bet.

Harold Gordon, salesman, 4840 North Kedzie avenue—I told my girl friend that I would be dressed as a clown at a Halloween party. Instead, I dressed as a hobo and told another friend to impersonate me in the clown costume. My girl friend spent the evening with the other boy. She became angry and never went with me again.

David Perry, radio announcer, 7051 Oglesby avenue—There was a girl in high school whom all the boys were eager to impress. She had told me she liked the real outdoor type so I thought I'd show her I'd make a tough looking pirate. I was disappointed when every other boy there came dressed as a pirate, too.

Marion Johnson, salesgirl, 4046 North Wolcott avenue — We were bobbing for apples in a great wooden tank of water. I was wearing a beautiful borrowed Spanish costume. As I stooped over to pick up an apple with my teeth some one shoved me and I plunged into the tank. My costume was more of a sensation in its clinging version.

MAYOR KELLY 'TAKES IT EASY' AT ARMY SHOW

Fort Knox, Ky., Oct. 29 (AP).—Manufacturers, governors, mayors, newspaper executives, and labor leaders have forgotten their worries and are living an approximation of soldiers' lives for two days as guests of the war department here.

But the first thing Mayor Kelly of Chicago did after he was assigned to an army barracks was to grab a newspaper and flop on the "lower" of a double decker bunk. He told his new "neighbors" he intended to "take things easy."

Interest of early arrivals was manifest in tanks used by the armored units.

Highlighting the two day program was an exhibition of fire power by every type of combat unit in the modern United States army. Planes roared overhead and tanks churned the ground as infantry and other units executed a sham attack for visitors.

HOLD GYPSIES IN CON GAME.

Mrs. Mary Wojnus, 63 years old, and Mrs. Anna Nichols, two Gypsy women living at 1653 South Homan avenue, were held by police on a confidence game complaint signed by Mrs. Ada Burke, 131 South Throop street, who charged they swindled her out of a dress and $1.

HOOVER OFFERS YARDSTICK FOR PEACE ECONOMY

Calls for Restoration of Free Enterprise.

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

Former President Hoover wants this country to have a yardstick by which it can measure the progress made toward restoring free enterprise after the war, he said yesterday.

His proposal for regaining peace time domestic economy parallels his plan for a transition period in international affairs rather than a long armistice and general peace conference, described by him Thursday night from Kansas City over the national network of the Mutual Broadcasting system. "Realism" is the motif of both plans.

"There should also be a definite transition period of from three to five years for changing over from war to peace economy," Hoover said.

"We should set up a goal to be attained by the end of the period—restoration of the initiative and free enterprise of the American people as the best way of obtaining reemployment.

Would Demobilize Burocracy.

"Agencies should be set up to direct the demobilization of all these present war agencies to bring about that end.

"All of this would be for one purpose—coming out of the transition with the freedom of the American people reëstablished. We have to demobilize this tremendous federal burocracy. We have to re-arrange the tax system.

"We, will have to liquidate war production and convert industries back to peace time pursuits.

"All of this is directed to cleaning up the United States from the war so that we will get a new economic and social start."

Some readjustments could be accomplished quickly, such as demobilization of the army and navy and making changes in the tax system, the former President said. Conversion of industry would require more time—perhaps a year or 18 months—and other problems would take longer to work out.

Urges Definite Time Limits.

But the important thing would be to provide the machinery to bring about the changes with a certainty which would reassure the people, he said. Definite time limits for definite stages of accomplishment would make it possible for the people to know whether the government was proceeding efficiently and in good faith, according to Mr. Hoover.

"The people could test the actions of government thru its agencies by one touchstone—one goal," he said.

Mr. Hoover was interviewed at the Chicago club where he was a guest of C. B. Goodspeed, former national treasurer of the Republican party, who gave a luncheon in honor of John D. Hamilton, executive committee chairman of the G. O. P.

LONDON PAPERS PUBLISH 'BEWARE BRITAIN' SPEECH

LONDON, Oct. 29 (AP).—The London Press, still on the warpath over the remarks of five United States senators who recently visited Britain on a tour of world battlefronts, today published accounts of the speech of Sen. Richard B. Russell [D., Ga.] before the United States senate yesterday. The paper used such headings as "Beware Britain Speech Repeated in Senate," and "Britain Too Sensitive for Senator."

None of London's morning newspapers commented editorially, but the Daily Mail's New York correspondent said: "The main point of Sen. Russell's speech was that he envied the efficient manner in which the British look after their military, diplomatic, and commercial interests."

Russell told the senate there would be "inevitable conflict and confusion after the war," if the United States attempt to "rely upon even so splendid an ally as the United Kingdom to protect all of our interests."

Barber Is Held for Having 800 Gas Tickets Illegally

Daniel Tate, 31 years old, a barber of 320 South California avenue who was arrested on a charge of illegal possession of 800 "R" rationing coupons, good for 4,000 gallons of gasoline for other than highway vehicle uses, was held in bond of $2,000 yesterday by United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker. The coupons were confiscated Thursday by an office of price administration agent who saw them in the barber shop cash register after Tate had given him a haircut. Tate lives at 2721 Gladys avenue.

MEXICANS OPEN DAM FOR 150,000 ACRES OF FOOD

REYNOSA, Mexico, Oct. 29 (AP).—One of North America's most ambitious irrigation projects—a multimillion dollar development to turn 150,000 acres of northern Mexico wilderness into a vegetable grower's paradise—began operation today as water poured over the spillway of a dam almost five miles long.

The mighty dam, named Azucar [sugar] and promising sweet profits for Mexican agriculturists, is situated on the San Juan river 75 miles west of Reynosa. Already its great cement half moon spillway, flanked by miles of earth and rock, has backed up 210,874 acre feet of water, forcing the evacuation of two villages.

There is enough water to service three spreading irrigation systems. One of the systems is the San Pedro, a network of canals which reaches the vicinity of the border town of Roma, Tex., and which will provide water for 17,000 acres of land.

THIEF SURPRISED AT STORE DOOR IS WOUNDED BY COP

Edward Pociask, 31, of 2116 Dayton street, who has a 10 year police record as a burglar and automobile thief, was shot and wounded early yesterday by Detective Darrell Heninger of the Racine avenue station when he fled after being arrested as a burglar suspect.

Heninger surprised him while he was opening a door of a dress shop at 1655 Chicago avenue. Pociask broke away and ran down an alley after the detective had seized him. Heninger fired six shots as he fled. Pociask was found five hours later in a doorway at 847 North Paulina street, wounded three times. He was taken to the Bridewell hospital.

Pociask served several sentences in the Bridewell for burglary and auto thefts. He had been arrested more than a dozen times during the last 10 years.

2 MEN ACCUSED BY POLICEMAN'S WIFE ARE HELD

Louis Barteni, 24 years old, 1017 North 23d avenue, Melrose Park, and Lawrence Carlan, 22, of 5930 Elm street, Berkeley, were in county jail yesterday charged with a criminal attack on the wife of a Stone Park police lieutenant in an automobile Thursday night. She told Assistant State's Attorney Sam Papanek that the two men picked her up while she was waiting for a bus in the 3500 block on North avenue, saying they were friends of her husband, and would take her to the end of the North avenue car line. Instead, she said, they turned off on a side road, where both attacked her.

PAINTER HELD IN SHOOTING.

Walter Snyder, 33 years old, 3650 Lake Park avenue, a painter, was held to the grand jury in bond of $1,500 yesterday by Judge William Daly in the Felony court, on a charge of assault to kill in connection with the shooting of Edward Sands, 30, of 3543 Ellis avenue, in a dispute.

U. S. SAILOR RAPS NAZI SINKING OF HOSPITAL SHIP

The German Luftwaffe bombing of the British hospital ship Newfoundland off Salerno, Italy, in September was inexcusable, John A. Schroeder, 22 years old, machinists' mate first class, said yesterday during a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Schroeder of South Elgin.

Schroeder was in the crew of an American destroyer which assisted in landing American troops at Salerno and witnessed the attack which sank the Newfoundland.

"The hospital ship was decorated with neon lights and had three red crosses on it which could be seen for miles," Schroeder said. "In addition, the entire boat was outlined in white lights."

Schroeder enlisted in 1939, was on duty at Pearl Harbor during the Jap attack there, took part in the bombardment of the Gilbert and Marshall Islands, and helped convoy troops for the initial invasion of North Africa.

4 ILLINOIS MEN DECORATED FOR WAR GALLANTRY

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29 (AP).—The war department today announced the award of the silver star to four Illinois men for gallantry in action in Tunisia and the Southwest Pacific. The recipients included Capt. Woodrow M. Smith, field artillery, of Peru, and Corp. John H. Mock of Toledo, who fought in Tunisia; Capt. Wallace W. Mulliken of Champaign, who fought in New Guinea, and Marine Sgt. Maurice J. Markham of Stillman Valley, who was in action on Guadalcanal.

Awarded Flying Cross.

ALLIED HDQ., SOUTHWEST PACIFIC AREA, Oct. 23 [Delayed]—(AP).—Lt. Gen. George C. Kenney, commander of the allied air force in the southwest Pacific area, today awarded the distinguished flying cross to 2d Lt. Forrest L. Foiles of Versailles, Ill.

DEATH HELD ACCIDENTAL.

A coroner's jury yesterday returned a verdict of accidental death in the case of George Blankshain, 49 years old, 3231 Page avenue, an employe of the Central Watch service, who was found dead in front of 111 South Wells street Sept. 28.

TAVERN HOLDUP YIELDS $1,800.

Two men, both armed, held up Mrs. Anna Heinen and three customers in Mrs. Heinen's tavern at 2531 West 51st street yesterday and escaped with nearly $1,800, she reported to police.

BURGLAR LOOTS APARTMENT.

A burglar who picked the lock on his apartment door took $110, two watches worth $80, and $8.50 in war savings stamps, Carl Larson, 7311 St. Lawrence avenue, reported to police yesterday.

EASE UP POLICY TOWARD ITALIAN WAR PRISONERS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29 (AP).—Italian war prisoners who have been in custody for at least six months and "who have shown by their demeanor that they can be trusted" will be allowed to do work outside of prison camps without guards.

In making this announcement today, the war department added that the new system will be instituted gradually, with its operation "closely supervised by the military authorities." It said that "no prisoners will be paroled; that is, released into the custody of individuals who would assume full time repsonsibility for them."

The announcement apparently reflected the first change of policy regarding Italian prisoners since Italy became a co-belligerent of the allies.

Must Report Violations.

Employers will be required to report to military authorities any instances of unsatisfactory conduct on the part of prisoners, the army said, or of violations of pledges given by them.

"Each prisoner placed in this category," the announcement explained, "will be required to sign a statement that he will obey all rules and regulations; that he will not escape, attempt to escape, or help others to escape; that he will at all times wear identifying clothing issued him and carry at all times the prisoner of war identification card, and that he will perform honestly and faithfully the work assigned to him."

Hope to Save Man Power.

The plan is prepared, the army added, "to effect a saving of man power, thru reduction in the number of guards at present required to watch over prisoners."

The system has not yet been placed in operation because of the small number of Italian prisoners who have been under war department supervision for the required six months.

The army on Oct. 21 announced that more than 140,000 prisoners now are held in 56 permanent camps in this country and that "the ratio of Germans to Italians is approximately 3 to 1."

Silk of Used Parachutes to Touch Milady's Skin

NAVY REPORTS TWO ILLINOISANS AMONG WOUNDED

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29 [Special].—Five casualties from the Chicagoland area were announced today in a list made public by the navy. All were reported to have been wounded. Two are from Illinois. They were listed as Dean George Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Johnson, Millington, and Thomas Cardeaux Jurjevich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jurjevich, Lincoln.

Others from Chicagoland were listed as Ernest Franklin Lee, son of Herbert Lee, Indianapolis, Ind.; William Banks Evon, son of John Evon, Detroit, Mich., and Donald Alfred Cook, son of Raymond Cook, Mosinee, Wis.

Friend of the Yanks

[The Friend of the Yanks department will answer questions about the draft and military service, both in the daily columns and by mail, if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are sent with the queries.]

N. A. O. asks: "If a soldier is given a disability discharge is he liable for re-induction or is he out for the duration?"

ANSWER: The discharged Yank is required to report back to his local board and may be retained in his classification 1-C [member of the land or naval forces]. Or, as provided in section 633.14 of the regulations, the local board may reopen and reconsider his classification after forwarding the registrant to a member or members of a selective service medical advisory board. If the medical advisory board believes the man is physically acceptable under current physical standards, the local board can send him to the induction station.

A. V. C. writes: "I am 39, in good physical condition and have had three years of army service. I am a licensed stationary engineer with eight years of experience as fireman, oiler, light building maintenance such as electrical work, plumbing, and some carpentry. Can you tell me if I could get a rating and in what branch?"

ANSWER: You probably could get a first class petty officer's rating in the navy Seabees. Why not visit their recruiting offices at 321 Plymouth court and discuss your prospects with a recruiting officer? Your enlistment should be completed today [Oct. 30], which is the final date for enlistments in this service.

If you miss this deadline, try the maritime service, which also wants stationary engineers.

C. L. C. writes: "A man 29 years old was drafted about 60 days ago and at the time was passed physically without question. He is now troubled with a double hernia and the army physician has informed him that an operation is necessary. The soldier would much prefer returning to his home so his family physician can operate. Would the army permit this or is he obliged to have the operation performed at an army base hospital?"

ANSWER: The army says no because it has the finest physicians and surgeons available in uniform to give its men the very best of attention—hence there is no good reason for wanting the operation performed by the family physician other than to be near home. If facilities are not available where the Yank is stationed, his commanding officer can transfer him to the nearest base hospital.

A. M. writes: "My brother was killed in action in June. Mother received the 'Citation of Honor.' I'd like to know what this citation represents and why?"

ANSWER: The Medal of Honor is the nation's highest award and often referred to as the Congressional Medal. The citation is for "conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity involving risk of life above and beyond the call of duty in action with the enemy."

THE INDIVISIBLE MAN.

Some people are saying that while they disapprove of Mr. Roosevelt's domestic policies they support him because of his foreign policy.

The most notorious proponents of this fallacy are the Park avenue and Wall street set. They are the people whose interest and livelihood lie in finance, domestic and international. Their interest in industry as such is slight, and in agriculture nil. Their folly and avarice were the principal causes of the 1929 crash, and when Mr. Roosevelt appeared on the scene they became the original and puerile Roosevelt haters, not because of what he was doing to corrupt and undermine the Republic but because they wrongly attributed to him the revulsion that the whole nation felt at their practices.

Their transformation into Roosevelt lovers was simple. They were disinterested in America west of the Hudson and in its people. The financial ties of some and the social ambitions of the rest turned their eyes across the water and they became backers of the Roosevelt foreign policy for precisely the same reason that most Americans have been suspicious of it—namely, that it subordinated the welfare of America to advance European ambitions.

For such spiritual expatriates Americans have little time, but there are also genuine Americans who say that while they abhor Mr. Roosevelt's domestic policies they approve of his foreign policies. There are various reasons for this. Some of them are people who also were taken in at one time by the high sounding claims made for New Deal domestic policies, only to be disillusioned when those policies failed to live up to representations and to deliver results. Time, which cured such softmindedness in the domestic field, will eventually work a similar cure as regards the international policies.

There are likewise those who detest Hitler's brutality and Japanese bestiality—as who do not?—and support Mr. Roosevelt for that reason, as if he were the only man in the country who shares their view.

Thus a good many people who know the score on all the failure and corruption and deception of Mr. Roosevelt's domestic program are supporting his foreign aims with varying degrees of warmth. What these people overlook is that it is impossible to be for Mr. Roosevelt's foreign policies without being for his domestic policies.

The policies were closely intertwined before the war. We would not have been defenseless in the Philippines and helpless to deal with the Nazi submarines on our own coasts if Mr. Roosevelt had not, while plunging the country deep into debt to create pressure blocs and then buy their votes, spent less money on the national defense in the earlier years of his administration than Mr. Hoover spent during the depth of the depression. Mr. Roosevelt found that promises could be substituted for performance in the domestic field; he gambled that talk without the force to back it up would be successful in the international field. How close he came to losing, the country probably still does not realize.

Mr. Roosevelt has not changed his domestic policies. His New Deal followers have used the war as a cloak to impose further shackles on the liberties of Americans. The war has not slowed his drive to impose totalitarian government and Nazi law on the American people, but has accelerated it. People who vote for his foreign policies, if they succeed in reelecting him, are bound to get his domestic policies. In the new fangled chicken shops you can buy light meat or dark meat, as you prefer, but in politics you must take the whole bird. Mr. Roosevelt is not the indispensable man but he is the indivisible man. If you take him you get all of him, and you get Eleanor, too.

TITLES.

A reader who has tired of the control that the New Deal's alphabetical bureaus are exerting over his life has referred us to the days of the ancient pharaohs of Egypt for a historical counterpart. We are indebted to Emil Ludwig's book, "The Nile," for the titles of the pharaoh's underlings. We have tried to supply as closely as possible their New Deal equivalents:

Director of Appointments [Justice Felix Frankfurter]; Real Director of Appointments [Mr. Roosevelt]; Real Judge [vacant]; District Chief of the Nile [traveling appointment currently held by Mr. Morgenthau]; Inspector of Horns, Hoofs, and Feathers [Mr. Ickes]; Chief Deputy Hair Maker to Pharaoh [Mr. Wallace]; Privy Councilor of the King's Stomacher [Leon Henderson, until deposed]; President of the Secrets of the Morning Apartment [Mr. Hopkins]; Chief Inspector of the Bath Room of the Great Queen [military secret]; Director of All Beautiful Diversions [Mr. Archibald MacLeish]; Commandant of the Desert [Lt. Gen. William Knudson].

THE DOMINIONS AND JAPAN.

Prime Minister Smuts of South Africa predicted an imminent allied invasion of the Balkans in a speech delivered in London. As a member of the British war cabinet and a confidant of Prime Minister Churchill, his words carry authority. He intimated that United States troops will have the leading role in the invasion.

There is another invasion, on the Pacific war front, which is long overdue. While America is conscripting soldiers to fight in Europe there is no reason why the British dominions should not conscript men to fight against Japan.

Australian volunteers are fighting alongside our troops in the Southwest Pacific, but the dominion government has limited the activities of Australian conscripts. As matters stand, they cannot be sent to recapture many of the island possessions which Japan has wrested from Great Britain, the Netherlands, and the United States, nor to Burma, China, or Japan.

Canadians certainly cannot continue to accept supinely the murder and torture of their kinsmen by the Japs at Hongkong. Canadians have the opportunity to obtain justice and revenge by raising an army to fight Japan across the Pacific. The satisfaction with which Canadians received the news that their troops had participated in the Aleutian campaign is evidence that the Canadian people are more eager to lick the Japs than is the government at Ottawa.

The war against Japan is as much the fight of the dominions as it is the fight of the United States and Great Britain, and help given now could shorten the war by months.

THAT'S ALL THERE IS.

The Cook county government is faced again this year with the necessity of cutting its expenditures if it is to avoid another of the fraudulent budgets that have brought it to the verge of bankruptcy.

The rescue of the county by the legislature didn't solve the fiscal problem. The county was authorized to sell bonds to meet its accumulated operating deficits, but only to pay off debts contracted before the opening of the present fiscal year. During the year the county paid about 2 million dollars of these debts out of current cash income. It cannot sell bonds now to replenish that cash, and it will start the 1943-'44 fiscal year on Dec. 1 with several million dollars of debts.

While the county has substantial expenses of other natures in its charitable institutions, its main expense is pay rolls. It is well nigh impossible in these times to cut salaries and wages radically. Local governments are having the same man power troubles that plague private business. The only way out for the county is to cut down the number of its useless pay-rollers.

The circuit judges are engaged in their annual task of fixing the number of employes in the fee offices. They could serve the taxpayers well and relieve the county's distress if they would cut some of the fat off those overloaded pay rolls. If recent experience is any criterion, however, they will prove less amenable to these influences than to the mandates of the Democratic organization.

The judges fix the number of fee office employes. They do not fix their salaries. That is the function of the county board. If the board is to balance its budget it will be necessary that it call in the fee officers and tell them: "All right, here are the pay rollers the judges have given you. And here is the money to run your department. It's 20 per cent less [to choose a figure at random] than it was last year. Make up your own budget. You're supposed to know how to run your office. But don't ask for any more money, because there isn't any."

It would be up to the political barons in the fee offices, then, to make the money stretch. This they could do by cutting pay or by eliminating jobs. If they did the latter, the judges might have to ratify it. Public service wouldn't suffer by a 20 per cent cut. The majority of the offices are overstaffed to at least that extent.

The budget cuts shouldn't be confined to the fee offices. Nearly two-thirds of the county employes are under direct jurisdiction of the county board. The majority of these are in the charitable institutions. It shouldn't be assumed, however, that all employes in the charitable institutions are selfless souls doing a full day's necessary work any more than it is to be assumed that all the fee office employes are leeches. The one thing most of them have in common is that they are doorbell pushers and precinct captains for the Democratic machine, which is willing to put a man to work anywhere it can, whether he is needed or whether there is money to pay him.

The Chicago community is more prosperous than it has been in decades. There is less need for public charity than in the past. The commissioners should go over their own pay rolls and do some healthy pruning there, too.

Editorial of the Day

WALLACE, THE CRACKPOT.

[Traffic World.]

With due apologies to President Roosevelt himself and several others of his palace guard, Vice President Wallace is fast becoming the prize crackpot of the administration. There is plenty of evidence, but nothing further than his speech in Dallas this week is needed. It is full of inaccuracies and downright lies, as well as ancient charges that, however true they may have been at one time, concern water now well over the dam.

He has a right, of course, to his own opinion about so-called regional railroad rate discriminations, but when he says that the commission is not responsible for the freight rate structure—that not in one of the last 10 years did the commission review as many as 1 per cent of the tariffs filed with it—he tells the truth only technically, the intent being to deceive, which is the same as to lie. The only "out" he could have is that he is totally innocent of knowledge with respect to the subject with which he is dealing. Any one has the right to protest a freight rate, and, if the commission has not reviewed one of them, it is because no formal petition has been make asking it to do so. To say, therefore, that the rates are made by private conspiracies is a plain misrepresentation—as is also, for instance, the statement that aviation authorities assert that cargo planes can carry freight for from 8 to 10 cents a ton-mile.

Mr. Wallace is popularly supposed, among men who do not track with him, to be honest and well meaning, tho a starry-eyed dreamer with his head in the clouds. If that be true, give us rather a first class crook with a little sense.

Speaking of man power problems, wouldn't one announcer be enough for some of those radio commercials?—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Changes galore are expected in the post-war auto. But there'll still be the same back seat driver.—Tulsa Tribune.

Test Your Horse Sense

By George W. Crane

Select the answers which you consider best. The last problem counts five points. Then look for the correct answers on page 14.

1. Which one of the following is a metallic element?
   Acrimony Antimony Alimony Parsimony
2. Which one of the following is an edible vegetable?
   Salsify Saleratus Salpinx Salutation
3. Which one of these words is inappropriate in this general grouping?
   Euphrates Tiber Nile Catskill
4. Muresco would be of most interest to which of these workmen?
   Physician Blacksmith Decorator Farmer
5. How many ribs does the normal human being possess?
   12 16 24 30
6. Here's a problem which will give the breaks to the men in military service that read this quiz column daily. You deserve one point for each correct matching of the camps named below with the states wherein they are situated.

[a] Fort Custer	[v] Louisiana
[b] Camp Grant	[w] Wisconsin
[c] Camp Polk	[x] Michigan
[d] Camp Robinson	[y] Illinois
[e] Camp McCoy	[z] Arkansas

Score yourself as follows: 0-2, poor; 3-6, average; 7-8, superior; 9-10, very superior. [Note—The last question counts five points.]

MR. PEPYS SEES A PLAY.

30th Oct.—Spent the week in winter clothing and all around me people were complaining of la grippe, but expect things will be better soon because Mr. McCutcheon's "Injun Summer" picture appears tomorrow. Went to a playhouse to see a new show called "Without Love," in which Miss Connie Bennett plays a wife in name only, a character of which the theater has always been fond, and wondered why openings in this town always fall on nights of bad weather, when it is too wet, or too cold, or too hot.

Observed that this play contained a character intended to resemble Harry Hopkins, the President's confidant, and thought the actor gave a marvelous picture of Harry before he had his operation, tho maybe he is better dressed, because in the cartoons Harry's collar is always too big for his neck. Had a brief glimpse of the secretary of the navy, too, in this play, but found no striking likeness to the present incumbent. Sometimes suspect that New York's nose must be out of joint since the American drama has adopted Washington as its favorite scene.

Other than this night out, have stuck to my last and kept my feet on my desk, trying to find ideas that could be spun into words. Received a postcard sneer from a reader who wanted to know if I didn't get tired rewriting the encyclopedia, and said, "Ha, ha, just another newspaper hater."

Once, for a long term of misspent years, I worked on a newspaper that nobody hated, and every letter that came into the office told us how nice we were, and what a great thing we were doing for the world, and to keep up the good work in spreading sweetness and light. So we kept it up, and were so meek and mild that butter wouldn't melt in our mouths, and the circulation sank steadily from year to year until it was finally composed of nothing but the crême de la crême and the noblest folks in town, about 12,000 of them, and then the paper rolled over and died. So whenever I meet a newspaper hater, breathing scorn at the minions of the press, I rub my hands in secret glee and say, "Of such are the circulation-uppers."

IN PRESENT DARKNESS.

(Century of Progress, closed Oct. 31, 1934.)

Almost beyond belief, that these bleak shores
Once knew the battlements of fairyland,
And yet the spell of memory restores
The shining kingdom that once ruled this sand.
Here stood fair palaces of paradise,
In rainbow corridors of glowing light,
That rose in magic before doubting eyes
In alchemy that overcame the night.
So shall the future rise beneath the sun
When peace-bright days allow our hearts to build
The world of freedom, in our dreams begun,
And by the darkness of these times fulfilled.
Courage, then; courage! As we work and pray,
Hold fast this promise of a better day.

The Uplift in Schuyler County.

Aunt Mathilda's dead 'n' gone these many years, but I'll never forget the day she come home the first time after she got to teachin' school up in Oak Park, near Chicago. Grandpaw an' I met the noon train, drivin' Prince an' Nellie to the surrey. She gets off the cars all stylished-up, with great big muttonleg sleeves an' a lace parasol. She wouldn't kiss grandpaw because she smelt the nip he'd had at Pete's place before train time.

Soon's she got tucked in the surrey she starts goin' on about the Evils of Strong Drink, which she has learnt about up in Oak Park. Meanwhile she unfurls that dang parasol, which was enough for Prince an' Nellie, who's had too much train anyway. Away we went!

Right in front of Zeke Holcomb's the near front wheel hit that big ellum tree, the tongue broke, an' grandpaw went out over the dashboard still hangin' onto the reins. They drug him lickety-split thru the deep dust 'til they run a-straddle of an arc light pole, where two men grabbed 'em.

When Aunt Mathilda an' I got there, grandpaw was cussin' at a two-forty clip without ever sayin' the same word twice. She screeches, "Paw, are you hurt?" He stopped cold, took a long breath an' says:

"Tildy, this team will mosey along home with me, drunker'n a billy goat, from any place in Schuyler county. The minute you get in the rig an' start talkin' temperance, they run away. I don't blame 'em. An' if I ever hear another tarnation word of it I'll tan your sassy bottom."

ONE MAN'S CREED.

I do not love my country just because
Her lofty mountain peaks are free from flaws;
Or yet because her lakes like mirrors shine,
Reflecting in their depths the tow'ring pine;
Or is it that her rivers deep and wide
Are ever-flowing to the ocean's tide;
For these are wrought by nature's skilful hand,
And lavishly bestowed on ev'ry land.
I love my nation with a fervency
Because she hath proclaimed that I am free
To seek out my vocation as I choose
And take the consequences, win or lose;
To worship as my conscience shall persuade,
To cast my secret ballot, unafraid;
Tho my opinions all may be absurd,
My cherished right to speak may make them heard.
Without such blessings man reverts to rust,
With spirit sinking into lowly dust.

The Heidelmeier Legends.

About 35 years ago Der Obermeister, or Police Inspector Max Heidelmeier [Oct. 18], was in charge of the Hudson avenue district of the police department. One day Officer Clancy reported that he had found a dead horse on Blackhawk street and wanted to know what to do about it. The desk sergeant called to der inspector Max and said: "Officer Clancy has found a dead horse on Blackhawk street and he wants to know what to do about it. By the way, how do you spell Blackhawk?"

Max replied: "Dot makes no never mind. You just tell Officer Clancy to drag dot horse over to Halsted street. You know how to spell dot, yah?"

SUBSTANCES THAT IRRITATE THE SKIN.

INFLAMMATION of the skin, particularly among those engaged in industrial pursuits, appears to be on the increase. The explanation lies in the fact that certain individuals have not been accustomed to the materials with which they have recently been thrown into contact.

A woman worker, hitherto a housewife, may handle substances which are foreign to her experience. She finds that her hands are red, fissured, cracked, or perhaps covered with an eruption.

The beginning of the episode usually starts with itching. If anything out of the ordinary is observed, it will be a mere redness or smarting. Sooner or later, tiny blisters break out which will rupture, leaving a slightly raw surface. If irritation persists, scaling may come on, with possible extension of the lesions to the backs of the hands, the forearms, and other parts of the body.

We all realize that strong soaps may be disturbing. If every particle of suds is rinsed off, little harm will ensue. But many of us have the habit of washing the hands and face quickly, so that a film remains. In like manner, cosmetics, including hair tonics, lotions, etc., may become sources of trouble.

Again, many preparations which are designed to soothe, may produce exactly the opposite effect. Thus liniments or rubs, intended to ease internal congestion or dissipate muscle cramps, may act as irritants. Formulas prescribed by physicians for skin maladies [ointments, antiseptics, and numerous other chemicals—even the relatively harmless sulphur] must be thought of. If the body covering is rebellious to these drugs, it is necessary to banish them as the remedy may be worse than the cure. About the home there are many items that may be suspected, such as furniture wax, insect powder, shoe polish, paints, bathroom cleansers, etc.

Finally, we must consider wearing apparel and the dyes and dressings which are included in underwear, hose, furs, and fabrics. Even gloves have been known to contain chemicals which may bring on a severe dermatitis.

There is such a thing as seasonal sensitivity. This means that some of us will react more violently in the spring, others in the summer, and still others in the autumn and winter. For example, wool clothing will prove annoying to many youngsters. They simply cannot wear it with comfort and this has given rise to the manufacture of woolen garments with a cotton lining. Fortunately, this latter textile rarely causes blemishes.

Relief depends upon eradicating the offender. Thereafter, further contact is out of the question. A soothing [superfatted] brand of soap may be employed, followed by the application of a mixture composed of mineral oil and lanolin to which a few grains of zinc oxide may be added.

Of course, only a few will be affected, but when symptoms present themselves, the culprit must be identified and shunned.

Warning.

So they say tonight is Hallowe'en.
O, the cries I've heard and the sights I've seen!
What happens the night of All Saints' day
When the wind blows high and folks grow fey;
When the night goes riding toward its noon
And cobwebs spin across the moon?
O, it's when you think of the risks you've run,
Of the things you should have but haven't done,
Of the things which haven't happened—quite.
But they may tomorrow, they may tonight.
Blow out your candle! Lock your door!
Pray as you've never prayed before,
And maybe the Devil will pass you by.
But if he doesn't—good-by—good-by.

A $5 Sergeant.

Like to have an admiral or a general in your family? Commissions are being sold like mad these days for the bargain price of $100, and so far no court martial has ensued. For the moderate price of $25 you can acquire a colonel in the army, a captain in the navy, or even a lieutenant colonel in the lady marines, or, to descend to extremely base depths in the military caste, for $3—a corporal.

The matter came to this department's attention the other day when we ran into a gentleman who had obtained three army chevrons that way. For $5 he had been made a sergeant in the army. It was none of his doing, and he seemed extremely unconcerned and smug about it, for after all he had not even been eligible for the draft, but his family wanted a title, even if so obscure a one as sergeant, so there he is. For a while they considered buying him a generalship, but later decided it would be better to shove him up the hard way. They have promised him a second lieutenancy for Christmas, a feat which will require another $5.

This gentleman's name is Champion Redlands Defiance, a Sealyham terrier who belongs to Bob Becker, our dog editor two corridors over. For another $5 his kennelmate, Dawn of Kezar, a large black Labrador retriever, also acquired a title. Being a water dog, she became a chief petty officer in the navy. All of this entitles Mr. Becker to place two stickers in his window. Each bears the imprint of a dog's paw and means his dog has contributed, financially rather than bodily, to the Dogs for Defense war dog fund.

Few outsiders realize it, but the war department does not give a nickel to Dogs for Defense, that organization which already has sent thousands of dogs to war. The dogs who stay at home pay for their warrior brothers.

The ranks of this proxy dog army consequently know no limitations. It can struggle under as many five star generals as it gets $100 contributions, and has countless vice admirals at $75 a throw. [P. K. Wrigley has both an admiral and a general in his family.] However, the majority are privates or seamen, for families usually buy for their dogs the same rank as that of their sons on the field of battle. If the boy is a private or seaman, his dog becomes one for $1. And when the boy is promoted to private first class, or a third class petty officer, the dog is likewise, for another dollar.

CRAZIER AND CRAZIER.

Chicago, Oct. 26.—Now we hear that any one with a relative or friend in an allied country can send rationed foods to them without surrendering any stamps. Why deplete our small stocks any further? Lend-lease provides enough for those countries before we get ours. We were once told no goods should be bought by private individuals in a country with a ration system and sent abroad. Why change it now? It seems that they are trying to send everything out of this country as fast as they can. Then, they'll have the excuse that we'll need rationing, not for the duration of the war, but for the duration! People near the Mexican border are not allowed to get anything in Mexico without surrendering stamps as they cross the border coming home. One soldier's wife couldn't get a pair of shoes her husband sent to her from another country unless she surrendered her shoe coupon.

Packages sent to soldiers must not exceed a certain number of ounces. Yet canned goods and sugar may be sent to civilians in the same countries where our soldiers are stationed.

I think the insane asylum in or near Washington, D. C., has opened wide its doors.

HARVEST WITHOUT ACHES.

Chicago, Oct. 24.—I have just read the letter about war gardens by the one whose back aches. I returned from my garden with carrots and lettuce for our Sunday dinner. Our garden has supplied all of the vegetables for my family of five for the summer and has also supplied most of the vegetables for two of our friends, one with three in the family and another with two. In our basement we have about 200 jars of vegetables that were canned from our garden. They will keep and we will have plenty to eat thru the winter because of our garden.

I estimate this cost us about $7 for seeds, plants, and fertilizer, and the fact that we kept seven people from bidding for the supplies at the stores certainly did not boost the price of vegetables at the stores. The one whose back aches and some others should learn how to garden.

McHenry, Ill., Oct. 27.—It was my understanding that the early date set for mailing overseas Christmas packages to the service men was put into effect so that the boys would receive their presents on Christmas day. With this thought in mind I sent five packages to my fiance in Australia so that his Christmas away from home would be as nice as possible. Yesterday I received a letter from him dated Oct. 15 in which he mentioned having received the first of my packages. This would seem to be the start of his Christmas holidays and at this rate they'll be over by Thanksgiving.

TERRY'S ON THE JOB.

Warsaw, Ind., Oct. 25.—I was much interested in the letter this morning about the Terry cartoon strip, since I had made the same observation myself. I think I probably hold the record for attention to this cartoon. My son, who enjoyed it as much as I have, went into the army air forces two years ago and I have sent him every strip since. During his training period in the United States he had six other cadets who shared the strip with him, but since he has been in India [he is pilot of a Liberator in that area] the strip is posted on the army equivalent for bulletin board as soon as it arrives.

He tells me that all of the air forces prefer Terry to any other comic, not only because of the excellent story, but because of Mr. Caniff's fidelity to detail. Since Terry is now located in the CBI theater the boys there feel a proprietary interest in him. And Bill says, "He even has the pilots using the right kind of cigaret lighter!" They scan it closely in order to see if Mr. C. has slipped up on any detail, but so far have found not one. They asked me recently to let Mr. Caniff know how tremendously they appreciate his work and how much he helps keep up their morale.

THE LITTLE RED TEAM.

Greenwood, Miss., Oct. 24.—According to the New York World-Telegram a group of army trainees at Cornell university claim they are being indoctrinated with Communist theories by their teachers of the Russian language. This charge, if true, uncovers a menace to America, and should be made the subject of government action, not left up to the officials of the school.

We notice that the Communist sheet, the Daily Worker, was quick to spring to the defense of the accused teachers, which in itself should be proof that there is some substance in the claims of the students.

DEFENSE POUNDS AT DETECTIVE IN MARIGNY'S TRIAL

Presses Attack on His Finger Print Story.

NASSAU, Bahamas, Oct. 29 (AP).—Defense Atty. Godfrey Higgs today demanded that an American detective point to the exact spot on a figured bedscreen from which he lifted a finger print offered by the crown as evidence that Alfred De Marigny killed Harry Oakes.

De Marigny's murder trial was adjourned before Higgs reached the crux of a day-long cross-examination, but obviously he was attempting to show the print could not have been lifted from the screen, which stood in Oakes' bedroom the night of July 7-8 when the multimillionaire baronet was slugged and left to die on a burning bed.

The dapper defendant, Oakes' son-in-law, smiled as Higgs sent Capt. James O. Barker to the screen in the Bahamas Supreme court and insisted he indicate the place from which he lifted the print with adhesive rubber.

Points to Several Places.

His face flushed from the relentless questioning, Barker motioned to several places from which he said he might have raised the print without showing also the grooves and lines of the screen decorations.

"Take your time," Mr. Barker, don't let them rush you," cautioned Chief Justice Oscar B. Daly, who abruptly adjourned court when he indicated Higgs was pressing the witness too closely.

Higgs laid the groundwork for his questioning by asking whether irregularities in the screen would not show on the adhesive rubber or Scotch tape used to left the finger print. Barker said they could be shown. Higgs asked why the impression on exhibit did not show surface markings.

"Because it was lifted from a part of the surface where no irregularities would show," Barker replied after performing a "lifting" experiment on the screen.

Demands Full Information.

He pointed to one spot on the screen and remarked: "The exhibit could have come from this area."

"We want full information," replied Higgs.

The chief justice joined the two men at the screen as they measured to determine which spots where the one by three inch piece of rubber could have been used without lifting an impression of a decoration as well as a finger print.

Barker previously had testified he could not recall where he found the print he said was an impression of De Marigny's right little finger.

The finger print—Exhibit J—is the crown's most important evidence to connect the accused man with the slaying at Oakes' seaside estate, Westbourne.

"Where did your print come from?" asked Higgs, driving home again the fact that Barker has professed his anability to point to the exact spot on the screen from which he lifted the print.

"From the top portion of that panel," said Barker. "From my memory it was the top six inches of the panel."

Higgs previously had attempted to have the evidence thrown out because the print was lifted and no signs of it remain on the screen for the jury to view.

He also had questioned Barker's qualifications as an expert.

Some Prints Destroyed.

Higgs brought out that prints left on the screen previously by others probably were destroyed by humidity.

"If the accused were there that night, wouldn't his have been destroyed?" Higgs parried.

"We were fortunate to have found it," Barker replied.

Before turning to the finger print, Higgs sought to suggest to the jury that sunburn, and not the flames with which the slayer tried to destroy Oakes' bludgeoned body, might have caused signed and curled hairs reported found on De Marigny's arms, hands and face after the crime was discovered.

In the prisoner's cage, De Marigny rolled up his sleeve and rubbed the hairs on his arm when Higgs made this implication.

Marigny Not Sunburned—Barker.

Barker was describing the appearance of the burned hairs when Higgs interrupted:

"Could sunburn cause this brilliance of the hairs?"

"I don't deny that," Barker replied.

He added, however, that he was impressed by De Marigny's lack of sunburn.

"Nobody told you he was a yachtsman?" asked Higgs, triumphantly.

During his July 8 investigation of the slaying, Barker said, he made a microscopic examination of De Marigny's fingernails, but found no sign of blood or human tissues, but did find ash residue of some burned hairs on his arms.

Detective Burned, Too.

During his stern examination of Barker, Higgs attempted to convince the jury that the same kind of evidence the crown relies on to convict De Marigny could be used against any one else—even the prosecution's star witness. Higgs suddenly asked Barker:

"Are those marks on your hands burns?"

"Yes," replied the detective, explaining he "burned them on Oct. 3 while setting fire to some gasoline."

Referring to Barker's testimony that hairs on De Marigny's arms were singed, Higgs shouted in scorn:

"Here is a police officer with burned hands. Does that mean he has committed a crime?"

Justice Daly and each juror examined Barker's burned hands with a magnifying glass. Daly caused a ripple of laughter in court when he concluded his examination by remarking:

"Well, we can't place his hand in evidence."

U. S. INDICTS 3 IN MEAT BLACK MARKET DEALS

Charge Huge Sales of Unfit Carcasses.

Three men were indicted by the federal grand jury yesterday on charges of operating a huge black market in meat, and handling and distributing diseased meat unfit for human consumption. It was the first major crackdown on meat black market operations in the Chicago federal district.

Those indicted are Alexander Novak, recently of Rice Lake, Wis.; his brother, Edmund Novak, recently of Ladysmith, Wis., and Samuel Stern, veteran Chicago meat dealer, all doing business under the firm name of Novak Produce company, 841 Fulton street.

Excess Totals 300,000 Pounds.

Lewis J. Whiteman, a special assistant attorney general, and Richard G. Finn, an assistant United States attorney, who presented the case before the grand jury, said the Novaks and Stern had obtained fraudulent permits which would have enabled them, had they not been apprehended in time, to slaughter more than 6,000,000 pounds of veal calves in excess of their legal quota. Actually, the trio slaughtered about 300,000 excess pounds before they were stopped, Whiteman and Finn said.

The first indictment against Stern and the Novak brothers charges that between April 1, 1943, and June 10, 1943, they delivered or offered for delivery to six Chicago provision houses meat products prepared wholly or in part from meat which was diseased, unsound, unhealthful, and otherwise unfit for human consumption.

Use of Sick Calves Charged.

In preliminary hearings before federal licensing agencies, it was charged that the unfit meat was processed from sick calves, very young ones, and dead ones. Later those charges were used as a basis for the indictments, said Prosecutors Finn and Whiteman. Incidentally, only veal is involved in both indictments.

The second indictment charges conspiracy and 10 other specific offenses. The Novaks and Stern, it alleged, from March 5, 1943, to June 10, 1943, conspired to evade the requirements of the department of agriculture and the war food administration in the setting of slaughter quotas. To that end, the government charges, the defendants made certain arrangements with live stock buyers in Wisconsin, procured blank slaughter permits from them, and made false entries as to their 1941 slaughter.

Hinges on 1941 Volume.

The 1941 slaughter quota was a vital point in the alleged conspiracy, the indictment asserts, because 1943 quotas were fixed at 80 per cent of 1941 quotas. Thus the higher the 1941 figure, the higher the 1943 allowance.

Alexander Novak, it is charged, claimed to have slaughtered 1,466,680 pounds of veal cattle in 1941; Edmund claimed 1,530,120 pounds, and Stern 922,720 pounds.

Actually, it is alleged, the two Novaks slaughtered a total of only 200,000 pounds in 1941, so that their 1943 quota should have been 160,000 pounds. Stern slaughtered none at all in 1941, it is charged.

Their combined 1943 slaughter totaled more than 500,000 pounds, or more than 300,000 pounds in excess of the legal quota.

U. OF I. ACQUIRES 722 ACRE TRACT FOR AIRPORT

Urbana, Ill., Oct. 29 [Special].—Purchase of 722.57 acres for the development of the University of Illinois airport was announced tonight by the university's board of trustees. The land, in the area selected by the civil aeronautics administration and the war department, is about five miles southwest of the campus. It will be one mile square plus added acreage at the four corners for safety zones.

The total paid for the acreage was $245,971. The legislature had appropriated $250,000 for acquisition of land, based on plans which originally called for a field of 640 acres. Later, federal requirements necessitated an increase to approximately 780 acres. The present acquisition, however, is sufficient to proceed with construction. Small parcels of adjacent land to provide safety zones are in the process of purchase.

In addition to the state appropriation for land and a later appropriation of half a million dollars for buildings, the federal government allotted $600,000 for grading, drainage, construction of runways, and other improvements.

PRICE OF FOOD HAS NOT GONE UP, F. D. R. SAYS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29 (AP).—Consumer food prices have been held stable in the last few months, President Roosevelt asserted today in a news conference. He also disclosed that:

1. He has named War Food Administrator Marvin Jones as the American member of an enlarged Anglo-American combined food board, thereby giving Jones a greater voice in determining allied policies on food production, procurement, and distribution.

2. Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard, whom Jones replaces as the American member, will become the board's nonvoting head.

3. Hereafter Canada will have a representative on the board, along with Great Britain and the United States.

Says Food Prices Firm.

Mr. Roosevelt said that the actual cost of food in the last three months—a period which covers the tenure of Jones as food administrator—has gone up not at all or but a tiny percentage.

He told the conference that he plans to send to congress Monday his long awaited message on food. That message is expected to express the administration's determination to proceed with price subsidies despite opposition of a powerful congressional farm bloc, which prefers higher food prices.

Addition of Canada to the combined food board was announced jointly by Mr. Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill.

By replacing Wickard with Jones as the American representative on the board, the President moved to eliminate any possibility of a conflict between domestic food programs and policies—a responsibility of Jones—and those which otherwise might be advocated by Secretary Wickard, who now exercises no authority over this country's food programs.

Orders Allocations Body.

Mr. Roosevelt also took steps to eliminate the possibility of a conflict between Wickard and Jones over the allocation of American food supplies. He directed Jones to set up a foods requirements and allocations committee to pass on all claims.

Meanwhile, the administration's food policies underwent attack on Capitol Hill. The senate agriculture committee named a special five man subcommittee, headed by Sen. Allen J. Ellender [D., La.], to investigate the extent and purpose of aid this country is giving for agricultural development in other countries and to strive for increased nitrate imports for domestic fertilizer use.

The committee acted after Sen. George D. Aiken [R., Vt.] charged that administration food policies may result in "permanently transporting American agriculture abroad."

Mr. Roosevelt said his congressional food message will contain information showing that this country has been receiving lend-lease aid in reverse. Australia, he said, has been supplying enough beef and veal to feed practically all our troops based in that country.

FLYER INDICTED FOR SLAYING OF HEIRESS WIFE

New York, Oct. 29 (AP).—In six action-packed hours, Wayne Lonergan was paraded in police lineup today, arraigned in homicide court, and then indicted on a first degree murder charge in the slaying of his wife, Patricia Burton Lonergan, 22 year old heiress to millions.

Shortly after the grand jury acted, the prisoner informed General Sessions Judge Jonah J. Goldstein that he was destitute and signed the equivalent of a pauper's oath to clear the way for the court to assign him an attorney.

Lonergan, 26 year old royal Canadian air force cadet, yesterday related in a confession that he slew his wife in a rage over her refusal to permit him to see his son.

WITNESS TELLS OF $65,000 POOL FOR TAX FIGHT

House Group Hears About Aircraft Fund.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—A Democratic national committeeman and a former Democratic congressman—both from Iowa—were linked today with a $65,000 pool, which, according to testimony before a house subcommittee, was put up by four aircraft companies in 1940 for the purpose of obtaining a tax law amendment that would benefit the companies.

Details of the formation of the pool were unfolded before a house naval affairs subcommittee by Zeus Soucek, vice president of the Brewster Aeronautical corporation. Production difficulties of that corporation are being investigated by the group.

Under questioning by Rep. Robert A. Grant [R., Ind.], Soucek told the committee that Brewster Aeronautical and three other aircraft companies, at a time when the second revenue act of 1940 was nearing passage in congress, decided that they wanted an amendment that would reduce their excess profits taxes.

Paid to Ex-Congressman.

The four companies, Soucek testified, agreed to pay equal shares into the $65,000 pool. The entire sum, he said, was paid to William D. Jamieson, former Democratic congressman from Iowa and now a Washington attorney. Soucek explained he did not know what became of the money after it went to Jamieson.

Rep. Grant, however, has placed in the committee record portions of what he said is an "official government report" which states that the agreement called for payment of $30,000 from the pool to Frank J. Comfort, Democratic national committeeman from Iowa.

Declining to say what government agency or official prepared the report, Grant said it showed that $10,000 of the money was to be retained by Jamieson and $8,750 was to be paid to the New York City law firm of Olvany, Eisner, and Donnelly, by which Jamieson was retained.

Amendment Voted.

The revenue bill without the "desired" amendment, Soucek said, had already passed the house and was pending in the senate when the companies decided that "some action should be taken." Subsequently the amendment was adopted by the senate and written into the law. It permits companies making aircraft and other products to include advance receipts on government contracts in the base capital on which exemptions from excess profits taxes are allowed.

Soucek told the committee he went to the capital from New York City to confer with Ferdinand Tannenbaum, a member of the New York law firm and then a member of Brewster's board of directors, when the tax bill was before the senate. He was told, he testified, that $60,000 was needed to obtain the amendment. He did not explain why the sum actually raised was $65,000.

In Sioux City, Ia., Comfort said he had no comment to make on the statement that he had received $30,000 of the pool.

ARMY'S BUTTER RATION CUT TO 1.12 OZS. DAILY

Jersey City, N. J., Oct. 29 (AP).—The butter allowance for each soldier has been cut to 1.12 ounces a day, compared to 2 ounces in peacetime, the army announced today. This includes butter used as a spread and in cooking. The reduction was made in keeping with the quartermaster corps' policy of conserving critical materials.

In a statement accompanying the announcement, the Jersey City quartermaster depot said a 90 day reserve supply of butter is needed for army men in the United States and a larger reserve for overseas personnel because of transportation difficulties. The quartermaster corps has on hand 61 million pounds of butter and an additional 25 million pounds on order.

CITY TO TRAIN 53 POLICEWOMEN IN JUVENILE WORK

Judo and Gun Totin' on Curriculum.

Fifty-three pistol packin' mamas will study target shooting, judo, social legislation, and other phases of police work in Chicago's first policewomen's training school, which will open next week in the Central Police building. The announcement was made yesterday by Capt. John Prendergast, chief of uniformed police.

Capt. Prendergast predicted that the special training received by policewomen in the school will aid the city's efforts to wipe out juvenile delinquency. He said the school will emphasize instruction in social legislation, including the study of laws concerning the delinquency, dependency, or abandonment of juveniles.

Specialists in fields concerning juvenile welfare will be invited regularly to speak before the classes.

Will Visit Courts.

Arrangements have been made for the policewomen-students to visit courts and bureaus of the police department in order to obtain first hand knowledge of all phases of police work.

Altho Chicago's policewomen long have been ordered to carry guns, the training school's classes in target shooting will offer them their first organized practice on a pistol range. The students, 12 of whom are permanent policewomen, will be ordered by Police Commissioner James P. Allman to attend the school, which will meet two hours per day, three days each week for a 12 week period.

Instructing the classes will be Mrs. Lois Higgins and Mrs. Ruth Reister, both policewomen since Sept. 7, 1937. Mrs. Higgins, a graduate of Mount Mary college in Milwaukee, looks more like her home life self, the mother of two small children, than a policewoman.

Seeking Master's Degree.

Mrs. Higgins is an attractive brunette, 34 years old, and weighs 102 pounds. She met her husband, Frank J. Higgins, a bailiff in the police building, while on duty there. At present she is working on a thesis which will complete her work for a master's degree from Loyola university's social service school.

Mrs. Reister, a 33 year old widow and mother of a 4 year old daughter, did post graduate work at the University of Chicago after her graduation from Northwestern university. Prior to joining the police department she was supervisor of case workers for the Chicago relief administration.

Suit by Other Tenants Asks $580,000 in Fire

Suit for $583,223 was filed in Circuit court yesterday against the L. P. Friestedt company of 109 North Dearborn street by seven industrial companies and 45 insurance companies for damages resulting from a fire Jan. 9, 1942, at 3601 South Racine avenue. The suit, filed by the law firm of Myers and Snerly, alleges that the fire resulted from the carelessness of the Friestedt company's employes while working on the substructure of a tank at the Racine avenue address. The seven industrial companies occupied the building and were insured with 45 insurance companies.

CAPITAL WIRES HAVE EARS FOR TELEPHONE TALK

Various Offices Admit 'Listening In.'

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—Government officials are making increased use of dictaphones and concealed stenographers to obtain records of telephone conversations and remarks made by visitors, a survey of Washington offices indicates.

Some critics of the practice described it as merely bad taste and an invasion of private rights, but one congressman asserted that congressional inquiry might be justified. It was generally agreed, however, that no illegal acts are being committed.

"Recording of telephone conversations is completely abhorrent," Rep. Charles A. Halleck [R., Ind.], a member of the house interstate commerce committee, said. If definite information that the practice is widespread and harmful could be found, he added, a congressional inquiry would be in order.

Listen In on Extension.

Wire tapping, a violation of the communications act of 1934, is interpreted by authorities to mean the mechanical interception of telephone messages without the knowledge of either party to the conversation. Recording of telephone conversations to government offices is done with the knowledge of one of the parties and is accomplished by having a stenographer listen in on an extension.

No federal statute forbids the dictaphone recording of office conversations, an official of the department of justice said.

Sen. Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.], chairman of the senate interstate commerce committee, said that widespread recording of telephone conversations in Washington, is common knowledge, but that it was not an issue before his committee.

Raises Snooping Question.

John O'Connor, former New York congressman with law offices in Washington and New York raised the question of eavesdropping on telephone conversations in a letter to the New York Telephone company. He asked if it was true, as reported by a news columnist, that "all phone calls to Washington are recorded."

"I shall thank you to advise me of the real fact," he wrote, "not that, if it is true, it will in the least deter me from saying over the 'phone anything I desire to, including that most of the radical, starry-eyed, un-American New Dealers are continuing to undermine our form of government for their own personal and financial interests."

In a letter made public today, Arthur W. Page, vice president of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, told O'Connor that no telephone company permits "interception" of telephone conversations. He cited the communications act, which forbids unauthorized publication of communications. Page explained that the company uses the term "recording" to mean that a record is made of toll calls for billing purposes.

No Comment by FBI.

The federal bureau of investigation and the army and navy intelligence services would not comment on whether they resort to wire tapping in their investigations.

A justice department official however said that the FBI has an administrative ruling that no agent may tap a telephone wire without the approval of J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director, who must in turn obtain authority from the attorney general.

A supreme court decision in April, 1942, ruled that wire tapping evidence obtained unlawfully by government agents may be used in a criminal case against persons who did not participate in the intercepted communications.

F. D. R. PROMISES DECISIVE ACTION IN COAL STRIKE

Awaits Result of UMW Meeting Monday.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29 (AP).—President Roosevelt, warning that a letdown of coal production is not to be tolerated, declared tonight the striking coal miners must accept the war labor board's wage decisions as final.

If they do not, he said, "I shall take decisive action to see that coal is mined."

While the number of striking miners passed the 80,000 mark, and the United Mine workers high command arranged a meeting Monday on the WLB's decision which UMW President John L. Lewis has rejected, Mr. Roosevelt wrote Chairman W. H. Davis of the WLB:

"We are short of coal to meet our war needs.

"We must have more coal.

"We can no more tolerate the letting down of coal production than we can tolerate letting down of the shipping of supplies to our fighting men."

Awaits Miners' Decision.

Mr. Roosevelt said, however, he would not take "decisive action until after the meeting of the policy committee of the miners next Monday."

He thus handed up to Lewis and his associates a decision on whether to stop the nation's fourth coal strike of the year now.

At the same time he appealed to the miners indirectly to disregard any leaders who counsel against the war labor board's recommendations, saying:

"Certainly in war time, the miners will not take the position that they will sign no contract other than one dictated by their leaders. We are at war, and all of us must make sacrifices for our common good and common safety."

Offsets Lewis' Report.

To offset Lewis' report to his memberhip that the WLB's decision against the proposed Illinois mine wage agreement [which the UMW wanted applied to the whole industry] meant a decrease in hourly rates, the President wrote:

"The board has indicated it will approve the Illinois contract with modifications which will give the miners for a 51 hour portal to portal 6 day week, $54, which is $8.50 a week more than they are now receiving for 42 hours actual work at their working places in the mines. It is about $2.50 less per week than they would receive under the Illinois contract as it was submitted. But we must recall that already $1.50 per week has been added to the rates prevailing under the old contract by reason of the adjustments previously allowed by the board.

"There is no basis for the assertion that the board's proposals involve in any way a reduction in the basic rates that the miners are receiving."

Steel Mills Short.

Mr. Roosevelt concluded his letter to Davis as follows:

"I am confident that when the patriotic American miners realize the substantial increase in benefits the board's proposal offers them they will not reject the opportunity to secure a contract.

"But if I am mistaken and the miners do not accept the board's proposals, I shall take decisive action to see that coal is mined."

Today's spread of the soft coal strike hit heavily for the first time in Pennsylvania where steel mills estimated they had coal stockpiles for only six to 11 days' operation.

To assure supplies of heating fuel for communities on a basis of need, the solid fuels administration for war today ordered the freezing of domestic sizes of bituminous coal and anthracite in cars at the mine, pending distribution orders.

MARKHAM ORDE, EX-EXECUTIVE OF CAR LINES, DIES

Markham B. Orde, former Chicago traction executive, died yesterday in his home at 486 Greenleaf avenue, Glencoe. He was 76 years old.

Mr. Orde became treasurer of the Chicago Union Traction company in 1899, retaining the post when the company reorganized and became the Chicago Surface Lines. He remained as treasurer of the surface lines company until recently.

He was prominent in social and civic affairs, and served as president of the Glencoe village council for two terms. He was a member of the Union League and the Hamilton clubs.

Surviving are two son, D'Arcy of Winnetka, and Markham B. Orde Jr. of Newark, O., and two daughters, Mrs. N. Landon Hoyt Jr., of Winnetka, and Mrs. Brownell T. Bradstreet of Detroit.

W. S. HEFFERAN FUNERAL TO BE HELD ON MONDAY

The funeral of William S. Hefferan, 6631 Harvard avenue, an attorney in Chicago since 1886, who died Thursday at his home, will be held Monday at 11 a. m. in St. Bernard's church, Stewart avenue and 66th street. Burial will be in Mount Olivet cemetery.

Mr. Hefferan was born in Chicago Jan. 15, 1865. He received his master's degree at St. Ignatius college and his law degree at the Union College of Law.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Helen Maley Hefferan, a former member of the Chicago board of education; a son, William S. Hefferan Jr., Wilmette; a daughter, Mrs. Herbert C. Paschen, Hubbard Woods, and four grandchildren. Another son, Lt. Thomas E. M. Hefferan, was killed in action in World War I.

REPORT 100 PCT. TAX VALUATION BEING PLANNED

There'll Be Important News, Assessor Says.

Reports were current in the county building yesterday that County Assessor John S. Clark may assess all property in Cook county at 100 per cent of full valuation for 1943 tax purposes. At present, assessments are reduced to 37 per cent of their full value before tax rates are figured.

Clark would not confirm the reports, but said an important statement would be issued in a few days. It is known that the assessor feels that the present assessment system, using 37 per cent of full valuation, serves no useful purpose while the big local taxing bodies are operating on pegged levies—in effect ceilings on spending.

Would Boost Bonding Power.

However, the 100 per cent valuation would give tax spenders a new advantage. The bonding power of the city of Chicago is 5 per cent of total assessed valuation, or well under 100 million dollars. Under a 100 per cent system the bonding power would increase to more than 250 millions.

At present the county assessment on which taxes are levied approximates 2 billion 300 million dollars; the city of Chicago equalized valuation [37 per cent of full valuation] is about $1,891,000,000. The tax rate in Chicago has risen to $10.42 on the $100 valuation, which is the rate necessary to raise 191 millions of taxes under the pegged levies.

With a full 100 per cent valuation for tax purposes, the total assessment in the city would be roughly 5 billion 110 millions and the $10.42 tax rate would be dropped to about $3.72. Civic and political leaders often have expressed belief that Chicago gets bad publicity because strangers suppose the tax rate is based on full valuation.

A new line of attack to increase tax collections started yesterday when the county started filing suits for receivership against 300 properties owned by the Chicago park district. Under the Skarda act, the courts may name the county treasurer receiver for tax delinquent properties. The treasurer then collects rentals until the taxes are paid.

Withholds $400,000 from Parks.

Assistant State's Atty. Joseph Burke said the back taxes involved were liens against the properties when they were acquired by the park district. He estimated the taxes involved were more than 2 million dollars.

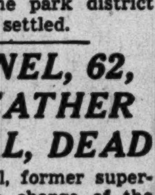
John Rees, an attorney for the park district, conceded the district owes some back taxes, but said the principal sums due, exclusive of penalties, would not exceed $300,000.

Rees said most of the cases involved properties purchased prior to 1930, and that in certain of the cases, the county was seeking to collect taxes improperly assessed after the parks acquired the property.

Meanwhile, Victor L. Schlaeger, county treasurer, is withholding distribution of approximately $400,000 of tax funds to the park district until the dispute is settled.

C. A. DONNEL, 62, LONG WEATHER OFFICIAL, DEAD

Charles A. Donnel, former supervising forecaster in charge of the federal weather bureau in Chicago, died yesterday in his home at 6140 Kimbark avenue after an illness of two years. He was 62 years old, and had been in the weather service 40 years.



Charles A. Donnel.

Mr. Donnel came to Chicago in 1930, succeeding the late Prof. Henry J. Cox as weather chief. He suffered a stroke in July, 1941, while on vacation in British Columbia, and retired in March, 1942. He was an ex-president of the United States Department of Agriculture club and the Federal Business Association in Chicago.

On the occasion of his retirement the United States government officially noted, "Fidelity to duty and efficiency have been his criteria in service to the public, all of which has been appreciated by the people and the government."

Funeral services for Mr. Donnel will be held at 8 o'clock tonight in the Woodlawn Methodist church. Mr. Donnel leaves his widow, Hattie L., and a daughter, Mrs. Elva Woy.

Service Centers to Hold Costume Dances Tonight

All of the trappings of Halloween, from fortune tellers' stalls to horror chambers, will be on hand for the entertainment of 22,000 service men this evening at the three Chicago Service Men's centers, Daniel L. Flaherty, director, said yesterday. Costume balls are planned for the centers at 176 West Washington street, 430 South Michigan avenue, and 50 East 49th street.

Northbrook Man Is 105th in County to Die of Polio

A Northbrook man, 33 years old, died yesterday, the 105th fatality from infantile paralysis in the county this year. Chicago has had 84 deaths and the suburban area 21.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Anna Lynch.

Mrs. Anna Lynch, 70 years old, mother of two city policemen, died yesterday in Englewood hospital. She made her home at 7814 Emerald avenue. She was the widow of John J. Lynch, a former assistant superintendent at the Stockyards postal station. One son, Gerald S. Lynch, is a detective assigned to Grand Crossing police station. The other, Joseph, is a detective at the Hyde Park station. A daughter, Miss Margaret Lynch, also survives. Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. Tuesday in St. Leo's church, 78th street and Emerald avenue.

Olaf E. Ray.

Olaf E. Ray, a Chicago attorney since 1890, died Thursday night in Swedish Covenant hospital. He was 87 years old. His home was at 5374 Lawrence avenue. Mr. Ray was born in Norway and came to the United States in 1881. He was a delegate to the Bull Moose convention in 1912 and a Progressive Republican candidate for county commissioner in the same year. In 1924 he was a La Follette candidate for elector. Two daughters, Aneta and Aimee, survive. The funeral will be at 3 p. m. Monday in the chapel at 4338 Fullerton avenue.

Frank Batdorf.

Services for Frank Batdorf, who founded the Batdorf Painting and Decorating company more than 60 years ago, will be held at 1:30 p. m. Monday in the chapel at 5200 North Western avenue. Mr. Batdorf died Thursday in his home at 4154 Cottage Grove avenue. He was 82 years old. He leaves two sons. Mr. Batdorf was one of the organizers of Princess of Syracuse, junior order of the Knights of Pythias, and served as supreme regent of the junior order in 1930.

Donald M. Carter.

Donald M. Carter, 75 years old, member of the firm of Parker and Carter, patent attorneys at 8 South Michigan avenue, was found dead yesterday in his apartment at 1361 East 50th street, by his partner, Norman S. Parker, 1641 Hinman avenue, Evanston. Mr. Carter, who was born in Collinsville, was unmarried. He was one of the organizers of a patriotic group for preparing native born persons for citizenship, and a member of several clubs.

Samuel Galbraith.

Services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Monday in the chapel at 214 East 115th street for Samuel Galbraith, who was known among fraternal associates and others as "the Chicago Harry Lauder" because of his Scottish impersonations. Mr. Galbraith, who died Thursday, was 70 years old, a veteran employe of the Pullman company, and lived at 10739 State street. He leaves his widow, Isabella, three daughters, and a son.

James H. Knight.

James H. Knight, 58 years old, son of the late Clarence A. Knight, who was president of the Northwestern Elevated Lines, died at Mayo clinic, Rochester, Minn., Wednesday night. He was a brother of Mrs. L. Sherman Aldrich, 531 Grove street, the only survivor in his immediate family, and with whom he made his home. Mr. Knight was a bachelor. He was in the oil business.

BOY WOUNDED; POLICE ACCUSE ANOTHER YOUTH

Henry Mitchell Jr., 14 years old, 1933 South Drake avenue, was in County hospital last night with a gunshot wound in the leg, inflicted, Marquette police said, by Walter Gluzinski, 15, of 1740 West 18th place.

Police said Mitchell and Walter Pasterek, 15, of 1620 West 21st street, had gone to the Gluzinski home and were taunting Gluzinski and his mother, when the shooting occurred.

Mrs. Gluzinski declined to permit police to enter her home without a search warrant. Police said that juvenile officers will be sent to the home today to take Walter Gluzinski into custody.

Quarrel Over Woman; One Stabbed, One Seized

John Dooley, 29 years old, 4852 Quincy street, was arrested by Stock Yards police last night after Robert Bassett, 25, of 4073 Wells street, was stabbed in a quarrel between the men in the home of Dooley's estranged wife, Helen, 26, at 4089 Wells street. Dooley, who accused Bassett of attempting to break up his home, stabbed him twice in the right lung. He then took Bassett to Chicago hospital.

FOLKS MARY, 92, SERVED SO LONG WEEP AT BURIAL

Kept One Thing from Her in 76 Years.

Yesterday afternoon in the sun-flecked chapel at Rosehill cemetery, last rites were held for Miss Mary Wintres, who died Thursday at the age of 92 years. Miss Mary wore her favorite dress, a red and blue check, and her soft, dark hair, just edged with gray, was brushed back. A pale rosebud crossed her chest.

The chapel wasn't crowded, because most of those who had been her friends had gone before. But the entire Mayer and Oppenheimer families were there, and they cried as families always cry in sun-flecked funeral chapels. Technically, Mary wasn't family, but her 76 years of service to four generations had made her more than that.

Joined Family at 16.

The services were presided over by Edwin Mayer, the grandson of Mary's first employer. Now a La Salle street lawyer, he had been one of her charges. He read the 23d psalm, and prayed, and then he commented on the things that had endeared Mary to the family.

She came into their life as a slender girl of 16, when she left her native Algiers, La., to work in New Orleans for Mrs. Simon Block. Her main chore was the care of Mrs. Block's young daughter, Cecile. The years made Mary and Cecile the closest of friends. Almost a half century ago, when Cecile married, became Mrs. A. N. Mayer, and moved to Chicago, Mary came with her.

She devoted herself to Mrs. Mayer's children, and later to the son and daughter of Mrs. Mayer's daughter, who had become Mrs. A. M. Oppenheimer of 327 Sheridan road, Highland Park, her final employer.

She Liked Sad Movies.

Conversation veered yesterday to Mary's famous southern cooking. Her treatment of shrimp gumbo soup and fried chicken are something long to be remembered, the family said. Mary liked flowers, and gardens, and movies that brought tears, and she hated wars and bloodshed and trouble.

She knew most things about the family, but she didn't know that Mrs. Oppenheimer's son, Arthur, had been transferred from the United States to New Guinea. The family hadn't told her, because she was ill, and loved Arthur and hated war.

SWIFT FUNERAL IN U. C. CHAPEL THIS AFTERNOON

Funeral services for Gustavus Franklin Swift, vice chairman of the board of Swift & Co., meat packers, will be held at 2:30 p. m. today in the Rockefeller Memorial chapel, University of Chicago. He died Thursday in his home at 1551 Astor street. He was 62 years old.

Mr. Swift entered the firm founded by his father when he was 17. Training in the operating department was followed by a transfer to the administrative department. Successively, he became vice president, president, and vice chairman.

He leaves a widow, Marie; three daughters, Mrs. Richard Moore of Chicago, Mrs. Thomas Taylor and Mrs. Robert Spiel, both of Lake Forest, and a son, Gustavus Swift Jr., of Washington, D. C., besides three brothers, all identified with Swift & Co., and two sisters.

CITY WILL HONOR JEFF SEAVER, AID SINCE '09, TODAY

Harold A. [Jeff] Seaver, who began work for the city as a junior stenographer in 1909 and has been secretary to nine commissioners of public works, will retire Monday after 34 years of service. This afternoon he will be honored by city officials at a party at the headquarters of Ald. Joseph P. Rostenkowski [32d], 1347 Noble street. Seaver, who is 56 years old, lives at 2702 Agatite avenue. He and his wife will live with their daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Smith, near Boring, Ore. A son, John Seaver, is a city pumping station engineer.

2 WOMEN, BABY DIE WHEN TRAIN DEMOLISHES CAR

Young Mother, Child Crash Victims.

Two women and a baby were killed yesterday afternoon when the car in which they were riding was demolished by the Pennsylvania railroad's Liberty Limited at the Virginia street crossing, near Virginia and 23d streets in Gary.

Wreckage of the automobile was strewn for a mile along the right of way.

The victims were Mrs. Wilfred Ehrsman, 20 years old, 806 Harrison street, Gary; her 18 month old daughter, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Marjorie E. Rice, 3481 Connecticut street, Gary. Mrs. Ehrsman is believed to have been driving the car.

The engineer of the train told police that the Ehrsman car was following another car across the tracks. The crossing is protected only by flasher signals.

Greater Menace than War.

Automobile accidents remain a greater menace than war to human life, the National Safety council asserted yesterday in releasing a survey on the national auto toll for the first nine months of 1943.

Since the attack on Pearl Harbor, the survey shows, 21,940 Americans have been killed in battle, and 65,170 others—not including prisoners—have been wounded or are missing. In the same 22 months period 46,000 have been killed in motor accidents and 1,600,000 others injured.

The safety council's report disclosed that 15,890 lives were lost during the first nine months of 1943. This is 26 per cent below the comparable period of 1942 and 43 per cent below the same period of 1941. The public can derive little credit for the current reduction of 26 per cent, the report stated, because driving mileage dropped 36 per cent during the same part of the year.

Chicago Ranks Fifth.

Chicago shared in the general reduction for the first nine months of the year, standing fifth among major cities with a decrease of 34 per cent.

Joseph Maretta, 43 years old, food store owner of Marseilles, La Salle county, died yesterday in St. Joseph's hospital in Joliet of injuries suffered Thursday night when the automobile he was driving crashed into an abutment of the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern railroad on route 66A, one mile north of Joliet.

BROTHERS START TERMS FOR JAIL BREAK ASSAULT

Two teen-aged brothers yesterday began to serve sentences after pleading guilty to charges of assault with intent to murder Sheriff William A. Maier of Kendall county. Nelson Jeffries, 16 years old, and his brother, Joseph, 15, were sentenced Thursday by Judge Win Knoch at Yorkville and brought to the state prison at Joliet to determine where the terms would be served. Nelson, who confessed stabbing Sheriff Maier in an attempted jail break Sept. 2, was sentenced to 5 to 14 years and his brother was sentenced to 4 to 14 years.

Peeping Suspect's Bond Forfeited Over Protest

Judge John R. McSweeney of the Municipal court, yesterday forfeited the $200 bond of Fred Zalinski, 23 years old, 2354 Seminary avenue, when Zalinski failed to appear to answer a charge of disorderly conduct. His attorney protested that Zalinski actually was in a hospital undergoing a corrective operation to enter the army, so that he could not appear in court. Zalinski was arrested on complaint of peeping into the window of a young woman.

McCutcheon's Cartoon Show to Revive Era

BY JUDITH CASS.

ADDING interest to an exhibition of cartoons and drawings by John T. McCutcheon, dean of American cartoonists, which will open with a private view and reception tomorrow at the Chicago Historical society, will be dresses worn by some of Chicago's best known women during the years depicted in the cartoons, from 1900 to 1938. Mrs. McCutcheon's beautiful wedding dress of traditional white satin is in the center of one group of costumes. A gray hobble skirt in which Mrs. Charles S. Dewey made a charming picture three decades ago and the brown lace gown in which Mrs. J. Hamilton Lewis bowed at the court of St. James's in 1934 are on other wax figures.

Also in the collection are the dress in which Mrs. Ambrose C. Cramer bowed to society as Miss Mary Meeker, an original Schiaparelli which Mrs. Howard Linn wore in 1936, a 1920 evening gown worn by Mrs. Henry Murphy, a pink satin frock worn by the late Mrs. Robert R. McCormick in 1924, and a black velvet evening gown, also of the year 1920, worn by the late Mrs. Henry Dibblee.

Mr. and Mrs. McCutcheon and Joseph M. Cudahy, president of the society, and Mrs. Cudahy will start receiving at 5 p. m. Also assisting, either at receiving or pouring tea, will be Mrs. John Lord King and Mrs. Clay Judson, sisters of Mrs. McCutcheon; Mrs. Linn, Mrs. Richard T. Crane, who just has returned from Maine; Mrs. John Paul Welling, Mrs. Carey Orr, Mrs. Charles B. Goodspeed, Mrs. James A. Field, Mrs. Charles E. Brown, and Mrs. James Ward Thorne. Included among the cartoons will be such famed ones as Jack Frost, Hunter's Moon, and Injun Summer, which will be reproduced in color on the front page of tomorrow's Graphic section of THE TRIBUNE.

Mr. McCutcheon marked the arrival of his first grandchild, the daughter born to Lt. and Mrs. McCutcheon Jr., on Oct. 15 in New Orleans, La., in the "grandfather" cartoon that appeared on THE TRIBUNE'S front page yesterday.

On the Calendar.

Also on the calendar for tomorrow is a breakfast at the Drake which will benefit the Misericordia hospital. The ballroom, Tower room, and French rooms will be filled by friends of the hospital. Twenty young men from the naval reserve school at Northwestern university have been invited. Their partners will be the pretty young women who will be selling cigarets and flowers.

Mrs. J. Paul Fogarty and Mrs. Charles J. Holland are general chairmen of the benefit. Some of those who have made reservations for the breakfast are the Robert Foleys, the Vincent A. Bremners, the George H. Kiefers, Mrs. Stewart Colnon, whose husband, Maj. Colnon, is in Australia; Miss Marie Plamondon, Miss Mary Amberg, and the Lawrence O'Tooles. Mrs. O'Toole is general chairman of the Mount Carmel parish party, to be held Nov. 17.

The Saddle and Cycle club will celebrate Halloween with an old fashioned barn dance tonight after dinner. Guests have been asked to come in blue jeans, or equally informal clothes, to enjoy the pumpkin and cornstalk decorations and the square dances. Mrs. Henry R. Gross, who has been head of the entertainment committee, and Mrs. Gross have gone to Florida for the winter. In charge of the committee now is Mrs. Hugo Vogel.

At a Halloween luncheon today to welcome Mrs. Michael Mason, the incoming president, and bid farewell to her predecessor, Mrs. Roy Dickey, the Cordon club will introduce 12 young women who have been awarded a year's membership at the club for showing unusual promise in creative arts. Chosen to receive this honor are Maureen Daly, Tribune writer; Susanne Zimmerman, actress; Carol Silver and Ruth Paldi, pianists; Virginia Sellers, Shirley Dickinson, Harriet O'Rourke, and Gisela Wittich, singers, and Marian Storck, Frances Rose, Barbara Kroscher, and Marian Witt, artists.

Future Events.

Saturday, Nov. 27, is the date set for the annual card party for the benefit of the Cenacle convent. It will be given this year at the Lake Shore club, with Mrs. Bolton Sullivan of Winnetka as general chairman. Mrs. William Roy Carney is chairman of the reception committee. Others assisting with the benefit, at which about 1,000 guests are expected, are Mrs. George D. McLaughlin, Mrs. Henry C. Murphy, Mrs. R. Joseph Rich, who is ticket chairman; Mrs. Louis H. G. Bouscaren, Mrs. Herbert McLaughlin, Mrs. Harry L. Drake, Mrs. Hempstead Wasburne, Mrs. Britton I. Budd, Mrs. Edward Hyde Ball Jr., and Miss Leonore Cudahy.

The Russian Trio's season of six concerts will start with a program at 11:30 a. m. Wednesday at the Arts club. The concerts are presented under the auspices of the Chicago Chamber Music society, of which Mrs. Sanford Gifford is the new president. Mrs. Walter S. Brewster is vice chairman of the society, and Mrs. Ewart G. Walls is secretary and treasurer.

Combining her hobby with volunteer war work, Mrs. Frederick W. Edwards devotes two evenings a week to photography at the U. S. O. center at 131 South Wabash avenue.

Mrs. F. W. Edwards.

She has charge of a Saturday night project whereby service men are photographed by amateurs, who contribute both their time and the materials. The soldier or sailor then receives the negative and one print, while a second print is sent to his family.

Since she has been in charge of the Saturday night portrait plan, an average of 12 service men has been photographed each time, and many grateful mothers and wives have written to her of their appreciation.

Mrs. Edwards has been giving her time to the center since last Christmas, and in the months since then has provided an amateur photographer on all except one occasion, when she stepped in herself to do the work.

Both Mrs. Edwards and her husband are advanced amateurs and she joins him on Tuesday evenings at the center, where they advise service men in the Camera club studio, giving pointers on lighting, exposures, and other photography techniques.

Amateurs who are willing to devote time to the Saturday night project may write to Mrs. Edwards at 7007 Sheridan road, or call her at Rogers Park 1299.

The bond booth committee of the women's division of the war finance committee of Cook county will open an all-nations booth Monday inside the Washington street entrance of the Chicago public library. National groups will take charge of the booth in alphabetical order, with Armenian women starting things off at the opening. Miss Verna Donian will be the chairman.

The bond booth committee had two stations in the loop from May 10 thruout the summer, selling more than $1,500,000 in bonds and stamps for the treasury.

Plans are being formulated for all-nations programs to be given in conjunction with the booth in the library in the months to come. The Assyrian group is scheduled to take charge of the booth Tuesday. Because the chairman of the unit, Mrs. Jennie Jacobs, is ill, several young women of Assyrian extraction will substitute for her.

Ten women and one man yesterday completed the latest war training course in engineering drafting at the Illinois Institute of Technology. Mrs. Margaret Griesel, a graduate mechanical engineer, who formerly was head of the Illinois Tech program training women as draftsmen, was speaker at the graduation ceremonies, which followed a 10 a. m. breakfast at Carson Pirie Scott & Co.

The 11 trainees paid no tuition to take the course, for so urgent is the need for draftsmen that the United States office of education, thru its engineering, science, and management war training program, underwrites the costs.

Yesterday's graduates, all from the Chicago area, were: Miss Eva Boulter, Miss Thelma Farr, Miss Melba Fink, Mrs. Pearl Hoffman, Miss Dorothy Jubert, Mrs. Lenore Kidder, Miss Dorothea Koehler, Miss Viola Lundh, Miss Norma Shaw, Miss Jeanne Anne Wilson, and Mitchell Danyluk.

Announcement has been made of the appointment of Mrs. Melville Mucklestone as chairman of the women's division of the Illinois civilian WAC recruiting committee. Ferre C. Watkins, executive director of Gov. Dwight H. Green's committee, made the announcement.

Mrs. Mucklestone, past national president of the American Legion auxiliary, will have a large committee of prominent club women from 39 statewide groups to assist her in a drive to enroll Illinois women in the WAC.

Gov. Green is now on a tour of Illinois, leading the effort to obtain 4,260 WACs by Dec. 7. Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff, has appealed for a national quota of 70,000 new recruits.

Quiz Kids Step Lightly Over Weighty Foes!

BY ARTHUR VEYSEY.

Exactly 343 pounds of Quiz Kids took on almost half a ton of Chicago businessmen at the Executives' club in the Hotel Sherman ballroom yesterday. Altho the half a ton included, by the club's own admission, the bulk of the organization's brains, the four kids showed that in their total of 41 years they had amassed more than twice the knowledge the four executives had gathered in their total of 212 years.

The exact score was 205 to 80. So lopsided was the result that there were mutterings among club members that the questions had been rigged, an accusation which Joe Kelly, the kids' guardian, emphatically denied. "Everything was entirely spontaneous," he said. "The kids are just smart, that's all."

The executives, however, began offering alibis even before the brain battle. Tom Mulroy, club president, wired from Washington asking the kids to go easy. "It's bad enough getting kicked around in Washington without having my colleagues kicked around at home by a bunch of kids," he said.

Nathaniel Leverone, board chairman of Automatic Canteen company and one of the club's brain experts, introduced himself as old enough to know better while Harold O. McLain, president of Railway Ice company, put up a shatterproof alibi by recalling an old saying that any fool can ask the wisest man on earth a question the wise man can't answer.

Getting promptly into politics, Walter Botthof, board chairman of Standard Rate and Data service, suggested in answer to a question that Prentiss Brown, until recently price dictator, was among the business men who had taken Washington jobs. But Richard Williams, 13 year old Quiz Kid, objected, saying, "Brown was no business man; he was a senator."

The corrections went on all afternoon. Teacher Kelly asked why Henry Clay was never President, and Phil Hanna, a financial editor and fourth man on the club team, cracked: "He's the guy who said he'd rather be right than President."

Quiz Kid Harve Fischman, 13, waved his hand violently. "You're wrong," the youth said. "He never was President because he couldn't get enough votes." In reply, Hanna asked the number of senators, and when Harve said 96, Hanna said, "You're wrong; 47 senators and 49 rubber stamps."

Later Hanna advanced Pierre Beauregard as an American general, but Harve again protested. Strictly a Yankee, the youth said Beauregard was no American, he was a Confederate. Leverone suggested the late Gen. Smedley Butler and quickly supported his statement by saying: "He was from Philadelphia, but that's in the United States now." Harve nodded approval.

Ruthie Duskin, age 8, rattled off names of biblical people so fast even Leverone, brought up on the Bible in New England, was astounded. A literary quotation baffled all except the youngest brain truster, Pat Conlon, 6, who promptly identified it as from Shakespeare's "Macbeth."

When Teacher Kelly asked who was Du Barry's lover, Harve said, "I suppose you mean King Louis XV." And out of the wisdom of 13 years added: "But a girl like that has quite a few boy friends."

At the end of the session the club experts were given a chance to quiz the kids. "I'd like to ask," said Leverone, "if Franklin D. died, would Eleanor become queen regent?"

"Let's keep this serious," protested Teacher Kelly.

"It might not be for a New Dealer," retorted Leverone, "but for an old-time Republican, the question is darn serious."

The question, however, went unanswered. Even the kids didn't know.

Mrs. Edward White's Wedding to Maurice McGrath Revealed

The news that Mrs. Edward Joseph White and Maurice Kolb McGrath were married Tuesday will come as a surprise to their many friends. The wedding was a quiet one, with the Rev. Dudley S. Stark officiating, and Mr. McGrath and his bride have left for Palm Beach, Fla., to remain for the winter.

One of the bride's daughters, Mrs. George A. Bates, came from St. Louis, Mo., where she and Maj. Bates now are living, for the ceremony, but the other daughter, Mrs. William J. Grigsby, whose husband is a lieutenant in the army, was not present. The Grigsbys are living in Lawton, Okla. Mrs. McGrath is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvyn Clark McIntosh of Evanston. It was the second marriage for both Mr. McGrath, a widower, and the former Mrs. White, a widow.

By long distance telephone, Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Lockett Jr. learned of the marriage on Thursday in Las Vegas, Nev., of their son, Lt. David Lockett of the army air forces, and Miss Charlotte McRary of Baltimore, Md. Mr. and Mrs. Lockett have not yet met their new daughter-in-law, but they hope to see both her and Lt. Lockett next spring. Lt. Lockett attended the Andover school and Colgate university. He is stationed in Las Vegas.

Miss Margaret Linné Lindstrom, daughter of the Adolph Lindstroms of Skokie, and Colin Ian Finlayson, son of the John Finlaysons of Chevy Chase, Md., will be married at 4:30 p. m. today in the chapel of the First Methodist church, Evanston, with the Rev. Ernest Fremont Tittle officiating. A reception will follow in Glenna hall. The bride's sisters, Mrs. John D. Osmond of Moorestown, N. J., and Mrs. Thomas Winfield Thackery III., will be matron of honor and bridesmaid. Mr. Thackery and Cadet Theodore I. Lindstrom of Lexington, Va., will be among the ushers. Mr. Finlayson and his bride will live in Decatur, Ill.

The marriage of Miss Frances Anne Blim, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Blim of North Artesian avenue, to Ensign Robert J. Marguerite, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore J. Marguerite of Skokie, will take place this morning in St. Timothy's church, with a wedding breakfast and reception following at the Georgian hotel. Ensign Marguerite was graduated Wednesday from the naval air school at Corpus Christi, Tex. He and his bride will fly to his new post at Jacksonville, Fla.

Miss Blim will be attended by Mrs. L. Allen Perraud as matron of honor and by Mrs. Robert J. Evenson and Mrs. V. James Seng III. as bridesmaids. Theodore J. Marguerite Jr. will be his brother's best man, and another brother, John Edward, will be in the bridal party along with Miss Blim's brother, Thomas; Mr. Evenson, and Frank Stein.

In a ceremony tonight in the Winnetka Congregational church, Miss Barbara Ingersoll, daughter of the Roy C. Ingersolls of Winnetka, will become the bride of Lt. Ernest A. McClintock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. McClintock of Oak Park. A reception will follow in the Ingersoll home. Mrs. John W. Coffin will be her sister's maid of honor. The other attendants are Miss Georgia Pettibone, maid of honor; Miss Catherine Rhodes of Memphis, and the bride's niece, Lynn Ingersoll of Kalamazoo, Mich., flower girl. Lt. McClintock and his bride will live in Carthage, Mo.

New Belts Get Big Play from Younger Set

BY REA SEEGER.

The youngsters who collect Sinatra records and exchange the jive and jitterbug expressions of the hour are, as shoppers, collecting belts. Some sage or researching savant might prepare a discourse on this, to prove a theory about the whims and fancies of the hep cats. But we think this rage for belts merely proves that something new and smart always clicks with knowing shoppers.

Wait until you see these belts before you sniff. They're swank rib rounders that spell magic for these plain sheath dresses devoid of anything extra because of priorities. A decorative belt redeems the stodgiest frock. First, in inexpensive braid belts, you'll find a color range that baffles proper description. The braids are fancy, fancier, and some times fantastic in pattern, color, and design. But the modest little price mark hits the spot where the smallest cash supply hides.

For unbeatable swank, see the leathers, pigskin, saddle leather, and softest kidskins. Or try the trick braided leather belts sent from Mexico and the leather belts studded with pieces of fake jewelry. Nail head studded affairs using gold or nickel metal are a flash seen around any waistline.

For super luxury, check the fur belts. Of course you should have a handspan waistline to wear these belts, but you can try them, and if need be, diet down to fit them. A wide white rabbitskin belt has gold metal buckle and eyelets to match. Pony skin in brown or black is combined with smooth kidskin, lambskin in brown and white or gray and white, leopard—all are slick accents for skirts and blouse combines. To add glamor to luxury see the fur belts studded with huge fake sets of rubies or emeralds or the jeweled belts of turquoise, coral, and pearls, or the very breath taking leather belt finished with two hand painted Chinese medallions which, in turn, are outlined in bead work.

White Collar GIRL

Paradox.

O' why can I always sleep so sound
On Monday morn thru Friday
And then wake up at the crack of dawn
On Saturday which is my day
To stay at home and sleep till eleven—
I'm wide awake at quarter to seven!
What is the spiteful spirit which moves
My eyelids to pop like buds
While out of my trundle bed I bounce
And hustle into my duds?
O' why should I only be minutes ahead
Of the clock on the day I can stay in bed?

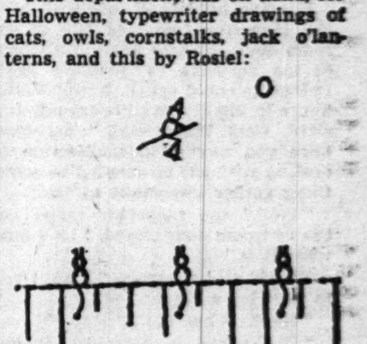
This department has on hand, for Halloween, typewriter drawings of cats, owls, cornstalks, jack o'lanterns, and this by Rosiel:



Girl About to Lose a Job.

Recently I needed a new assistant. It was a promotion for a young woman in the firm, but these are the things she does which probably will result in a demotion shortly:

1. When people come into the office we share [to talk with me] she sits at her desk, all ears, and chimes in with her contributions to the conversation.

2. When told to do something a certain way, she does it her way; or, if she does follow our established routine, she remarks [to show her utter contempt for the procedure] that it is "silly." She didn't learn it that way in her commercial course and by gosh she isn't going to be told to do it by some old fuddy-duddy like me!

3. She has been asked not to carry on extended personal telephone calls. Yet, every noon, when I return from lunch, I find her hanging on the phone in one of those "What-did-you-do-last night?" telephone marathons.

4. She wants to assume authority she is not capable of assuming, but she won't look up a word in the dictionary or check a telephone number in the directory. It's easier to ask me.

5. She thinks her education gave her all-encompassing knowledge. She can't spell or pronounce the slightly difficult words, knows [and cares] nothing whatever about office etiquet, gets angry if she is asked to stay even a few minutes past closing time.

In short, this is the only job she has held, yet she doesn't try to learn a thing. Nevertheless I see before me a potentially good business woman if she could learn tact and learn how to go along with the ebb and flow of the office in which she is employed, at least until she has worked long enough to be able to make or suggest intelligent changes in routine. "The Chimney Crashed"

By Alice Ormond Campbell

[Copyright: 1943: By Alice Ormond Campbell.]

INSTALMENT XXXVI.

RONALD TALKS.

"Five to choose from." Sgt. Peters spat accurately thru the windows. "Think they know which is responsible for these jobs?"

"If one of 'em is on," the inspector replied slowly, "I'll cast my vote for our nosy friend."

"Molesey." A razor glance. "What makes you pick on him?"

"He looks sick. You take a look at him. I'm letting him get a little sicker," added the inspector dryly, "before I start putting him thru the mill. Ned! Just you nip upstairs and make sure there's been no recent tampering with those crates. It's just occurred to me Brockett may have got his stray gold piece from up there. We can't let ourselves be flummoxed, not till we know if that alibi of his is going to stand up."

"Brockett's alibi? What does he say?"

"That on Monday night and again on the Tuesday he went along back to the same deep shelter he's been using before—that's to say, the private one, Auberley Court Flats. The drawback is, he seems to have had the place entirely to himself, and tho the porter spoke to him both times as he was leaving, he admits it wasn't till about 10 a. m. Late, you see."

Keeping his locked case with him, the inspector reopened the living-room door. He was uncertain which of his suspects to question next. Before he could speak, however, the figure in khaki moved brusquely forward. Capt. Warre said, "Inspector, have you any serious objection to dealing with me at once? I've something rather important to say."

"Well," the inspector rasped as the bedroom door closed, "let's hear what it is."

Ronald said squarely, "I want you to look for a boy."

"Boy? What boy?"

"His name is Harold Lovejoy. Here's his Devon address, but I should doubt if he's there. I'd go after him myself if this business weren't hanging me up. Look, inspector, am I to consider myself under arrest?"

"You and your friends," growled the detective, "are being detained for questioning. What's this young Lovejoy mean to you? Think he can be relied on to alibi you for three separate and distinct nights?"

"Alibi me? No! I want to return him safe and sound to his mother . . . if," . . . pointedly . . . "it's not some hours too late. Better register this, inspector, at once: You'll be eager to know how I happened to be exploring a ditch 50 yards off a little used road. How, in short, I chanced on Gallus' body. The answer is, I was trying to connect with this same boy Harold, who had lost a knife in those woods and had wanted to go back and find it. Possibly you noticed his initials, H. L., carved on the first big beech tree?"

A tentative spark appeared in the inspector's eyes. "H. L., eh? O, I saw those new letters."

With crushing contempt the inspector then observed that it would be time to start inquiries about Lovejoy when his family declared him missing. Warre showed no astonishment when confronted with his two secret night returns.

"Miss Fripp saw me, did she? I query that; but it's of minor importance since I've no wish to deny I was here. As to the secret part of it, I'd have considered that fairly obvious. My spending my first night in the cottage hinged simply on the fact that I located Foxgloves at a perfectly unholy hour and prevailed on Miss Dancey to give me a shakedown. She very nearly hoofed me out. When I barged into you on the doorstep I'd had a run round in my car and was making my official appearance. Last night I came back on purpose. Things I'd noticed made me believe these two women might be in danger. I tapped on a window and woke Miss Dancey up."

"She was not expecting you, then?" demanded the inspector, with sarcasm.

"Believe it or not, Miss Dancey and I had large cups of coffee left over from lunch, sat by the fire, and within a matter of minutes fell into a profound stupor."

"You did!" The Dorset detective's voice held outraged skepticism. "You and your companion. You didn't pour off two cups and wash it down the sink?"

"Leaving sufficient in the jug for you to collar and get analyzed. Thanks, inspector, you've told me exactly what I wanted to know. Miss Dancey and I drank that coffee in order to keep awake. It had the precise contrary effect. Who's to blame, inspector, if we wanted to sit up and prevent a burglarious attempt on the cottage?"

"It's been at no time suggested," was the shrewd retort, "that the Tuesday attempt didn't prove successful. It seems to indicate that you and Miss Dancey realized it hadn't come off. A pretty damaging admission, Capt. Warre. . . ."

Over the Thistle wire Enticott crumbled. "I can't hold them, major. Not on the evidence in hand. The most I can do now is to issue orders that as material witnesses none of the five is to quit the locality. I've made it clear that the first to make a break will find himself in the lock-up. There's no doubt the haul was made last night. Gallus made it, the stuff was taken from him before he could bury it, and spirited away somewhere else. There's also no doubt that one of this crowd doped the coffee at least one of the two resident women could be expected to drink. That some one had made preparations. You can't walk into the local grocery and buy chloral hydrate over the counter. It's equally certain we can't say which of the three who claimed to have been drugged is telling the truth.

"As you know, sir, I hadn't wanted to let this case get out of my hands. I could have solved it easy, only now it looks as tho. . . . As you say, sir, its roots seem to be in London. All tangled up with the pack-up of her ladyship's furniture, maybe, as you've been hinting, with her ladyship herself. The Yard will work in with us, but I'm much afraid it'll come simpler, and quicker, if we ask them to take charge. That is your view?"

"Decidedly, inspector," came over the line. And then, "Awkward job just now having to charge an officer in the armed forces."

"Most awkward. Or an American citizen, come to that."

"American?" The chief constable seemed suddenly to rouse. "The Dancey girl! Hold everything, inspector. I'm coming round. . . ."

Clapp, the landlord, came in from the bar to remark that the telephone appeared still to be working properly.

"O? When will that have been?"

"Couple days ago. Some time yesterday skinny chap found a little loose connection and managed to put her right. A-using phone he was minute or so before army captain got thru to Dorchester about Gallus. You and sergeant likely to make a catch?"

According to Culbertson

[Copyright: 1943: By Ely Culbertson.]

When a declarer has reason to think that the opening lead was a singleton, he should get out the trumps as quickly as possible, avoiding all finesses that are not strictly necessary. Otherwise he is apt to meet the fate that befell South in the following typical deal.

North, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

NORTH
♥ K Q J
♦ A Q 10 8

WEST
♠ 6 3 2
♥ A 9 7 5

EAST
♠ Q 8
♥ 10 3 2
♦ J 7 5 4
♣ J 10 9 6

SOUTH
♠ A J 10 5
♥ 8 6 4
♦ K 9 3 2
♣ Q 7

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 diamond	Pass	1 spade	Pass
3 spades	Pass	4 spades	Pass
Pass	Pass

West opened the diamond six, a lead that should have been highly significant to declarer. An opening leader does not usually attack in the opponents' suit unless he has a definite objective, which, generally speaking, is the hope of ruffing the second round. South, however, chose to ignore the storm signals. He won the first trick with his own diamond nine, cashed the trump ace, and then let the jack ride for a finesse. East swooped down with the spade queen and promptly returned a diamond. West ruffed and just as promptly cashed his heart and club aces, thus setting the ironclad contract.

To lose this type of hand in such fashion is one of the most reprehensible as well as most humiliating acts in bridge. Here was a case in which declarer could well afford to surrender a spade trick, a heart, and a club without jeopardizing his contract. The only substantial danger was that the opponents could grab a fourth trick thru a ruff. It was possible, of course, that if declarer laid down the ace and king of trumps and followed up with a third round, he might run into a 4-1 break, with West holding four trumps to the queen, which would let him win the third round, then put East on lead [if East held the heart or club ace] and get his diamond ruff in that way. Against this, however, there was the mathematical fact that a 3-2 break of a suit is much more probable than a 4-1 break, and the secondary psychological fact that a defender does not usually open a singleton if he holds four trumps to the queen.

If declarer, taking warning from the diamond lead, had properly cashed the ace and king of spades, merely in an effort to get out trumps as quickly as possible, he would have been rewarded with the drop of the queen and the fulfillment of his contract with an extra trick.

Mrs. Bert T., Chicago—Have been getting my family's fleece lined gloves ready for the first snow flurry. Made some dry suds, turned them inside out and gave them a good cleaning. A tooth brush got rid of dirt between fingers and of course I dried them away from any direct heat. A soft brush made them fluffy again.

With the current shortage of citrus fruits we recommend that our family of two working persons buy a large can of grapefruit juice and a large can of tomato juice to fill their vitamin C requirements. This will permit generous servings for four breakfasts and the surplus may be used as cocktails for an evening meal.

Bride Elect

Miss Beverly Jane Rupp.

Miss Beverly Jane Rupp's engagement to Ensign William Craig Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irving W. Lee of East 80th street, has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Rupp of Madison, Wis. Miss Rupp attended Stephens college and was graduated from the University of Wisconsin. Her fiance received his commission from the naval reserve midshipmen's training school at Northwestern university and is stationed in Miami, Fla. He is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin. The wedding will take place in the late fall.

Lonely Soldier Keeps Marital State Secret

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1943: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

They meet at an army camp dance—at a canteen or thru one of the organizations whose mission is to make life pleasant for the man on leave.

The girl likes the man. She invites him to her home. They go swimming or dancing, walking and the like. He is invited by her parents and accepts the invitation. He makes himself at home and becomes well liked by the entire family group. Then, presto, he turns out to be married.

That's a fairly common pattern of letters we receive. The girl has let her feelings run away with her and fancies she's been victimized.

We hold no brief for the man in uniform who poses as single and misrepresents himself. We think, in or out of uniform, he is pretty much of a cad, even tho he never made advances to the girl. It's just the idea of not putting his cards on the table squarely and decently when he is accepted into family circles.

However, we do think girls could use their heads better and keep their emotions keyed to the straight business of doing their hospitable bit for the service man. Girls don't have to go overboard emotionally just because the man seems nice. If they are grown up enough to attend the dances, they should be grown up enough to act in an adult manner. They should realize the men are far from home, lonely and welcome the time-fitting gesture of hospitality.

If the service man has made no advances other than the conventionally friendly ones, the girl certainly has no right to feel she's been deceived, as Ruth confides. Ruth's service man, probably seeing the girl's personal interest, broke down and admitted he was married. Ruth is unhappy. She had every right as an adult to ask the man in the first place if he were married.

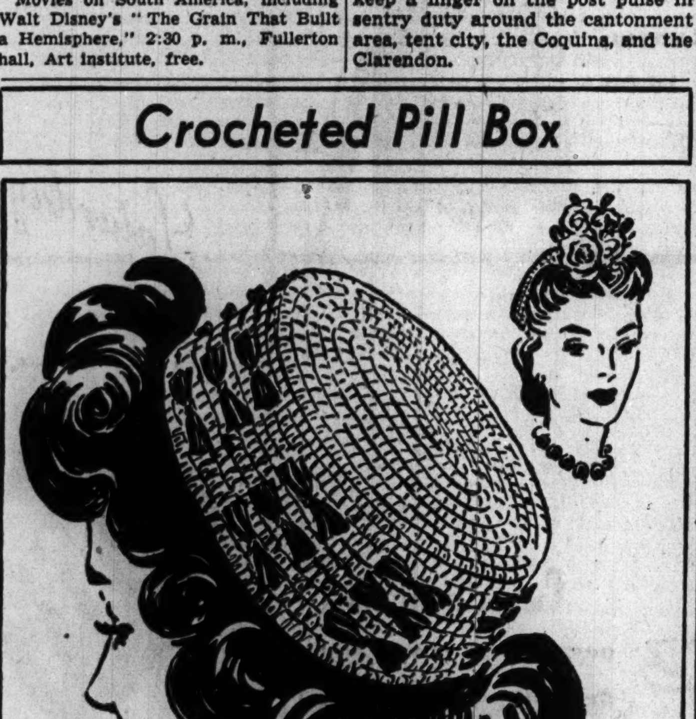
Crocheted Pill Box



BY ELLEN BRUCE.

The crocheted pill box is still one of the top ranking hat favorites. The younger set whose heart dotes on bows can have the hat trimmed with rows of velvet bows. For the more dignified treatment, three flowers perched atop the center front is an effective trimming.

For instructions in crocheting the pill box hat, No. 1119, send 10 cents in stamps or coin, plus 2 cents to cover mailing cost, to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

WACs Enfold Daytona; Base Still Growing

BY MARTHA MURPHY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Dayton Beach, Fla., Oct. 29.—Daytona is wrapped in WACs. The GI Janes of the second WAC training center have surrounded the city and infiltrated into its heart in the year since they first marched into Florida.

The ladies of the army have cleared Daytona's western jungle border and thrown up a cantonment area, pitched tents on the southern slopes along the Halifax river, and swept into the surf on the east with a lifeguard school.

Residents of Daytona attend a WAC variety show once a week. They see WAC exhibits and WAC parades. They listen to WAC radio programs and entertain WACs in their homes.

This WAC post is unique in many ways besides its geographically wide spread encampments and absorption into the city. It is the only WAC center with a tent city. It is the only one to have a lifeguard school and to use a beach as a driving range.

New recruits are processed at the tent city. For the first three or four days of their army life, these women live in a world almost completely under canvas. They learn to handle tent guy ropes, raise and lower flaps, and adjust mosquito bars over their double decker bunks when an insect invasion sweeps in from the Everglades.

Tent city's cadre, a permanent nucleus of noncommissioned officers, does all maintenance work. They patch tents, spray them with waterproofing liquid and paint, and haul them back on the beam when a wind blows the center sections sideways. They learn to "grub" — dig out palmetto bushes and weeds that spring up under the tents, and teach the recruits to "pick rocks" — clear the company streets of debris.

Upon completion of processing, recruits are sent to the cantonment area with its maze of army barracks, for five weeks of basic training and possible assignment to the cooking and baking and typing schools or other specialized training.

A few may go to the lifeguard school in the former Clarendon hotel. Many are assigned to motor transport training in the former Coquina hotel in Ormond Beach. Others are sent into the field.

Women assigned to the lifeguard corps must be swimmers strong enough to buck the surf which hammers the beaches. They must learn to use a life buoy in such a way that the surf cannot catch it up and swing it onto the head of either victim or rescuer. They must swim with a victim in and out of the piling of Daytona's longest pier, swim with their clothes on, and complete Red Cross lifesaving and first aid courses.

Motor transport training is known as a "glamor job" despite the tire changing and motor trouble shooting it entails. In the six weeks' course, WACs learn to handle army motor vehicles ranging from jeeps and command and reconnaissance cars to two and a half ton cargo trucks.

Actual practice involves driving on the wide, hard beaches, and mastery of a bumpy, sandy range slashed thru dunes and jungles. Motor transport graduates are sent into the field as drivers and dispatchers or retained as instructors.

Even cooks' and bakers' school has a special savor at Daytona. Because of the heat, forays into the refrigerator rooms are even more pleasant than at other WAC posts. The chefs share in the special hour and a half noon time interlude allowed to offset the effects of drilling and working under a hot sun.

Cooks and bakers learn the mysteries of cooking in field kitchens. They spend a week working with dehydrated foods, testing new combinations and recipes. They learn to build field fly traps of canvas and wire and to string up a bread cage in a tree as a protection against possible foraging animals.

Trained typists retained at Daytona have a hand in all post activities. They, perhaps, come closest to the commanding officers, Col. E. T. Barco and Maj. Elizabeth Strayhorn.

Like all other WACs here, they keep a finger on the post pulse in sentry duty around the cantonment area, tent city, the Coquina, and the Clarendon.

Two 'Sister' Fashions

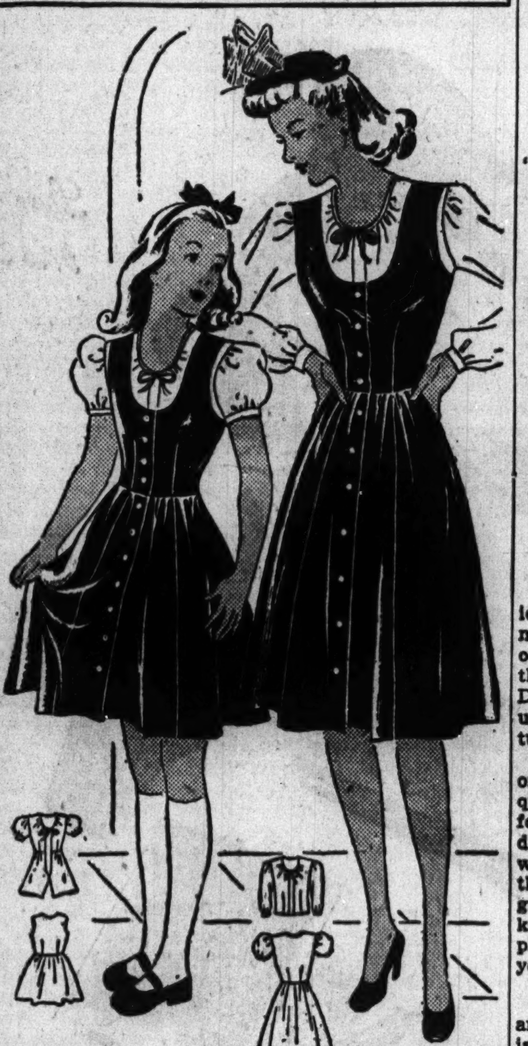
Big sister shares her new smart frock with little sister in today's pattern suggestions. Both are front-buttoned jumpers with round necklines. The blouses to contrast have full sleeves, either long or short, and bow-tied, round necklines.

Style No. 3444 is designed for sizes 6 to 12. Size 8 requires, for jumper, 1⅞ yards of 35 inch material; for pantie-blouse, 1⅝ yards of 35 inch material.

Style No. 3443 is designed for sizes 10 to 20. Size 16 requires, for jumper, 3¼ yards of 35 inch fabric; for blouse, 1⅞ yards of 39 inch material.

Each pattern is 10 cents, plus 2 cents for mailing.

Order Clotilde patterns from Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central Annex, NEW YORK CITY. Print name and address; state size. Each pattern is 10 cents, plus 2 cents for mailing. The pattern book is 15 cents, 10 cents if ordered with pattern.



Help the First Child Adjust to Second Baby

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1943: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"Connie used to be such a merry child and was so well-behaved I rarely had to scold her," writes a mother. "But lately she cries a lot, and we almost think she is naughty just for the fun of it. Of course I can't be with her so much now since our baby boy arrived, but I look after her welfare as assiduously as ever."

Definite kinds of behavior have been noticed to appear when, in some families, the second baby comes along. Many persons who do not dig below surfaces will discount the fact that anything radical happens to the first when a second baby is born.

To those it might be interesting to learn that the effect we're talking about is not just a matter of unconscious discontent or an open jealousy on the second child's part. In fact, a begrudging emotion, such as jealousy, is not always the usual response. Two marked ones, for instance, are a reversal in toilet habits, and new meal time difficulties.

The wise mother of a second baby will watch herself closely to see that she does not become so swamped by excitement, interest, details and perhaps fatigue that the first child feels set aside.

The practical point is that she actually hasn't as many hours to devote to her elder child as she had before. This is quite normal and as it should be. The fact remains, however, that a new second baby means new adjustments for the first child, and it is the business of both mother and father to keep this in mind in their relation to the older youngster.

Woman's Symphony Proceeds Will Go to Paralysis Foundation

All of the net proceeds of the Woman's Symphony orchestra season will be given to Cook county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, it was announced yesterday by Mrs. Albert H. Ullrich, president of the orchestra.

The first concert of the 18th season will be given Nov. 10 at Orchestra hall, with Hans Lange as guest conductor and Dorothy Maynor as soloist.

Mrs. Edward M. Whiting is giving a Chinese dinner tonight for Mr. and Mrs. Lange, with many members of the Woman's Symphony board among the invited guests.

Pirates' Ball Arranged for South Shore Club

The stage in the South Shore Country club's ballroom will be rigged up to imitate a cave tonight for the club's Pirates' ball. The 1,000 merrymakers expected at the party have their choice of dressing in costume or wearing evening clothes.

Music Note

Moishe Oysher, celebrated cantor, will appear in recital at the Civic Opera house this evening at 8:30, assisted by Aaron Rosen, violinist.

Thru the Looking Glass

When you shop for a cleansing cream do you unconcernedly choose the first one you come across or have you made up your mind beforehand just what you want the cream to do and then shop until you've found exactly the right product for your needs? If you belong to the latter class you're a wise shopper but if you're in the first group, don't bother reading any further.

In this area most of us want a cleansing cream that does more than superficially cleanse the skin. We want a cream that is really a deep cleanser and will help to lubricate the skin as it wipes away the day's accumulation of dirt.

Perfect answer for a product to meet the above requirements is a cleansing cream that comes in two versions; one for oily skins and the other for dry or normal skins. The type intended for dry skins is a rich cream but not a heavy one. It's pretty and pink and whipped to a frothy lightness that makes it easy to work with. Use it generously [it's, inexpensive enough to be so used without a qualm of conscience] and work it in slightly to help loosen soil and grime. Allow the cream to stay on for a few seconds and then wipe it off in a few quick sweeps with cleansing tissues. The skin will be beautifully cleansed and will feel soothed and softened. Of course this bit of lubrication is not to be expected to do an adequate job of oiling a dry skin, but every little bit helps.

The makers of the cream state they have concocted their creams with an attempt to free them from irritants to which sensitive skins and allergy sufferers may be susceptible.

Good Morning!

Let me sell you a good old fashioned detective story thriller this morning! "Old fashioned," really, only in a manner of speaking, for this piece brings Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's famous Baker street sleuth up to date—as recent Holmes pictures have been doing.

In a gloomy English country manor, turned over by its owners, the queer Musgraves, to the government for the housing of convalescent soldiers, Mr. Holmes and Dr. Watson—who is in charge, since for the time they've deserted their mutual diggings—solve the mystery of who killed a couple of cock robins and plans to do away with another, yclept Sherlock Holmes.

The action keeps you interested, amused, and guessing. Mr. Holmes is unusually peppy. Probably has been taking his vitamins. . . . Basil Rathbone sees to it that his every screen moment counts. He plays straighter than usual—not so much tongue-in-the-cheek stuff—and the picture ends on an earnestly delivered homily from him to Watson. Good stuff! . . .

Nigel Bruce makes Watson his usual lovable, helpful, sometimes blundering, but always devoted and well meaning self. . . . Hilary Brooke and Milburn Stone [who looks like John Wayne]—in roles of romantic persecutees—are effective. . . . Slick work by Gavin Muir, Halliwell Hobbes, and several others.

The usual dumb inspector is present as one Lestrade, played rather inoffensively by Dennis Hoey. SOME TIME there'll be a mystery movie featuring an intelligent policeman and won't that be nice.

"Sherlock Holmes Faces Death" is directed with a nice touch—and please don't let the title scare you. For when Sherlock faces death, death of course, yips, puts its tail between its legs, and runs away.

See you tomorrow.

Women to Launch Drive Monday for Food Conservation

A campaign to conserve food will be started Monday by Cook county women's organizations in coöperation with the war food administration, the office of civilian defense, and the office of price administration, the WFA announced yesterday. It will be called the "Food Fights for Freedom" campaign, and its slogan, adopted yesterday, will be, "Produce and conserve, share and play square with food." The OPA estimates that 20 to 30 per cent of all food produced in the United States is wasted on farms, in distributing outlets, or in eating places and homes. Of the 1943 food production in this country, 13 per cent is going to the military services, 75 per cent to American civilians, 10 per cent to lend-lease, and 2 per cent to "friendly neighbors," the OPA has reported.

Looking at Hollywood

By Hedda Hopper

Hollywood, Cal., Oct. 29.—Darryl Zanuck is making headway casting "Woodrow Wilson." Ruth Ford [Mrs. Peter Van Eyck] plays Margaret, who's still somewhere in India; Mary Anderson takes the role of Eleanor McAdoo, and Madeleine Forbes plays Mrs. Francis Sayre. Cornelia Otis Skinner is testing right now in New York for the second Mrs. Wilson. Cornelia is just about to sign for Queen Elizabeth in new play "Elizabeth and Leicester," to be produced by Margaret Webster. . . . David Hempstead has chosen Edward Dmytryk, now directing Ginger Rogers, to handle the megaphone on "Elizabeth Kenny." Dmytryk is as enthusiastic about the story as Hempstead. . . . Steve Hannagan persuaded Ann Sheridan that press agents can be pretty nice guys. Remember the row Ann had with Bob Taplinger, who overdid the "oomph" campaign? Ann's much more than an oomph girl. I'd like to see Warners team her up in a picture with Humphrey Bogart. . . . The hilltop home Rudy Vallee bought from Ann Harding is up for sale. Too big, says Rudy, for a coast guard lieutenant.

Mary Anderson.

Gone Gooey on Us.

George Sanders goes romantic in "International Zone" with Virginia Bruce and Lenore Aubert, and besides, sings and accompanies himself on the piano. I hope he sneaks in a couple of his own songs. He claims he got that social leer from listening to Dwight Fiske in London cafes. Don't give us that, George. Your father told us you were born with a sneer. He won't re-sign with Twentieth Century. He's to move into Diana Fitzmaurice's beautiful house, which Tommy Dorsey recently vacated. . . . Glenn Anders, not John Garfield, plays in Saroyan's "Get Away Old Man" which has had several revisions from its original script. . . . Now that "Outrageous Fortune" is gone, Maria Ouspenskaya is headed our way. . . . Showing how far the moral bars have been let down, "Lady Chatterlee's Lover" is about to be produced in San Francisco.

Change of Pace.

Leatrice Joy Gilbert, hankering for a screen career, has decided to make it a matrimonial one instead. Without waiting for her divorce, she rushed down to Mexico for one of those quick marriages to Morton Carabel of the marines, with Maj. William Ryan as best man—without her mother's blessing or knowledge. She's 19. . . . Ed Gardner's in the groove, giving a literary tea from 3 to 5 tomorrow for "Duffy's First Reader." Invitation actually read "Tea." . . . Florence Bates, who made an outstanding hit in "Rebecca," has been to the blood bank eight times. Nice going, Florence. . . . When Paul Henreid, a dead man in "Outward Bound," was asked for an interview, he replied, "Dead men tell no tales." . . . "The Desert Song," with Irene Manning and Dennis Morgan, will be a New Year's gift.

Let's Be Fair Dept.

"Johnny Come Lately" isn't the best of the Cagney pictures, but it's cleaning up, and Director William K. Howard deserves some credit. After all, he directed it. It's teamwork that counts. Without that, Jimmy wouldn't have won the academy award, which our actors voted him. If Howard is given credit for a job well done, he'll get more pictures. . . . Since Gypsy Rose Lee will play "Belle of the Yukon," I'm wondering if she'll have same difficulty she had before. Came out to work for Twentieth Century. Hays office ordered a change of name to Louise Hovick. She wore so many clothes she looked like an overstuffed sofa. But since Barbara Stanwyck made "Lady of Burlesque," we're more broadminded, and who knows—maybe Gypsy will be allowed to do a strip tease, or perchance teach Dinah Shore how to do it.

Still at It.

Reginald McAlister of London recently visited the Disney studio. Told about jealousy the Australian soldiers feel toward the Yanks since the latter monopolize the Australian girls—and vice versa. During the showing of "Bambi" in Sydney, when the mother deer had been shot and little Bambi called, "mother! mother!"—some guy in the gallery yelled, "Don't worry, kid! she's probably out with a blooming Yank!" . . . Dined with Hope Loring and the Howard Greenlaws. He was Gen. Chennault's assistant with Flying Tigers in China. She wrote "Lady and the Tigers."

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cleveland, O., Oct. 29.—Sunshine, a delightful commodity as rare in Cleveland the last two weeks as purchasable tickets to the 17th annual Notre Dame-Navy game, busted loose today. The promise is for an ideal setting for the Irish and the Middies when they square off before more than 80,000 in Cleveland Municipal stadium tomorrow at 2 o'clock, Cleveland and Chicago time.

Bob Kelly.

Weather is perhaps more of an item than usual. For one reason, weather news is no longer a product of the black market, as it was at the time of the 1942 Notre Dame-Navy game here. That day 70,000 customers got a good soaking and couldn't even read about it in the papers.

Help to Hamberg.

Then, too, good weather also makes for better football, especially when the opponents are up in sharp, tricky stuff. Take the case of Hal Hamberg, the Navy's triple threat half back. He weighs 150 pounds, no fit heft for mudding against sloshing behemoths. With the dry turf Hal is promised for tomorrow, he has at least a chance to put on some of his sprinting acts, complete many passes that couldn't be tossed with a wet ball and he may also do some kicking, least successful of his three ply versatility to date. Of course Coach Frank Leahy and his boys have heard about Arkansas Hal, and the Irish defense may stir up a storm for the flashy bantam. But it can be said that the weather man, at least, is going to do his best for Hamberg.

Hamberg, of course, won't enjoy any corner on the benefits to be derived from autumn rays. There's that fellow, Angelo Bertelli. Last year he worked with a soggy football well enough to lead the Irish to a 9 to 0 victory. But tomorrow he will be giving his farewell performance as a Notre Dame star. It will be pretty fine for the artistic aspects of the good-by if Angelo can clasp a nice, dry football and even more advantageous for those assigned to clasp and hold Angelo's tosses.

Former Cleveland Results.

Navy had exactly four teams at the workout in the stadium this afternoon. It is said to be the first time in history that Annapolis has presented more man power than Notre Dame. The Irish, who arrived here late this afternoon, will have only 37 men to throw against Navy's 44. One of the aforesaid 37 is Bob Kelly, star half back from Chicago's Leo High school, who became eligible at Notre Dame this week.

The game tomorrow will be the fifth Navy-Notre Dame match played in Cleveland's lake front stadium. Crowds of up to 78,257 [the 1939 turnout] never have seen the teams more than 12 points apart at the finish. Here are the past scores in Cleveland stadium:

1932—Notre Dame, 12; Navy, 0.
1934—Navy, 10; Notre Dame, 6.
1939—Notre Dame, 14; Navy, 7.
1942—Notre Dame, 9; Navy, 0.

Each team is undefeated in five games this season. The Irish have rolled up 228 points to their opponents' 25; their lowest total, 35 points against Michigan and their highest 55 against Georgia Tech, the two teams that have scored against them. The Navy has scored 129 points against its five adversaries and has tolerated the scoring of 40 points by its opponents.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 29.—There will be a Western conference football game here in Memorial stadium tomorrow between the Universities of Illinois and Michigan. There have been other such clashes between the Illini and Wolverines, ranging over a 46 year span in which Michigan has won 19 and lost 9. But there's a different atmosphere to the morrow's contest, for Fritz Crisler and the Michigan eleven, stocked heavily with military training material, will be meeting an Illinois team which is a miracle squad by the fact that 11 boys will appear on the field.

Harking back to midsummer, when it was a highly debatable question whether the Illini would be able to field a team, they have once again proved themselves worthy of their nickname. They have come on thru six games, winning from Pittsburgh and Wisconsin, while losing to Notre Dame, Iowa Seahawks, Camp Grant and Purdue. But in the losing, they vindicated the fact that the name Fighting Illini is no misnomer.

Four Captains in Service.

In great part this attitude is due to their coach, Ray Eliot, an Illini lineman himself in the early '30s. Somehow, Ray has managed to communicate this spirit to these boys. Already, four of his game captains—Bill Krall, Bob Prymuski, Chuck Palmer, and Sam Grider—have gone into service. He has only three hands who have enjoyed big time competition. They are Eddie McGovern, a veritable giant of 162 pounds, who last season led the country's scorers at Rose Poly; Don Greenwood, a Missouri quarter back last fall, and Larry Forst, who worked at tackle for Georgetown.

One of the new discoveries is Don Anderson, who scales 142 pounds. Eliot discovered him a couple of weeks ago on the basketball floor and asked him if he ever had played football. Don admitted he had been exposed to it for a couple of high school years. The coach got him into a suit and now he is calling signals for the second team.

Remember the Grange Lad?

This is brave talk for the homecomers who are in town or on their way, but that Michigan team landed in the Inman hotel tonight and just sat around before retiring. And Crisler didn't permit them to go smug about it, for he knows that there are days when your best All-American selections cannot beat Illinois. There was that afternoon, Oct. 18, 1924, it was, when a great Michigan team came here and ran into some gents named Grange, Hall, and Britton. The Grange kid went for four touchdowns in the first 12 minutes. Then there was Nov. 4, 1939, when Tom Harmon and Forest Evashevski came down with a lot of other Wolverines, all set to crush these same Illini. They went away, humbled, 16 to 7, which stood out as the greatest upset of the season.

Tomorrow easily may be another story, for the Michigan troupe includes two lads who are making their final collegiate appearance before reporting for advanced navy training. They are Bill Daley, who was one of the Minnesotans who ran into a 20 to 13 defeat by Illinois last autumn, and Merv Pregulman, who has bolstered the Michigan line at every point except end.

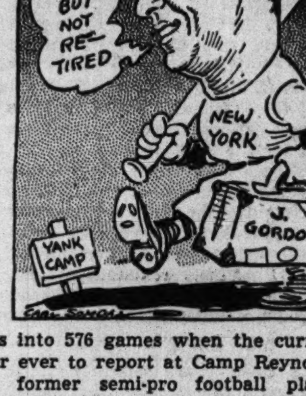
COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 29.—Thanks to the midnight sun, United States soldiers stationed in Newfoundland played night baseball without lights. . . . Ned Day, former national match game bowling champion, has sold his West Allis [Wis.] pin establishment. . . . Martin Marion, the Cardinal shortstop, once received the offer of a football scholarship from a big southern university. . . . Altho Bucky Harris has signed a contract with Buffalo and is reported eminently satisfied with the situation, Pacific coast sports writers insist he will be the new skipper at Oakland next summer. . . . Vince, the only surviving Di Maggio in the major leagues, batted only .249, yet he drove in 88 runs, 10 more than Stan Musial, who won the National league hitting championship with .357. . . . Horse racing's contribution to war funds is expected to total $7,000,000 by the year's end. . . . Paul Magoffin, who starred in Michigan's back field when father was a boy, is serving his 32d season as a high school football official in Washington, D. C. . . . Frank McKernan, Pennsylvania's place kick expert, is in the game for such short periods that he doesn't bother to don pads. . . . A. A. Stagg will have sent college football teams into 576 games when the current season ends. . . . The largest soldier ever to report at Camp Reynolds, Pa., was Harold [Tiny] Layefsky, former semi-pro football player around Philadelphia. . . . Tiny is 6 feet 6 inches tall and weighs 270 pounds. . . . The quartermaster issued him size 16-E shoes and a 17 shirt. . . . Bill Johnson, the Yankees' slugging third baseman, was dropped by Oakland after a brief trial because he couldn't hit. . . . When Frankie Sinkwich of the Lions was asked his opinion of Bronko Nagurski he replied, "I'm certainly glad I never had to face that guy in his prime."



The news service which made so much of Joe Gordon's reported retirement from baseball and the sports editors who gave the story eight column play no doubt will feel a little foolish when Joe is among the early arrivals at the Yanks' camp next spring. . . . Joe's "I'm tired of baseball" is natural after a hard season and a tough world series, but just wait and see. . . . One of Columbia's best guards is named Little, not a relative of Coach Lou, however. . . . The two Philadelphia baseball clubs dropped a total of 195 games this year.

Halloween.

Magic-tanged nights of October cool,
Shuffling thru leaves on our way from school,
Plotting and planning with mystic mien
The havoc we'd wreak come Halloween.

Poor Molly Kelly, wouldn't you know
Hers would be the first place we would go,
With our tick-tack-toe 'gainst her window pane,
Poor Molly was never the same again.

And didn't we think it a merry lark
To knock down the woodpile on Grandpa Clark,
And Forry Plass, searching early and late,
I think never did find his back garden gate.

And from Johnnie Burns what a reprimand
For the placard we placed on his outdoor fruit stand,
And all that we did in a spirit of fun
Was to label his apple barrels "Free, Take One."

And forgiving and all as Larry Blake was,
I don't think he ever absolved us because
The old white horse which for years drew his hack
We dappled with large painted circles of black.

O, where are they now, those girls and those boys
Who merrily shared in those prankish joys,
Gone with the wind, but there's always a crew
Coming up to brew Halloween mischief anew!

Shortage of Full Backs Is Bear Worry

BY EDWARD PRELL.

When the Bears started preparing for the 1943 season they had full backs stumbling all over each other, which wasn't unusual, as the north siders always have been well heeled at that spot. There were four of 'em back in August—Bill Osmanski, Gary Famiglietti, Bob Steuber, and Doug McEnulty.

Yesterday, full back was the biggest problem for the Bears' coaching department as the team sharpened up on its passing attack for tomorrow's meeting with Frankie Sinkwich and the Detroit Lions in Wrigley field. Osmanski and Steuber have gone to war. McEnulty isn't in top condition, and it looks like a busy afternoon for the bear-like Famiglietti.

Rules Stymie Bears.

The coaches thought they had the answer — they'd move Bulldog Turner, 240 pound center, to full back for part of the game. Then a close perusal of are rules revealed that the minute Turner played full back or offense he couldn't go back to center. So their Turner idea was stymied. Likewise, this would work the same way in the case of Bronko Nagurski, who is a tackle. At that, don't be surprised if late in the game, Bronko moves back and takes a crack or two at the Detroit line with the football under his arm.

Under the rules, Turner is allowed to play full back on defense and then return to offensive center. The Bears may take advantage of this interchange with two centers on defense to guard against the Lions' passing attack. Al Matuza would be defensive center and Turner defensive full back.

Case of Necessity.

The Bear coaches, who never before had the problem of skimpy personnel, were somewhat shocked to learn of the bars thrown up by the pro league against a lineman going into the back field as an offensive player. This rule was invoked because some of the trickier college coaches had been slipping a lineman into the back field, who, out of character, wasn't recognized as such by the opposition. This wasn't considered cricket and thus the legislation. The Bears aren't crying about the rule, but say that in their case no chicanery would be attached to putting linemen into the back field. It's a matter of stern necessity.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 29.—Wisconsin's Badgers—what is left of them—will leap on the touchdown merry go round again tomorrow for another ride that, while different from the others, will be just as thrilling. This time they are going to meet Mr. Tony Butkovich as well as some other lend-leasers representing Purdue and the visitors have served advance notice that they intend to spend the afternoon messing up their enemies' goal line. And even the most sanguine of the Badger faithful seem to feel there isn't much that can be done about it.

While there is fear hereabouts that the Boilermakers, just for the fun of it, might try to improve on the 50 to 0 plot hatched by Notre Dame a couple weeks back, the depression isn't so deep that the Badgers have decided to phone the Purdues about 2 o'clock tomorrow afternon and say the whole thing is off because of unforeseen circumstances. Harry Stuhldreher's boys will be there on time because they, like the paying customers, want to see Mr. Butkovich, the buster.

Last Collegiate Game Today.

Having been summoned by the marines, Butkovich will be knocking off as a collegiate performer after tomorrow's exercises and this might induce him to spread it on a bit heavy in the statistical department. He has already scored 13 touchdowns for the unbeaten Purdues. Altogether he has got 686 yards of gridiron grass.

A week hence the currently high flying Purdues will be without more than Buster Butkovich. Eight others, including line experts like Alex Agase and John Genis, are going elsewhere for further marine training. Three other reliables were taken by the navy last week. That's all very tough for Purdue but only a laugh for the Badgers, who didn't even salvage the oil can from their 1942 touchdown machine. Moreover they've lost 11 men in the last two weeks and at least two others will bid adieu to Camp Randall late tomorrow afternoon.

Badgers Keep on Trying.

Unmindful of what has already happened and what appears to be coming up when the Illini alumni disguised in Boilermakers' clothes turn themselves loose tomorrow, Boss Stuhldreher is going to keep on trying. He'll have at least two new articles in his starting eleven, the newcomers being Tackle Dick Prinz, a 200 pound naval aviation cadet, and Bill May, a bantam quarter back.

Ohio Host to Indiana; Bids for 2d Victory

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Columbus, O., Oct. 29.—The most important football game in Ohio tomorrow may be the one between Notre Dame and Navy, two non-Ohio teams, in Cleveland, but you never could convince the good people of Columbus. The big game for them is wherever Paul Brown's Ohio State eleven is performing and they will turn out 35,000 strong to see the Buckeyes play Indiana in a contest that has nothing more at stake than a rivalry between two great universities.

Ohio State has lost four of its five games, the poorest record since the school joined the Western conference in 1913. Indiana, which like Ohio is operating with civilian talent, was beaten by Northwestern and tied by Iowa. The members of the two squads, however, can be relied on to play as hard as if a national championship were involved, which explains the fact that 35,000, despite transportation difficulties, will find their way to Ohio stadium.

There's Mr. Hoernschemeyer, Too.

Indiana has two holdover players, Pete Pihos, right end, and John Tavener, center, who give the team more stability than some of the Big Nine civilian units. Bo McMillin has come up with a freshman forward passer named Robert Hoernschemeyer who will develop into one of the midwest's all-time greats. There are other Hoosier backs, notably Don Mangold, a teammate of Hoernschemeyer at Cincinnati's Elder High school last fall, and James Allerdice, who are above run of mine talent.

Indiana is the favorite among the so-called cognoscenti, but Ohio State has been improving each Saturday and Northwestern players will tell

ZIVIC WINS OVER BOB RICHARDSON

6,520 See Unimpressive Bout in Stadium.

BY FRANK MASTRO.

Fritzie Zivic, former welterweight champion, defeated Bobby Richardson of Cleveland in an unimpressive 10 round bout which topped the opening show of the indoor season in Chicago Stadium last night.

Zivic, 30 years old and a campaigner of 13 years, tired early and but for the fact that his 21 year old opponent showed little determination to win he might have suffered his 34th defeat in 173 starts.

The decision of Referee Norm McGarrity and Judges Livingston Osborne and James Lynch was unanimous, a verdict in which the 6,520 spectators, who contributed $22,114.06 gross receipts, concurred because of Richardson's sorry finish.

Zivic Scores Early.

Zivic did all of his scoring in the early phase of the engagement in close quarters, but his offensive did not have the ferocity of old. Richardson cut open an old wound under Fritzie's left eye in the fifth round and in the sixth Zivic tripped to the floor for no count. This embarrassment must have made the old gent furious because he came back in the sixth and scored with a solid left jab to the body which almost caused Bobby to swoon. Bob took a nine count on one knee.

In the last round Richardson pulled a King Levinsky and abruptly backed into his own corner and sat on the bottom rope. Timer Joe Lipp counted two but Referee McGarrity did not pick up the toll, his attitude being similar to that he displayed when Joe Louis caused Levinsky to sit on the ropes in Comiskey park seven years ago.

Maxin Outpoints Scott.

Nate Bolden, 1937 Inter-City Golden Gloves middleweight winner, and Claudio Villar, heavyweight of Astoria, Spain, stole the show in their 10 round semi-windup. Bolden was awarded an unpopular decision in a slambang fight which had the fans cheering thruout. But immediately after the decision was rendered the cheers turned to jeers. It was a split verdict.

Pvt. Joe Maxin of Fort Bragg, N. C., decisively outpointed Buddy Scott, heavyweight champion of Texas, in an additional match of 10 rounds.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Northwestern and Minnesota football teams will meet for the 27th time this afternoon in Dyche stadium in the series whose inaugural antedated Chicago's Columbian exposition by a year. Altho the Western conference championship is not at stake, as it has been more times than not in the last decade, today's victor unquestionably will finish in the first division with a priority for a share of the title if undefeated Michigan and Purdue falter.

Thirty thousand have reserved seats for Northwestern's homecoming game and this number will be increased by the sale of general admission tickets this afternoon. K. L. Wilson, director of athletics, yesterday announced these prices as 50 cents for children and $1.75 for adults.

While today's rivals have only lost one game each and to a common foe, Michigan, public opinion seems to be that the Wildcats will whip the Gophers. Basis for the conclusion is Michigan's overwhelming 49 to 6 triumph over Minnesota last week while the Wildcats, beaten by Michigan, 21 to 7, since have blanked Great Lakes and Ohio State and scored twice on each of these opponents.

Warned Against Overconfidence.

During the Wildcats' final drill last evening, Coach Lynn Waldorf carefully pointed out that Michigan did not pile up the score until the second half and that the Wolverines had a double incentive to key them. Michigan's players still were smarting from the 35 to 12 trouncing administered by Notre Dame and they also were goaded by Minnesota's supremacy which had racked up an unparalleled string of nine consecutive victories in the series.

Waldorf frankly regards the Gophers as an opponent which may surprise his players if they are overconfident because of last week's score in Ann Arbor. Moreover, the Gophers not only wish to atone for their licking by Michigan, but they have an understandable urge to take a whack at several Northwestern players who last season wore Minnesota colors.

Last Game for Garnaas.

Two of these men—Herman Frickey, right half, and Herb Hein, left end—will start for Northwestern. Another lineman, Chuck Dellago, will be used at right tackle alternating with Ray Vincent who leaves Northwestern's campus after this game by navy transfer. Frickey also is in this group as are Don Buffmire, full back, and Joe Partington, center, who have been selected to start today.

Bill Garnaas, Minnesota's senior quarter back, also finishes collegiate competition this afternoon. He has been ordered to report Monday at an eastern school.

Northwestern has not defeated Minnesota since 1939 and trails in the series standing, 8 games to 16 [two games were ties].

GREAT LAKES TO PLAY TODAY AT WEST. MICHIGAN

Broncos Weakened by Loss of Dick Leahy.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Kalamazoo, Mich., Oct. 29.—There's an old sea chantey to the effect that "ten thousand gobs laid down their swabs to lick one sick marine."

Which makes navy men justly furious.

Tomorrow the boys from the Great Lakes Naval Training station will undertake to prove that no such superiority in numbers or vitamin content is necessary. Eleven of them at a time will go up against eleven perfectly healthy lads from the marine V-12 unit which does its training and its football playing as an integral part of Western Michigan Teachers college.

Bluejackets Have Edge.

The Great Lakes squad, by virtue of its experience, power and the caliber of its previous opposition, generally is considered to have the edge in this encounter, but the Western Michigan team has shown considerable ability in dealing with its own class of opposition, having beaten four rivals while losing only to Michigan.

Moreover, the Western Michigan outfit includes some boys who were standouts while playing with smaller colleges and who might have attained much wider recognition had they been members of nationally prominent elevens. Notable among these are Nick Milosevich, formerly of Southern Illinois Teachers at Carbondale, and Dick Bowman of the University of Montana.

Milosevich Key Man.

Against the Western Michigan team, which has defeated Central Michigan, Xavier university, Alma, and Miami, the Great Lakes management will hurl a squad which has whipped Fort Riley, Pittsburgh, Iowa, Ohio State, and Marquette while losing to Purdue, 23 to 13, and to Northwestern, 13 to 0.

Milosevich generally is considered the key man in the Western Michigan attack. His passing ability has figured prominently in every game so far.

you they were happy to get away with a 14 to 0 victory last week. The 17 year old Buckeyes took a physical beating from Purdue and Northwestern the last two weeks, and four or five players are off peak condition for tomorrow's contest, but with the exception of Gordon Appleby, a center who is the team's best line backer, all will answer the opening kickoff.

Davis May Surprise Hoosiers.

Brown has no forward passer to match McMillin's Hoernschemeyer, but he has a lad named Paul Davis who may give the Hoosiers a surprise or two. Davis, who comes from Middletown, O., was so green that he played only three minutes up to the Purdue game two weeks ago. He started at full back that rainy afternoon and performed so satisfactorily Brown left him in for 58 minutes. Last week against Northwestern he completed four of his five passes for 100 yards.

There are two other Ohio State backs who will give Indiana trouble. One is Ernie Parks, a colored half back who was his team's best ball carrier against Northwestern, and the other is Dean Sensanbaugher, who was handicapped by a charley horse in his right leg last Saturday.

This will be the 27th meeting of Indiana and Ohio State. Ohio State has won 16 games, Indiana seven, and three have been ties. The series began in 1901. They have played 16 times since 1924 and in that span the Hoosiers have been victorious only twice.

National Hockey League to Open Season Tonight

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 29 (AP).—The National Hockey league will begin its 1943-'44 season tomorrow night with only about 30 pre-war players scattered among six teams.

Every club will get into action the first week-end, with Boston playing the Canadiens in Montreal and the New York Rangers visiting Toronto in tomorrow's openers. On Sunday the Rangers will move to Detroit and Toronto's Maple Leafs will play in Chicago. Home openers in New York and Boston are scheduled for No. 6 and 16, respectively.

HAWKS HEAD HOME.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 29.—The Blackhawks entrained for Chicago this afternoon after a two hour drill. At 12:45 p. m. tomorrow they will go thru a one hour workout in the Chicago Arena.

The Blackhawks will open the Chicago season Sunday night in the Stadium against the Toronto Maple Leafs.

Marquette Host Tonight to Colorado

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 29 [Special].—An abbreviated football rivalry, which has lapsed for 33 years, will be renewed tomorrow night when Marquette university and Denver university clash in an inter-sectional game under American Legion sponsorship in the Hilltop stadium.

The schools met once previously on the gridiron, Marquette traveling to Denver in 1910 to play to a scoreless tie.

Marquette Favored to Win.

Marquette, altho hard hit by navy losses in the last two weeks, is favored to beat the all-civilian Pioneer eleven. Coach Tom Stidham hopes he has fortified his tackle stations with the transposition this week of Len Liss and Bob Krebs.

It will be the last game for Chuck Benkendorf, end, who next week enters the Marquette medical school as an army trainee. Three reserves, Mike Sabilca and Atherton Kern, guards, and Greg Prodromus, center, will be graduated, Sunday night.

Colorado Team Light.

The Denver team arrived in Milwaukee yesterday and has had two long workouts here. Coach Mark Duncan's athletes, while light, are confident they pack enough razzle-dazzle to surprise the Hilltoppers.

The lineups follow:

Marquette.		Denver.
Farrell	L.E.	Flanigan
Krebs	L.T.	Kercher
Hols	L.G.	Funk
Silovich	C.	Battershell
Enich	R.G.	Feld

Kickoff—8 p. m. Radio broadcast—WEMP [Milwaukee].

SEAHAWKS VS. FORT RILEY

Iowa City, Ia., Oct. 29 [Special].—Two of the midwest's most powerful service teams, the Iowa Seahawks, wearing the blue and gold of the navy, and the Fort Riley Centaurs, bearing the army's color standard, will match forces in Iowa stadium tomorrow afternoon.

Capt. Fran Welch will bring his army cavalrymen—headed by Capt. Benny Sheridan, former Notre Dame star, and the Ruman brothers, Lt. Robert and Pvt. Bernard—to town tomorrow.

Probable starting lineups:

Seahawks.		Fort Riley.

The Trail of Long Ago.

I am stealing thru the shadows down
the trail of long ago,
When the honeysuckle's fragrance fills the air,
And my heart with all the rapture of the springtime is aglow,
For there's music in the woodland everywhere.

You'll be waiting where the brooklet sweeps across the meadowland
With the crimson of the sunset in your eyes,
And my heart will beat the faster as I take you by the hand
And I hear your laughter ring against the skies.

And we'll tread the trail together till the candles of the night
Are all lighted in the overhanging blue,
And your amber eyes will sparkle with a flame of deep delight
As I plan the future golden years with you.

And the stars that glisten gayly will grow somber as we part,
And the moon that gilds the distant mountain tips
Will illume with silver splendor the dark corners of my heart
As I press a good-night kiss upon your lips.

I am stealing thru the shadows down
the trail of long ago,
But the heart that once was fancy
free is sore;
For the billows of an ocean roll between us and I know
I won't find you by the brooklet any more.

Recreation Is Labor's Need, Says Walsh

BY MARK COX.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 29.—The harder a man works the harder he wants to play after hours at recreation and competitive sports, James F. Walsh, director of recreation for the Chrysler corporation, declared today at the Industrial Recreation clinic at Purdue university. Walsh has been in his present position in the company's home office in Detroit for 10 years and knows whereof he speaks. His purchases of the last two years alone cover such items as 200 dozen softballs and 100 dozen baseballs, to say nothing of a box car full of bats and 200 dozen sets of rubber horseshoes.

In pursuance of his theory concerning the laborer's desire for recreation, he pointed out the example of the muscular men wrestling 100 pound crankshafts up and down the assembly line all day who came to him with the request to form a weight lifting club.

There were only four or five in the original group and his answer was that it would take a larger number to put the thing across. The next day they were back with some 20 members and the present group includes 75.

"The fellow who becomes fatigued is the one who has nothing to do," he continued, after confessing he had been a professional squash player for seven years and had spent two years at semi-pro basketball.

IRISH TO DEFEND LOYOLA HARRIER LAURELS TODAY

Loyola university's 13th annual invitational cross-country meet will be held this morning at 11 o'clock on the Loyola lake shore campus, 6526 Sheridan road. Notre Dame is the defending champion.

Teams have been entered by Great Lakes, Navy Pier, Wheaton college, Milwaukee State Teachers college, in addition to Notre Dame and the host team. The University of Iowa may be a last minute entry.

Alabama to Resume Football Next Week

Tuscaloosa, Ala., Oct. 29 (AP).—The University of Alabama, peace time perennial gridiron bowl contender, will resume football next week with an informal student team of 17-year-olds.

Englewood Routed, 52-2, by Phillips

Claude [Buddy] Young scored five touchdowns as Phillips High school trounced Englewood, 52 to 2, yesterday in Yates stadium for its fifth straight central section football victory in the City league and sixth consecutive of the year.

The victory moved Phillips another step nearer the City league championship and the opportunity of opposing the Catholic league champion in the 10th annual Mayor Kelly bowl game in Soldiers' field on Nov. 27.

Young Takes Scoring Lead.

Young, the state's 100 yard dash champion, took a temporary hold on the league's individual scoring leadership. His five touchdowns places him six points ahead of Capt. Bill Chandler of Amundsen. Young has 78 points and Chandler 72.

Chandler will have the opportunity to overtake Young this afternoon when Amundsen meets Taft in Winnemac park for the north section championship. Young will get another chance of regaining his lead when Phillips plays Du Sable in Soldiers' field next Saturday in the windup of the sectional races.

Playoffs on Nov. 13.

Phillips should dispose of Du Sable with ease and enter the semi-final round of the league's play-offs on Nov. 13 against the north section champion. The winners of the west and south races will meet in the other semi-final round on that day.

Calumet defeated Hyde Park, 31 to 6, for its fourth south section victory and continued undefeated altho tied by Parker. The Indians have only to beat Hirsch next Saturday to gain the semi-final round of the league's play-offs. Al Zimmerman scored three touchdowns for Calumet.

Tilden Tech continued in second place in the central section race by overpowering Gage Park, 41 to 0, last night in Shewbridge field. It was the Blue Devils' fourth league victory in five games and the second defeat in five for Gage Park.

TUSKEGEE ROLLS UP 27-0 SCORE ON WILBERFORCE

Tabor's Passing Enables Tigers to Even Series.

Tuskegee Institute of Alabama rolled over Wilberforce university of Ohio last night in Comiskey park, 27 to 0, before 15,000 fans who turned out to see the two teams meet in their 14th annual battle. The victory evened the series at six apiece. Two games were ties.

Chief reason for Wilberforce's defeat was the passing arm of Alva Tabor, the Tiger quarter back. Tabor, after sensing a weakness in the Ohioans' secondary, passed almost at will. It was, in fact, only thru the air that the Alabama outfit was able to run up its decisive victory.

Fumble Sets Up Score.

A fumble by Buddy Gregory, Wilberforce half back, gave Tuskegee possession on the Ohioans' 27 yard line as the gun sounded to end the first quarter and the Tigers, unleashing a clever passing attack, were quick to capitalize on the miscue. A toss from Alva Tabor to Albert Crawford gained 11 yards, and when the Green Wave attempted to thwart this method of attack, Jimmy Burton hit the line for thrusts of 6 and 4 yards.

As the Ohioans pulled into a tighter defense, Tabor passed to Head for the first score.

Tuskegee took to the air again in the waning seconds of the half, an assortment of long and short heaves with Tabor doing the passing, carrying the ball to the Wilberforce 12. With 11 seconds remaining, Tabor connected with a toss to Charley Perry for a touchdown.

Take Initiative Again.

The Tuskegeeans seized the initiative again the moment play began for the second half. Tabor took turns dropping the ball into the arms of Head, Crawford, and Pernell Miller. The period was barely four minutes old when Miller took a 27 yard toss from his quarter back to score the Tigers' third touchdown.

Seven minutes after the final period began, Tabor passed 31 yards to Miller on the Ohio 9 yard stripe. Then, after a momentary setback, when the Wave forwards smashed thru and smeared a running attempt, the Tiger quarter threw a strike into the arms of Charley Perry, his right end, in the end zone for the touchdown. Tabor's placement was good for the extra point, and made the score 25 to 0.

The final marker, a safety, came midway of the closing period when the Tiger forward wall converged on James to trap him behind the Ohio goal line.

VINSON REJECTS OIL PRICE HIKE FOR SUBSIDIES

Terms Ickes Plan Too Costly.

BY LLOYD NORMAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—A federal subsidy to oil prospectors estimated to cost less than 133 million dollars a year was ordered tonight by Fred M. Vinson, economic stabilization director, in a 12,000 word decision rejecting a proposed 35 cents a barrel blanket increase in crude oil prices.

Vinson directed the petroleum administration for war to formulate a subsidy program to encourage wildcat well drilling and development of new oil fields, drilling in proved oil well areas, and, if feasible, projects to recover oil from old or abandoned wells.

Vinson said in his decision that an oil price boost would cost petroleum products consumers at least a half billion dollars a year, of which the federal government would pay one-third as the largest single purchaser. He said the subsidy "may very well be less expensive to the government" than the cost of a blanket price increase.

Recommended by Ickes.

Acting as referee in wage and price controversies, Vinson upheld the office of price administration, which had twice rejected the crude oil price rise recommended by Harold L. Ickes, petroleum administrator. Ickes and the oil industry had urged the higher price to encourage expanded production.

Vinson ruled that the stabilization act of Oct. 2, 1942, and the President's "hold the line" order of April 8 prohibit a general oil price increase. He contended the proposed increase would not solve the immediate need of additional gasoline for essential civilian driving. He said there is no reasonable prospect for any nation-wide increase in gasoline for nonessential driving whether crude oil prices are raised or not.

"Perhaps the most damning shortcoming of the general price increase as a measure for increasing our available supplies of crude oil is its delay and uncertainty," Vinson said. He said that one to two years usually elapse between the drilling of exploratory wells and actual production.

Cites Producers' Profits.

He said the 35 per cent increase would double the profit margins of the major oil companies and would increase the national average price of crude oil [which is $1.18 a barrel] by 30 per cent. He said the profit margin per barrel is near the top for the last 10 years and that net earnings of the major oil companies, after deducting income taxes, are higher than a year ago.

The general validity of the OPA's crude oil price ceiling which is the Oct. 1-15, 1941, level, with a national average of $1.14 a barrel, has never been challenged, Vinson said. He said the price control provides remedies for determining if a price ceiling is illegal but that remedy has not been exhausted.

Considering the utilization of foreign oil reserves, Vinson said that the United States, with 38 per cent of the estimated crude reserves available to the allied nations, has been supplying from 75 to 80 per cent of the military needs. "This situation cannot continue," he said.

Wants Reserve Safeguarded.

"There can be no justification for exhausting this country's oil reserves at the most rapid rate possible if there is any feasible alternative," he said. The same criticism was made recently by five senators who made a first hand survey of the combat areas. They complained that British owned oil was not being used adequately to relieve the strain on American reserves.

Vinson said steps are being taken to use foreign oil to the fullest by importing crude from the large idle resources of the Venezuelan fields, refining it on the east coast and shipping it abroad. Such imports already are arriving and will increase substantially, he said.

From the estimated oil reserves of 16 billion barrels in the Persian gulf, "significant additions" to our petroleum supplies will be available in the next few months thru increased refining capacity, Vinson said. By the end of next year, he said, at least 337,000 barrels a day will be available for foreign sources if transportation facilities are provided.

Vinson Describes Program.

As direct action to augment domestic oil supplies Vinson outlined the following stop-gap program which is already underway:

1. Increase transportation facilities to utilize idle Texas oil producing capacity.
2. Increase importation of oil from the Caribbean area for use in east coast refineries.
3. Increase use of Caribbean and middle eastern [Persian gulf] oil for military needs overseas.
4. Eliminate overgenerous issuance of B and C gasoline ration coupons to reduce nonessential civilian consumption.

PAW officials said that the program to increase the transportation facilities for Texas oil probably will involve granting Chicago area and midwestern refiners a rail subsidy to move oil from western Texas to the midwest's idle refinery capacity. A similar subsidy has been provided to eastern refiners to compensate for abnormal shipping costs involved in bringing oil from remote sources.

City's Housing Pinch Centers in Northwest

BY AL CHASE.

Fewer living units are available in the northwestern part of Chicago and suburbs [where Douglas, Buick, Bell & Howell, and other big war plants are located] than elsewhere in the metropolitan area. Only three-tenths of 1 per cent of the total available residential space is classified as "habitable vacancies." These facts were disclosed yesterday by William K. Divers, regional representative of the national housing agency, who made public a vacancy survey compiled last August by the bureau of the census for NHA.

The residential situation among Chicago's Negroes is more critical than that of the white population, Divers reported. Of approximately 80,000 dwelling units occupied by Negroes, only 0.2 per cent were estimated as vacant and habitable, he said, and only half of these were available for rent.

More Available in North.

The highest vacancy rate was found in the north side section, with habitable rental space amounting to 2.1 per cent.

Of the habitable nonrental vacancies, about one-half in both the south side and northwest areas and two-thirds in the southwest were for sale, the census bureau reported, and the remainder were being held off the rental market at the choice of the owners. In the other two areas [the far south side and the north side] only one-fourth of the habitable nonrental vacancies were for sale.

In addition to vacant dwelling units, interviews with household members indicated that 2,850 rooms in occupied dwellings were available for rent thruout the areas surveyed. These rooms were expected to accommodate 3,675 roomers.

"The recently completed sample survey shows a marked change from the housing situation as shown by the 1940 census," Divers said. "At that time, out of a total of 1,100,500 dwelling units 39,600 were vacant, for sale or for rent, representing 3.5 per cent of the total.

"In the sample survey it is estimated that in this same area there were only 14,700 habitable dwelling units vacant for sale or for rent, or about 1.3 per cent."

FARM MACHINE SHORTAGE LAID TO GOVERNMENT

The International Harvester company said yesterday the government created the present farm machinery shortage by cutting the company's 1943 production to 14 per cent of 1940, or a reduction "now generally recognized as mistaken."

Replying to President Roosevelt, who told a news conference questioner in Washington that some manufacturers apparently were reluctant to go back to producing farm machinery because they could make more money turning out munitions, the company said in a statement:

"In March, 1942, the Harvester company adopted a policy of voluntarily limiting its profits on munitions to a reasonable figure. Its profits on 1942 war production were substantially less, not more, than its low normal profits on farm machinery products.

"The record shows that Harvester time after time pointed out to the government that the early reductions in farm machinery production were too drastic for the needs of the food production program."

BOOST IN STEEL PLATE DEMAND TAXES PLANTS

Hopes for Civilian Output Dim.

Steel plate producers who until recently were meeting the government's shipbuilding demands comfortably, and with a margin to spare, are pressing their productive facilities to turn out the additional steel needed for an expanded federal ship program, industry representatives said yesterday.

Altho the margin existed between federal demands and the industry's larger capacity for producing steel of this type, steel company executives had expressed the opinion privately that some of their production could be released for civilian use. Their opinions have been revised, however, in the light of the government's newly increased demands for plate for use in landing barges, pontoons, and Victory ships.

Concerned Over Reaching Goal.

Some plate mill operators recently expressed concern over their ability to equal the expanded production quotas allotted them by the war production board, which decides how much and what kinds of steel each mill turns out.

When and if additional civilian steel supplies are released, WPB will give the order. Steel company executives said the oversupply of ship plate that accumulated when mills were operating at 100 per cent of their rated capacity had been absorbed with revision of the government's ship program.

Plate mills' quotas have been boosted to 110 per cent. This apparently larger than capacity schedule is possible because normal rated capacity is figured with allowance for repairs and other contingencies that take production units out of service temporarily.

Result of War's "Fluidity."

The revision in the ship program was attributed to changing demands under the "fluidity of war," a government expression to account for the new emphasis on currently needed types of equipment.

This was the factor given in government explanation for the curtailment at the 30 million dollar armor plate mill at Gary, Ind., several months ago. Because the government has an adequate supply of tank armor at this stage of the war, the mill is operating at only a small part of its capacity.

The plant is operated for the government by the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation. Tank producing plants at Hammond, Ind., and Hegewisch, Ill., operated by Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing and Pressed Steel Car companies likewise are operating at only a small part of capacity.

Conversion Not Difficult.

Steel authorities said the armor plant could be converted to the production of types of steel useful for civilian consumption with comparatively few alterations. It was recalled that a mill near Pittsburgh, altho built to roll sheet steel, was converted into a plate mill thru ingenious rearrangement of facilities.

Whether the big plant will be used after the war is a question. Steel men say it would not be particularly useful for the production of armor plate for ships because plants closer to seaboard shipyards could turn out sufficient supplies and thus avoid transportation from inland.

Certain-teed's New Finance Plan Is Filed

Recapitalization plans of the Certain-teed Products corporation were disclosed yesterday with the announcement by the securities and exchange commission that a registration statement had been filed by the company.

The initial step in the proposed program is an exchange offer to holders of the company's 67,373 shares of $100 par value 6 per cent cumulative prior preference stock, on which dividend arrears total $39 a share. No dividends have been paid on the senior stock since 1937.

Offer 4 Per Cent Debentures.

Holders are to be offered $100 par value of new 4 per cent cumulative income debentures, plus two shares of $1 par common stock, in exchange for each preferred share held. The registration statement covers $6,737,300 of new debentures, to be due Oct. 31, 1973, 134,746 shares of common stock, and certificates of deposit to be issued in exchange for preferred stock deposited in acceptance of the exchange offer.

The offer is subject to a decision to proceed with a further program for refunding of the company's outstanding $7,100,000 of 5½ per cent debentures maturing March 1, 1948.

Would Retire Old Issue.

The company proposes to retire the present debentures from proceeds of the sale of 208,446 additional shares of common stock and $5,500,000 of new debentures, supplemented by treasury cash. The additional stock would be offered first to stockholders thru stock purchase warrants.

The proposed additional stock and new senior debentures are not covered by the present registration statement. No offering price has been established for the new stock. The interest rate on the proposed new senior debentures will not exceed 4½ per cent, it was indicated.

Paul H. Davis & Co. will act as dealer-manager for a group which will assist in obtaining acceptances of the exchange offer by holders of the preferred stock.

C. D. RYAN IS ELECTED WARD'S PRESIDENT; JOINED FIRM IN 1932

C. D. Ryan.

C. D. Ryan was elected president of Montgomery Ward & Co. yesterday. Sewell L. Avery remains chairman of the board and chief executive officer. R. S. Stevens was elected vice president and will succeed Ryan as general merchandise manager, it was announced.

The new president was one of the merchandising executives brought into the company during its reorganization by Avery in 1932. He started as merchandise manager of housewares division and became general merchandising manager in 1939. In April, 1940, he was elected vice president and a director of the company.

Oklahoma Gas Capital Plan Gets Approval

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 29 (AP).—The securities and exchange commission today approved the following recapitalization transactions proposed by Oklahoma Gas and Electric company and its parent, Standard Gas and Electric company:

1. Oklahoma will purchase from Standard 25,900 shares of its own common stock, aggregating $2,590,000.

2. Standard will deliver to Oklahoma $2,593,704 in full payment of all stock discounts on all classes of Oklahoma's outstanding stock. Oklahoma will eliminate a like amount from its balance sheet.

Capital Contribution Allowed.

3. Standard will make a capital contribution of 16,000 shares of Oklahoma's common stock, aggregating $1,600,000 to be credited to capital surplus.

4. Oklahoma will issue and sell $6,500,000 principal amount of serial notes maturing in not more than 10 years and devote proceeds from this sale, plus other cash, to the redemption of $6,650,000 principal amount of its 4 per cent debentures.

5. Oklahoma will redeem all of its outstanding 6 per cent cumulative preferred stock at $110 a share, plus accumulated dividends.

6. Oklahoma will retire 41,900 shares of its re-acquired common stock.

Reduce Common Value.

7. Oklahoma will reduce its common stock par value from $100 to $20 by reclassifying each remaining $100 par value share into five $20 par value shares and increase the voting right on its 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock from one to five votes a share.

The commission ordered Nos. 1, 2, 3, 6, and 7 as preliminary steps to Standard's divestment of its interest in Oklahoma, in compliance with the geographic integration clause of the public utility holding company act, and reserved jurisdiction in the event that Oklahoma fails to amend its trust indenture dated Dec. 1, 1936, to the Continental Bank and Trust company, Chicago, trustee.

CATTLE PRICES SHIFT TO FIT FEDERAL RANGE

The Chicago market for cattle yesterday developed into a "catch as catch can" affair as traders studied all available details of the new price regulation. Price shifts have been made in many classes since the regulation was issued at midweek, with a tendency toward pulling the various classes nearer in line with price ranges fixed by the government.

Better grades of steers have dropped 25 to 50 cents a hundred pounds since the new plan was announced, altho gains in cheaper grades ranged up to 50 cents.

Steady prices were paid for the majority of good hogs above 200 pounds, but the lighter stock was weak to 25 cents lower.

Lambs sold mostly steady. The $14.25 top was paid for western range stock.

WHEAT FUTURES TOUCH PEAK ON RENEWED BUYING

All deliveries of wheat touched new seasonal highs yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade, closing with gains of ¾ to ⅞ cent a bushel. Rye declined ¼ to ⅝ cent, oats closed unchanged to ¾ cent lower, and barley dropped ⅜ to ¾ cent.

Buying of wheat was attributed to mills and distillers, with sales of moderate quantities to the latter confirmed.

No explanation was given for heavy selling of rye futures, altho reports indicated that grain taken on July and September contracts was being hedged and that the war food administration compliance branch planned to investigate recent tightness in the December delivery.

Armour Declares $1.50 Dividend on Accruals

Directors of Armour & Co. [Illinois] yesterday declared a dividend of $1.50 a share applicable to accruals on the 6 per cent prior preferred stock, the first payment since July 1, 1942. The distribution is payable Jan. 3.

STRIKE FORCES NEAR CLOSING OF VAST SHIPYARD

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 29 (AP).—J. M. Willis, vice president and general manager of the Bethlehem-Fairfield shipyard, said tonight that the vast plant engaged in Liberty ship production would be forced "to practically shut down" for 24 hours over the week-end because of a "sympathy strike" by diesel and steam crane operators.

Willis said work would be halted from 11:30 p. m. Saturday to the same hour Sunday for all employes except "crane operators, erectors, yard labor department, and those employes of other departments who are specifically ordered in to work."

The partial shutdown is necessary because "the strike makes it impossible to transport sufficient material from the storage yards to the ways," Willis said.

EDISON PROFIT SLIPS; FIELD'S TOPS 1 MILLION

Gypsum Earnings Dip in 9 Months.

Commonwealth Edison company yesterday reported a slight decrease in third quarter earnings, Marshall Field & Co. reported a gain, and United States Gypsum company announced lower nine months' profit.

Commonwealth Edison's consolidated net profit during the three months ended Sept. 30 was $5,135,598, equal to 40 cents a share, compared with adjusted net profit of $5,148,153, or 40 cents a share, during the 1942 third quarter. Operating revenues rose to $43,682,402 from $41,002,435 in the 1942 period.

Edison Decrease Is Slight.

During the first nine months this year Edison's consolidated net income was $16,221,566, equal to $1.28 a share, against $16,357,304, or $1.29 a share, for the corresponding 1942 period. Operating revenues were $133,608,104, against $127,734,017 a year ago. During the 12 months ended Sept. 30 net income was $21,972,364, or $1.78 a share, against $23,943,452, or $1.88 a share, during the preceding 12 months. Operating revenues of $178,312,972 compared with $171,581,726 during the preceding year.

Sales of electricity in kilowatt hours increased 12.7 per cent during the first nine months of 1943 compared with the corresponding period of 1942, but electric revenues increased only 4.8 per cent, Charles Y. Freeman, chairman, disclosed in a letter to stockholders. Gas sales, in therms, were up 12.5 per cent, and gas revenues 3 per cent.

United States Gypsum company's net income during the nine months ended Sept. 30 was $3,873,089, or $2.89 a share on the common stock, against $4,252,148, or $3.21 a share, during the corresponding 1942 period.

Field Profit Rises.

Marshall Field & Co. reported earnings of $1,005,593 during the three months ended Sept. 30, equal to 40 cents a share, against revised earnings of $938,399, or 37 cents a share, during the third quarter of 1942. Sales and rental income amounted to $30,333,088, an increase of 12.2 per cent above a year earlier.

Net profit during the nine months this year was $3,470,438, or $1.44 a common share, before deducting a $500,000 provision for possible decline in inventory values, compared with $3,097,392, or $1.25 a share, during the first nine months of 1942. Sales and rental income of $94,498,488 was 16.6 per cent larger than a year earlier. The 1942 quarterly and nine month earnings figures are adjusted for the actual federal income tax rates finally enacted by congress.

No change was made during the third quarter in the company's 3½ million dollar inventory reserve, Hughston M. McBain, president, said.

PROBE OF U. S. SPENDING URGED BY TRADE GROUP

The Midwest Manufacturers' Associations, Inc., yesterday asked congress to investigate government agencies that are spending federal funds in competition with taxpaying enterprise. It asked that the probe determine if this spending is within the law. The message included a protest against government subsidies.

The subsidy program would "create stupendous new additional tax burdens," increase inflationary trends, would not really reduce living costs, and would "involve an unwarranted increase in burocracy," said the resolution which was adopted at a meeting of 11 state industrial associations in the Palmer House.

Opposition to statutory rail rate-making was expressed in another resolution which declared "it is now proposed to destroy the independent character of the interstate commerce commission and interfere with its impartial functions of rate-making by substituting legislative rate-making."

Wholesale Price Index Unchanged Last Week

The bureau of labor statistics' wholesale price index remained unchanged last week at 102.9 per cent of the 1926 average. It was 21.2 per cent above the level of the corresponding week of 1937 and 8.2 per cent above that for October, 1929.

G. M. Military Output Lifted to Double '42

New York, Oct. 29 (AP).—General Motors corporation has reached a production rate of about 3 billion 700 million dollars a year, with deliveries of war materials in the first nine months of 1943 more than double those of the 1942 period, Chairman Alfred P. Sloan Jr. reported to stockholders today.

The value of the nine months' deliveries—94 per cent directly for war—was $2,699,671,478, against $1,503,880,455 in the 1942 period. Sloan said the increase in dollar volume was not fully indicative of physical output because voluntary price cuts had pared 57 million dollars from bills in the third quarter alone.

Net Income Rises.

Third quarter net income was $40,129,260, equal to 87 cents a share on common stock, compared with $35,718,910, or 77 cents a share a year ago.

Commenting that earnings records of a single quarter do not necessarily indicate a trend, Sloan said, "later adjustments may necessarily result in substantial modification, and in either direction."

For the first nine months of 1943, net income was $109,519,455, equal to $2.36 a common share, compared with $83,562,119, or $1.76 a share in the 1942 period.

$9,274,796 for Contingencies.

From third quarter income the corporation provided $9,274,796 for post-war contingencies and rehabilitation, bringing this reserve to $25,252,808 for the nine months and raising the aggregate for such eventualities to $65,837,767 as of Sept. 30.

In addition, the company provided $20,698,000 in the third quarter and $63,402,000 for the nine months for retroactive price and other adjustments which might arise in renegotiation.

Other highlights of the report for the third quarter, and comparisons with the corresponding 1942 period, showed: Average employment at a new record of 457,445, against 332,973; pay rolls $341,535,382, compared with $234,915,655; average weekly earnings for hourly employes $58.09, against $55.45; cash and United States government and other securities $491,648,463, against $344,360,792.

STOCK MARKET DIPS AGAIN IN LIGHTER TRADE

New York, Oct. 29 (AP).—Stocks were subjected to further profit taking in today's market altho late support reduced many early losses and enabled scattered favorites to close with gains.

The fact there will be only one full session between now and next Wednesday — principal exchanges will close Tuesday for the elections —caused the lightening of accounts in many instances. The coal labor crisis again served as a buying handicap. Individual issues, however, were supported by actual and prospective earnings and dividends.

The Associated Press 60-stock average, due partly to a fall of 4 points in J. I. Case on sales of only 500 shares, was off .4 of a point at 50.7. Of 821 issues traded, 391 were down, 201 up and 229 unchanged. Transfers totaled 668,010 shares against 714,510 yesterday.

CHICAGO STOCKS LOWER.

Seven new 1943 peaks were reached on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday, altho the closing prices were generally lower on a smaller turnover of 24,000 shares.

ECCLES' BIG TAX SCHEME JUNKED BY HOUSE UNIT

13 Billion Request Promptly Refused.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29 (AP).—A 13 billion dollar additional tax and compulsory savings program, including a war time supertax, was proposed to the house ways and means committee today by Marriner S. Eccles, federal reserve chairman, and was immediately scrapped.

The committee, which thus far has voted to raise only 2 billions in new revenue despite a treasury request for 10½ billions, showed no disposition to follow Eccles' recommendations, notwithstanding his warnings that the nation is threatened by inflation.

Plan Called Fantastic.

Committee members reported that Chairman Robert L. Doughton [D., N. C.] told Eccles his program was "amazing, fantastic and visionary." The program was discussed by Eccles at an executive committee session.

Doughton remarked to newspapermen later: "I don't like it at all. I felt the same way about the treasury program. From what I said I think Mr. Eccles would come to the conclusion that I was against his program."

As outlined by committee members, the federal reserve chairman's program would provide:

1. Ten billion dollars from individual incomes, with 4 billions refundable after the war. The normal individual income rate would be raised from 6 to 10 per cent, personal exemptions lowered from $500 to $400 for single persons, from $1,200 to $800 for married couples, and from $400 to $250 for each child. The victory tax would be repealed and a super-surtax imposed.

2. Three billion dollars thru additional excise taxes on so-called luxuries.

3. Eight hundred million dollars thru increased corporation taxes.

Refund Limited.

The program would provide special relief credits up to $500 for persons having received little, if any, increase in income because of the expanded war time economy. A limit of $1,000 would be placed on the amount of post-war refund thru the compulsory savings program.

One committee member, Rep. Wesley Disney [D., Okla.] suggested that unprecedented controls on government spending be written into the tax bill. Disney urged the creation of an "overall" budget committee, comprised of senate and house members, to reduce expenditures thru close scrutiny of budget outlays.

OPA TO REDUCE PEANUT BUTTER PEG NEXT MONTH

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29 (AP).—The retail price of peanut butter will go down 6½ to 7 cents early in November, the OPA said today. The reduction will bring the average to about 26½ cents a pound, a spokesman said, with the top probably about 33 cents.

The cut will be made possible by a 4½ cent a pound subsidy which the Commodity Credit corporation will begin paying to processors Nov. 1. It will apply on sales in containers of two pounds or less to wholesalers and retailers for civilian consumption in the United States.

SCHEDULE 'MET' TRYOUTS HERE FOR NOV. 11, 12, 13

Winners Will Get Chance at Opera Contracts.

The Metropolitan Opera association will conduct preliminary regional tryouts giving winners an opportunity to compete for an opera contract in the studios of WENR on Nov. 11, 12, and 13. Tests will be under the direction of Wilfred Pelletier, conductor of the Metropolitan Auditions of the Air, which returns to the Blue network for its ninth season, Nov. 28.

Bing Crosby has recorded a new number, "The Seventh Air Force," in answer to a request by personnel of the United States army 7th air force, stationed in New Guinea. Arrangements have been made to send the "master" record to the boys.

Dr. Ruth Wagner, blind osteopathic physician, will be guest of Bob Becker on the Bob Becker Pet Parade program over W-G-N at 12:15 p. m. today. Dr. Wagner will tell how her seeing-eye dog, Patsy, accompanies her on professional calls and guides her to the patient's bed.

The Columbia Broadcasting system has announced it will broadcast the Sugar Bowl football game from New Orleans on New Year's day. . . . Jane Froman, who was seriously injured in the clipper crash at Lisbon, Portugal, last year, will make her first radio appearance since the accident on the Andre Kostelanetz program Nov. 7. Dorothy Lamour, screen star, will visit the Edgar Bergen-Charlie McCarthy series on WMAQ-NBC tomorrow.

SING 'CHOCOLATE SOLDIER' TONIGHT ON AIR THEATER

The Chicago Theater of the Air will present Oscar Straus' operetta "The Chocolate Soldier" on its broadcast at 8 o'clock tonight over W-G-N, W59C, and the Mutual network.

Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, will speak. Marion Claire, soprano prima donna of the series; Morton Bowe, tenor, and Bruce Foote, baritone, will star in the singing roles.

"The Chocolate Soldier" is Straus' satire on the war between Serbia and Bulgaria in 1885, and, as it will be presented on the Theater of the Air in an adaptation prepared and directed by Jack La Frandre, will feature Miss Claire as Nadina; Bowe as Lt. Bumerli; Foote as Col. Popoff; Ruth Slater, contralto, as Aurelia; Virginia Sellers, soprano, as Mascha; Wayne Van Dyne, tenor, as Alexius, and Earle Wilkie, baritone, as Massakroff.

The W-G-N Symphony orchestra, conducted by Henry Weber, and the chorus, directed by Robert Trendler, will support the featured singers. In the dramatic cast will be Laurette Fillbrandt, Olan Soule, Cliff Soubier, John Barclay, Hope Summers, and Marvin Mueller, who will be the narrator.

1942 PRODUCTION OF CRUDE OIL IS DOWN SLIGHTLY

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29 (AP).—Production of crude petroleum in 1942 amounted to 1,386,645,000 barrels, a decrease of 1 per cent below 1941, the bureau of mines said today in its final summary of petroleum products for last year.

Crude runs to stills decreased more than 5 per cent to 1,334,103,000 barrels. The relatively larger curtailment in refinery operations was the result of a decrease in the total demand for all oils and an abnormal reduction of 47 million barrels in stocks of refined oils.

Principal gains in production were in California, Kansas, Mississippi, Michigan, and Wyoming. Output decreased 26 million barrels in Illinois.

PAPER OFFICIAL, STEEL MAN PUT ON WLB PANEL

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29 (AP).—President Roosevelt has appointed Reuben B. Robertson as an industry member of the war labor board and John P. McWilliams as an alternate.

Robertson is executive vice president of the Champion Paper and Fiber company. On the WLB, he will replace Cyrus Ching, United States Rubber company, who resiged.

McWilliams is president of the Youngstown Steel Door company, Cleveland.

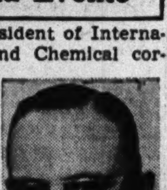
People and Events

Louis Ware, president of International Minerals and Chemical corporation, Chicago, yesterday announced the election of Dr. Paul D. V. Manning as a vice president. Prominent in research in the food field, Dr. Manning formerly was director of research. Ware also announced the election of James R. Bishop as vice president of the company's Amino Products division. He formerly was president of the American Maize Products company.



Dr. Paul D. V. Manning.

Albert N. Graham, 70 years old, supervisor of water service in the Chicago terminal of the Illinois Central railroad, who entered the road's employ as a bridge carpenter in 1892, will retire tomorrow. He will be guest of honor at a farewell party tonight in the Southmoor hotel.

Harry W. Dragoo II., head of Lumbermen's Mutual Casualty company's advertising department, has been commissioned an ensign in the naval reserve.

Daniel F. Rice and company, Chicago, will open a New York office Monday under the direction of Ralph D. Kaufman.

ALUMINUM PILE GROWS; BROADER USES PERMITTED

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29 [Special].—An indication of the easier supply situation in aluminum, which early in the war was one of the most critical materials, was given by WPB today when it amended its order M-1-I expanding permitted uses of the metal. The agency said "The position of aluminum has now become sufficiently comfortable to permit the use of the metal in additional types of war and some essential industrial production." Increased supplies permit aluminum for certain purposes where copper had been used, thus relieving strains on supplies of the latter, WPB said.

In addition, the order permits aluminum ingot to be added to the galvanizing baths, permits the manufacture of aluminum bottom boards for foundries, jigs and fixtures in the production of aircraft, in the manufacture of portable forestry equipment, and in coils for refrigerating, heating and X-ray fins.

Dow Chemical Files New Preferred Issue with SEC

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 29 (AP).—The Dow Chemical company of Midland, Mich., registered today with the securities and exchange commission 309,741 shares of series "A" no par value cumulative preferred stock, $4 dividend, to be offered at $110 a share. Holders of Dow common stock may subscribe to an aggregate of 249,741 shares of the new stock at the ratio of one series "A" share for each five common shares held. Holders of the company's 60,000 shares of 5 per cent preferred stock may exchange them for the remaining 60,000 shares of series "A."

Meet Wally Welder from Factory 9

Wally needed extra money to buy his Christmas presents for Jean and Mom in particular. After looking around he found Wards the ideal spot for several good reasons. First . . . the work is clean and pleasant after a hard day at plant 9. Second . . . the pay is good and he has met a lot of other swell fellows there earning money for Christmas, too. Last, but not least, Wally finds his money goes further with the liberal employe discount he receives on all merchandise he buys.

—LEGAL NOTICES—

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES FOR THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA
HUGH P. O'REILLY, et al.,
v.
AMERICAN TELEGRAPHONE CO., et al.
Equity No. 37,690.
ORDER SETTING CAUSE FOR HEARING AND DIRECTING NOTICE.

Upon further consideration of the respective petitions of George L. Nicolson et al., and Charles S. Ballard, Administrator of the Estate of Charles D. Rood, filed herein the 23rd day of June, 1941, and it appearing to the Court that the Receiver herein holds funds aggregating $53,426.76 and that the costs and allowances claimed herein and other claims against said fund asserted as claims superior to the rights of stockholders aggregate an amount larger than the amount so held by the Receiver, and it further appearing to the Court that there are approximately 17,000 stockholders of the American Telegraphone Company, a corporation of the District of Columbia, the addresses of many of whom are unkown and unascertainable, it is by the Court this 28th day of September, 1943, ORDERED:

1. That this cause be and it is hereby set for final hearing on December 6th, 1943, at ten o'clock, A. M., at which hearing or at adjournments thereof to be taken without further notice excepting announcement at said hearing, all matters remaining to be adjudicated herein shall be for consideration and determination by the Court.

2. All stockholders or persons interested in the stock of the American Telegraphone Company, all persons claiming rights to participate in the distribution of the funds held by the Receiver herein, and all other persons, if any there be, interested in the subject matter of this suit, are hereby notified of said hearing, and all persons who claim rights to participate in the distribution of said fund superior to rights of stockholders generally, whose claims are not already of record herein, shall file in this cause written claims specifying in reasonable detail their claimed rights on or before the 22nd day of November, 1943, else be forever barred from participation in the said fund.

3. A copy of this order shall be served upon all counsel of record in this cause, and published once each week for six weeks in the Washington Law Reporter and also in a newspaper of general circulation [selected by the Receiver] in Washington, District of Columbia, New York, New York, Chicago, Illinois, and San Francisco, California, the cost of such publication to be paid by the Receiver out of said funds, the last insertion to be not less than two weeks prior to the date of said hearing.

BY THE COURT:
EDWARD C. EICHER,
CHIEF JUSTICE.

Arthur C. Elgin, Receiver,
722 Washington Loan & Trust Bldg.,
Washington, D. C.

ABSOLUTELY the greatest producing soil in the state of Ill. or any other state containing 168 acres. All in Du Page county. This wonderful farm will be sold at Public Auction

Saturday, Nov. 20

On the Farm at 3 P. M. Sharp by

J. Clinton Bowden

Nationally Know Land Auctioneer of Oak Park, Ill.

AS AN INVESTMENT Blue Top farm is without a rival. Many are the farms that contain 300 acres or more that will not produce as much as Blue Top farm. For years this good soil has been a constant money maker. All rich deep black soil with marvelous subsoil; superior in potash, nitrogen, phosphoric acid, unlimited amount of humas and other elements. Surely place this farm in a class by itself. IT'S HUMAN NATURE to want the best. If you purchase this wonderful property you certainly have it and WHAT A LOCATION as one approaches Blue Top farm from any direction; it's a mark of beauty. Good fencing all along the roadside, every fence post is painted white. All buildings just painted white, with every roof painted blue. It's a sight to behold. Beautiful lawn, winding driveway by the residence; big yard in front of the outbuildings, covered by crushed stone, no mud to contend with.

ALL BUILDINGS ARE ATTRACTIVELY DESIGNED. The residence is frame, containing 8 splendid rooms, modern in every respect, including all conveniences; inviting and cheerful throughout. Large dairy barn, large stock barn; large machinery shed; large corn cribs; granary; hog houses; poultry houses; garages; milk house.

NOTICE, an opportunity worthwhile. The purchaser will have the privilege of buying all the machinery, implements, tractors at private sale if he desires. Also there is available one of the best tenants in the state.

AUCTIONEER'S STATEMENT: Of the many hundred farms I have sold at PUBLIC AUCTION throughout the states, I can truthfully state that Blue Top farm, surrounded by extra good farms, is just about the best I have ever called the figures on. The facilities of soil, added by many other features will be greatly appreciated by those who want the best.

SYNOPSIS OF TERMS: 15% of the purchase money is to be paid as soon as the property is bid off. Balance and final settlement on or before Dec. 31, 1943. A mortgage can be arranged if desired.

On the Premises at 2:30 P. M. by

J. Clinton Bowden

Nationally known land auctioneer of Oak Park, Ill. One might travel for days looking for a farm where money can be made. You never could locate one that has a better record for production than Clearview farm. The best of alfalfa and red clover soil; as for corn, it's great. Thousands of tons of manure has been spread on this splendid soil. Well limed; good fencing.

ALL BUILDINGS, WELL PAINTED and nearly new. Dairy barn 40x76; No. 2 barn, 30x54; cement silo; corn cribs; granary; machinery sheds; hog houses; milk house; poultry house for layers, 30x110. $5,000 worth of eggs and poultry sold last year. Two great wells of water, electricity in all buildings. 6 ROOM FRAME HOUSE, handy, attractive, every room well arranged.

NOTICE, buy this farm. Everything ready to go. It's a money maker, less than 100 mi. to Chicago. Train service from Chicago, two hours to Rochester, Ind. OPEN FOR INSPECTION EVERY DAY. A good tenant available. This farm will pay for itself in 6 years with proper management.

SYNOPSIS OF TERMS: 15% day of auction, balance and final settlement on or before 60 days. No mortgage on property, one can be arranged.

FOR ALL INFORMATION, J. Clinton Bowden, Box 386, Oak Park, Ill. Ph. Forest 2017. Chicago office, Central 4069. Or Fred Walgamuth, Akron, Ind.

PEOPLE ARE CONTINUALLY LOOKING FOR SMALL 20 ACRE FARMS WITH EXTRA GOOD SOIL. HERE IS ONE. The fact there is none better. Situated on State Road No. 14, near the town limits of Akron, Indiana, with a state road frontage of more than 1,100 feet where you can see the buildings from each approach of nearly one mile, makes this purchase a valuable location.
